Social Credit Caucus Seeks Post-War Security for All

Provision of adequate economic security with freedom for all members of the fighting forces in the post-war period.

A comprehensive and adequate scale of social dividends that will provide the individual citizen with a basic minimum standard of living.

These are some of the clauses in a program on a "general post-war reconstruction policy" issued Friday at the joint caucus of Social Credit (New Democracy) members of parliament and Social Credit members of the provincial legislature held at the Legislative Buildings. The caucus was concluded Saturday.

The program embraces many resolutions endorsed by the caucus during its sessions, which were presided over by James Hartley, M.L.A., Macleod, deputy speaker of the Alberta legislature.

John H. Blackmore, M.P., Macleod, leader of the Social Credit (New Democracy) Party in the Dominion House, headed the Federal members at the caucus.

Premier William Aberhart and all provincial cabinet ministers, with the exception of Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, who was attending a meeting of the Good Roads Association executive in the Province of Quebec, attended the joint caucus.

The program, issued in the form of a resolution, follows in full:

WHEREAS the men of our fighting forces are looking to the people in Canada to ensure that when they return to the country for which they are willing to sacrifice their lives it will be worthy of the high democratic ideals for which they are fighting; and

ESSENTIAL TO UNITY

WHEREAS the focus of the war is thus centred in post-war construction, and it is essential to national unity and the high degree of national morale necessary for a total war effort that the entire

Eighth Army Is Increasing Its Pressure

LONDON, Oct. 31—(CP)—The British 8th army, having consolidated all gains in its week-old offensive in the Egyptian desert, was reported today by DNB, German News Agency, to have resumed the attack early this morning. Reuters heard the German broadcast.

By LEON KAY

CAIRO, Oct. 31.—(BUP)—The Imperial 8th Army today increased both land and air pressure against Marshal Erwin Rommel with Allied fighters ranging widely over the battle zone and heavy bombers smashing again at important targets in Crete.

A communique revealed that a squadron of heavy bombers attacked Maleme airdrome and Canea on the island of Crete during the night of the 29th and set large fires which were visible 30 miles away.

The blow was designed to hamper Rommel in his efforts to bring up air reinforcements to the desert battle zone.

In an Allied attack on the El Adem airgrounds at least four Junkers 52 transport planes were set afire and Axis fighters on the ground near Bagush were damaged and at least two destroyed.

HURL BACK ATTACKS

The enemy sent several counter-attacks against the new British positions Thursday night and yesterday, the communique said, but they were hurled back with heavy losses.

Allied air superiority continued as the offensive for North Africa entered its second week. Nine Axis planes were destroyed yes-

Axis Bringing More Aircraft To Desert War

By HENRY T. GORRELL

WITH ALLIED AIR FORCES IN THE WESTERN DESERT, Oct. 31—(BUP)—The Axis appears to be bringing in aerial reinforcements in an effort to stem the Allied offensive which is gradually increasing in intensity.

Yesterday, 30 Nazi dive bombers tried a daylight raid which was frustrated by the appearance of a large number of Allied fighters. The Germans' fighter cover was weak, so their bombing was hurried and ineffective. Our fighters failed to make contact with the enemy planes by only a few seconds.

As the land forces become increasingly mixed in the intensive fighting, there are fewer concentrations available for bombing. Allied aircraft are concentrating more on air fields, including the landing grounds at Matruh, where they left three aircraft in flames yesterday and damaged others. They also peppered a train on the Matruh-Alexandria line.

American air forces have been taking an active part in the aerial drive since the offensive opened last Friday night. In the first five days, they accounted for 22 Axis planes.

An Australian squadron celebrated the destruction of its 200th enemy aircraft today. Twenty-two pilots of the squadron have been decorated for valor.

Squadron Leader Bobby Gibbs, of Manly, New South Wales, shot down the group's 200th plane in a dogfight in which the Aussies fought the Germans side by side with American pilots.

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Cash subscriptions to Canada's Third Victory Loan Friday amounted to $54,883,750, bringing the cumulative total for the first 11 days of the 18-day campaign to $564,863,750.

This figure, announced by loan headquarters here, compares with $506,272,150 at the comparative date in last February's Second Victory Loan, but the objective then was $600,000,000—or $150,000,000 less than this time.

The current drive is to close next Saturday, Nov. 7.

106,626 BUY BONDS

The number of subscribers Friday was 106,626, described by loan headquarters here as "a new high," bringing the cumulative total of subscribers to 668,322 compared with 582,072 at the same point in the last loan.

Nazis Execute 55 More Poles

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(CP)—In a new wave of German terror, 55 Poles have been executed in one day at Palmiry, "the village of death," 15 miles outside Warsaw the Polish government reported today.

The victims were put to death, the announcement said, in reprisal for sabotage of railroads. Fifty more Poles were reported threatened with execution if there are further bombings of Warsaw cafes used by German army officers.

Victory Loan Returns Soar To New Levels

For the third day in a row Edmonton's Victory Loan campaign returns exceeded in successively increasing amounts the returns during corresponding days of the last campaign.

Friday's results were $256,050, accumulated as the result of 2,121 bonds sold. This exceeded the returns of the 11th day of the last campaign by $137,700 and 1,178 sales.

This brings Edmonton's total to $4,516,950 to bring the gross figures to 82.8 per cent of the quota.

Northern Alberta's 61 rural units continue to drag far behind the figures on corresponding days of the last campaign and are trailing in the daily quota averages as well.

At the end of the 11th day 5,600 bonds have been sold for a total of $1,076,050, to reach only 38.5 per cent of the quota with only seven days of the campaign remaining.

On Friday 500 bonds were sold for a total of $85,600.

The rural campaign to date is 2,072 sales and $388,650 behind the figures at the same stage of the last campaign.

The provincial total rose to $22,589,850 after Friday's results brought in $2,070,000. This places the cumulative total to 78 per cent of the province's $29,000,000 objective.

Only three of the 61 rural units have exceeded their quotas and with the gross rural results falling far behind the provincial average, campaign officials in charge of the unit drives are making desperate effort to make up for lost ground by impressing upon the rural residents the vital and important necessity of at least reaching their unit quotas.

PICTURE IMPROVES

The picture in the city has improved considerably in the last three days when returns started rolling in at a pace that has exceeded the pace of the campaign in its corresponding stages during February.

Internal canvasses of the 250 firms functioning under the payroll savings plan, are reported by R. V. Price, chairman of the payroll savings section, to be nearing completion.

Third completed return came in from the employees of Aircraft Repair Ltd., who purchased $108,450 worth this time as compared with $75,050 worth last campaign. Their quota was $80,000. Exactly 1,500 employees bought bonds to constitute practically a 100 per cent sign-up.

MORE COMING

With 247 more firms to turn in their reports, there is evidence that the city campaign will be successful in reaching its $5,464,000 quota.

H. A. Friedman, K.C., with a purchase of $25,000, was one of the largest contributors to Friday's satisfactory total.

One salesman reported an experience that speaks well for the patriotism of an aged couple.

FROM PENSION

A woman of 63 and her husband, 65, purchased $50 and $100 bonds, respectively, out of meagre savings they put together from the small retirement pension and from small and irregular wages received from his job as a part time elevator operator.

These people, both of whom are very frail, stand very little chance of reaping the benefits of the maturity of these bonds, but are anxious to get into the struggle by helping out in the immediate needy, the salesman stated at headquarters.

STRESSES STRATEGIC VALUE

By JACK DELONG

When the late General "Billy" Mitchell declared "He who holds Alaska holds the world" he was "absolutely correct", according to the man who is now the official "ruler" of that vast, strategic territory, forming the northwestern portion of North America.

Governor Ernest H. Gruening, of Alaska, in Edmonton Saturday en route to Washington, declared that he was most heartily in agreement with the contention expressed many years ago by America's great air-minded general.

"As far as that statement concerning Alaska is concerned, Billy Mitchell was absolutely correct. I am not on record as agreeing with everything else said by General Mitchell," Governor Gruening added.

Saturday morning Governor Gruening had a visit from His Honor Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bowen, who officially welcomed the Alaskan official to Canada.

Later the visitor met Premier William Aberhart.

"I had a lengthy and very pleasant chat with Premier Aberhart," Governor Gruening said. The chief officer of the territory of Alaska left by army transport plane for Washington at 1 p.m. Saturday.

LAUDS WORKMEN

Governor Gruening paid a high tribute to the men who have been working on the Alaska Highway, terming it a "superb job of construction" and urged its extension beyond Fairbanks to the Bering Sea. The governor has driven over long stretches of the new road and has inspected other sections from the air as a guest of Brig. Gen. James O'Connor, officer commanding the Northwest Service Command of the United States.

Alaskan problems. He left Edmonton Saturday by plane. He is travelling by U.S. army Air Force transport.

"I usually go every year to Washington to report on matters concerning Alaska. I expect I will stay there about six weeks," he told the reporter. It was the governor's first visit to Edmonton. The governor was interviewed at the Macdonald.

"You have a very fine city here and I am very happy to visit it," the distinguished visitor said.

He was asked if he thought that relations between Canada and Alaska would be more closely interlocked after the war as a re-

HEAVY ALLIED RAID

3 Jap Warships Damaged In Air Assault on Buin

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Allied bombers probably damaged a Japanese aircraft carrier, scored two hits on a warship described as either a cruiser or a battleship, probably damaged still another cruiser and left an unidentified ship ablaze in a raid on Buin, the high command announced today.

The raid was the second in as many days on the Japanese-held harbor on the southern tip of Bougainville Island in the northern Solomons. It was by far the most damaging aerial blow announced recently in attempts to checkmate an all-out assault by the Japanese on Guadalcanal to the southeast of Buin.

Allied medium and heavy bombers delivered three attacks last night on shipping concentrations at Buin. Twenty-seven tons of explosives were dropped on the Nipponese vessels.

SCORE TWO HITS

"The first wave of heavy bombers scored two hits on a heavy cruiser or battleship," the communique said, "and placed other bombs very close to a light cruiser and an airplane carrier, probably causing extensive damage."

The command also announced that Allied troops pounding steadily at the Japanese in the Owen Stanley mountains of New Guinea have occupied Alola, within eights miles of Kokoda, and Allied forward elements are continuing their advance.

Torrential Rain Hits Nova Scotia

HALIFAX, Oct. 31. — (CP)—A second torrential rainstorm within a month swept Nova Scotia this week, as 4.33 inches of water fell in the 90 hours Sunday at midnight.

Halifax's "deluge" — the rainway underseas at Fairview—was more than two feet deep in water, which blocked streets, passenger cars but let high-bodied trucks through. Suburban Melville Cove and Dutch Village roads were also flooded and cellars in some areas had two to three feet of water in them.

About 150 feet of railway track was washed out at Upper Woods Harbor Shelburne county. Train service was held up on Tuesday, but was restored Wednesday.

The second storm was not as heavy as the downpour on Sept. 21, when 9.4 inches of rain deluged Halifax.

VULCAN, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Three thousand persons witnessed the official opening of No. 2 Flying Instructors' School, R.C.A.F., here yesterday. It is the newest unit in No. 4 training command. Executives of the Civic Progressive Association and the C.C.F.-Labor party, at a joint meeting held Friday evening, decided not to enter a mayoralty candidate in the Nov. 12 municipal election.

The parties have agreed to cooperate on a united front in the campaign, and have nominated five aldermanic and three public school board candidates.

Special committees were set up to deal with election finance, poll organization, campaign platform and radio addresses.

MOSCOW, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The winter campaign on the central front was formally inaugurated today by an order to the Red army in Moscow to don heavy uniforms.

By HENRY SHAPIRO

MOSCOW, Oct. 31—(BUP)—A Communist Party spokesman declared today that the Red army's stand at Stalingrad had shattered Adolf Hitler's strategic plan for 1942 which called for seizure of the whole of South Russia in a whirlwind three weeks campaign.

The report of the "100-days' battle which started with the Nazi attack on the Don river bend came as dispatches from the fighting front said Soviet forces in Stalingrad were holding their lines despite continuing Nazi assaults.

Writing in the Communist Party newspaper Pravda, Grigori Alexandrov, propaganda chief of the party, called the German setback the greatest suffered by the Nazi war machine since the battle for Moscow last autumn.

The Germans, he said, had originally planned to seize Voronezh in August and then sweep forward in a blitz manoeuvre designed to capture Stalingrad and the entire region of south Russia in three weeks.

MASSED MILLION MEN

For this purpose, he said, the Germans massed the bulk of their strength of about 100 divisions, 2,000 planes, 2,000 guns and hundreds of tanks. The start of the offensive, he estimated, some 1,000,000 Nazi troops were lined up for the operation.

Alexandrov estimated Nazi losses as high as 5,000 men a day during the periods of peak fighting.

"The battle actually began 100 days ago," he said, "with the all

Interpreting War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

A quantitative as well as qualitative superiority of American arms in the Guadalcanal area appears to be at least one reason why the Japanese fleet covering Nipponese forces ashore "has retired from the scene."

Navy Secretary Frank Knox, making this statement to a press conference, said of enemy craft that there "is no active operation on the surface near the Solomons." This seemed to confine his reference to the fleet supporting the operations of Japanese land forces, not to whatever units of enemy naval power that may be out offensive at the Don bend. There were days when the Luftwaffe carried out as many as 2,000 sorties on individual sectors and massen more than 200 tanks for special attacks."

The thousand large calibre guns, he reported, bombarded Stalingrad at the height of the engagement and the Red army on numerous occasions was called on to repulse an entire German division in an attack on a narrow front.

TIME LOSS SIGNIFICANT

"The significance of Stalingrad," he said, "lies not only in the destruction of the Axis divisions but in the loss of most valuable time. The Hitlerites were pinned down in August, September and October, losing hundreds of thousands of men and masses of material and not achieving any decisive success. Thus, they lost the important summer months when they dreamed of releasing many millions for an offensive on the western front.

"It means that the Germans were compelled to abandon their 1942 strategic plan.

"Stalingrad is causing a serious exhaustion of the Wehrmacht and has prepared the ground for the defeat of the Axis. Nevertheless the Soviet people cannot entertain any illusions regarding the enemy strength.

ENEMY STILL STRONG

"The enemy still possesses great strength. But if we are stronger today than yesterday the Germans were stronger yesterday than today. Such is the trend of the war which enables us to be confident of victory."

The Germans today threw 1,000 men and eight tanks against a factory area in northern Stalingrad in another of innumerable efforts to break through to the Volga river. Three tanks were disabled and 200 Germans killed.

The Communist organ Pravda said the Germans were losing 4,000 or 5,000 killed every day at Stalingrad, and sometimes a whole division (15,000 men) were killed or wounded in 24 hours.

Other dispatches said German assaults inside Stalingrad had been on a diminished scale since Thursday. The Germans began a new drive against the industrial area behind four divisions of infantry (60,000 men) and many tanks and planes. Now communiques were speaking of attacks by a battalion (1,000 men).

In the Nalchik area, 1,000 Tommy gunners, 65 tanks and armored cars and swarms of planes incessantly assailed a locality (perhaps Nalchik itself), the Soviet High Command said. The Germans did not advance and four armored cars, 18 tanks, 20 loaded trucks and 240 Germans were destroyed.

Arsenal Wins To Top Soccer Loop Standing

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Arsenal gained sole possession of first place in the Football League's southern section today by whipping Crystal Palace 7-1 while Chelsea was held to a 1-1 draw by Tottenham and dropped into second place.

Reg. Lewis set the pace for the Gunners, scoring five goals in a crowd of 13,000 saw the game. The Chelsea-Tottenham match attracted 12,600 spectators.

Watford, previously the only senior team in Britain without a victory this season, finally broke the ice with a surprising 4-2 win over Portsmouth, last season's London cup winners.

Blackpool maintained their perfect record in the north, shutting out Rochdale 5-0. Liverpool, a point behind Blackpool in the standings, defeated Manchester City 3-1. Southport dropped into third place as the result of a 1-1 tie with Tranmere.

Positions in the Scottish league were unchanged as Hibernian defeated St. Mirren 2-1 and Rangers downed Hearts 3-0. Hibernian and Rangers are tied for the leadership. In the Scottish northeastern league, Aberdeen stayed on top despite being held to a 1-1 draw by East Fife.

U.S. Taking Over Short-Wave Radio

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(AP)—At midnight tonight the United States office of war information and the office of co-ordinator of Inter-American affairs are scheduled to assume control of all the country's commercial short-wave radio transmitters.

Fourteen transmitters are being leased for the duration by the two government agencies in a long-projected move to co-ordinate and expand the propaganda efforts of the United States abroad. Physical title to the transmitters will be retained by the private broadcasters and a number of programs originated by them will be continued.

terday, with only three Allied planes being lost in all operations, including those over Malta.

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel sent German dive-bombers into action against the Eighth Army's forward positions, which were intercepted by Allied fighter planes. One Junkers-87 bomber and at least three others were shot down during the raid, the communique said, and many other Axis planes were damaged.

INCH FORWARD

Lt.-Gen. B. L. Montgomery's Imperials, for the most part seasoned veterans recruited from many nations, inched forward under an almost constant barrage from their own massed artillery.

Front dispatches said that Rommel, massing his own guns and tanks opposite the Imperials, had succeeded at least in slowing the advance through his well-prepared mine fields and fortifications.

Most of the fighting on the tank-strewn battle field was being done at night. Infantry, gunners and tank crews sleep like moles in foxholes during the day and renew the offensive each night. Correspondents likened the desert fighting to the big pushes of the last war, with infantry playing a more important part and tanks subordinated for the moment.

Front dispatches indicated that the Allied command considered the results of the first week satisfactory. Correspondents reported that the Imperials had gained and held all objectives Montgomery had set for them. Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Afrika Korps had launched heavy counter-attacks which were crushed.

MANY AXIS DESERTERS

Increasing numbers of Axis deserters fled to the British lines. Many were veterans who had seen action on the Russian front. They said that the British barrages were worse than the artillery fire they had experienced at Leningrad, Smolensk or Moscow.

Rommel, too, had massed artillery opposite the British lines and his fire succeeded in flowing the advance.

The first week's fighting had exposed the weaknesses of the Afrika Korps front-line defenses, as well as the departments in which it possessed greater strength than the Allies.

Colorful Russian Revolutionary Dies

As a member of the People's Will Party he first gained attention in 1909 when he left his studies to expose a notably successful Tsarist spy.

Later he became a leader of the Social Revolutionary Party which joined the Bolsheviks in the October, 1917, revolution. But his group subsequently was suppressed by the Bolsheviks and he fled to Paris where he had lived since.

Despite his reputed anti-Nazi beliefs, the Germans permitted him to remain in Paris after the occupation. They did this, it was said, because of his advanced age.

He was buried in the Russian cemetery at St. Genevieve des Bois.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Labor Minister Ernest Bevin broadcast Britain's thanks today to Frenchmen "for resistance which you are making to efforts of the Germans and Vichy government to compel you to go to Germany."

Nazi-Occupied City Simulated At Brockville

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Oct. 31.—(CP)—Brockville became a "German-occupied" city and a key point in an imaginary Hitler campaign for the conquest of North America today as the Canadian Army, Navy and Air Force staged a combined operations attack on the city.

Officer cadets from the local officers' training centre under command of Col. Milton F. Gregg, V.C., with units of the Army and the Royal Canadian Air Force put on the demonstration in co-operation with the local Victory Loan committee.

As the action took place in the centre of the St. Lawrence River city only blank ammunition was used. But guns popped aboard naval vessels and flashes were exploded on shore to simulate the explosion of shells. Flashes also simulated the explosion of bombs dropped by dive-bombers, and machine-guns and rifles rattled around the dock area and market square which separate the city hall from the waterfront.

CAPTURE OFFICIALS

The theory of the operation was that the enemy was attempting to conquer North America by seizing control of two main waterways, the St. Lawrence and the Hudson rivers. They had taken the city, making the mayor and other prominent citizens prisoners in the city hall.

The action was a raid on the German-held city by the Wolfe-Montcalm cadets, which had retired to Mallorytown, 16 miles westward.

The ships closed in on the harbor after dive-bombing and naval shelling of the German batteries.

Landings were made at points right and left of the city hall area and the main body, landing tanks and Bren gun carriers, came ashore directly in front. It was a three-pronged attack, as at Dieppe.

The surprised enemy forces attempted to resist, but, confused and caught off guard, were pushed back, and the attacking forces closed in on the city hall, cleared it, pulled down the swastika, raised the Union Jack and freed the prisoners.

Woman Killed By Nazi Raider

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(CP)—One woman was killed and several persons were injured today when a German daylight raider dived through the clouds over an East Anglian village and dropped several bombs.

Another plane machine-gunned the district near a coastal village. There were no casualties, but a cow was killed.

No hostile aerial activity was reported over Britain during the night and there was no indication the R.A.F. had been busy over the continent.

Explaining his enlistment, Plantner said, "Having nine children I owe it to them to see that this world is the right kind to live in."

Vichy Incites Frenchmen to Oppose British

LONDON, Oct. 31. — (CP) — "France," the fighting French newspaper, today published the text of two documents which it said had been circulated by Vichy authorities to instigate anti-British rallies and create the impression the public favored such meetings.

The first document, a "service note" dated Annecy May 8, 1942, ordered "Legionnaires De La Savoie" to attend an anti-British rally at which speakers would be the Prefect of Annecy, M. Courtassoin and a propaganda department delegate, M. Vargain.

The note advised: "In each section one or two groups of three of four Legionnaires will be designated to applaud loudly and meetingly with all necessary energy cries of 'death to the English,' 'down with the thieves,' 'long live France' and 'long live the Savoie.'"

REFERENCE TO CANADA

In an obscure reference to Canada the note said, "At a given moment (during the meeting) they (the Legionnaires) must also support claims of Canada (Soutenir la revendication pour le Canada.)"

The second document was a telegram sent from Vichy, June 3 by the director of propaganda instructing his agents to organize propaganda meetings in "their departments from June 6 to 8, last, at which speakers were told to choose as their subjects the "stabbing" of France, British bombings, and "Communistic murders." The message advised agents they would receive an outline of a speech and the text of a resolution for adoption at conclusion of each meeting.

Persons Entering Or Leaving Norway Must Get Permit

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(CP) — A Stockholm dispatch to Reuters said today measures promulgated by the Germans at Oslo Oct. 12 provided the death penalty for anyone leaving or entering Nazi-occupied Norway without permission.

Oct. 12 was the date on which the Germans lifted the state of emergency in the Trondheim area after a month of persistent and devastating shelling of the German batteries.

Landings were made at points right and left of the city hall area and the main body, landing tanks and Bren gun carriers, came ashore directly in front. It was a three-pronged attack, as at Dieppe.

The surprised enemy forces attempted to resist, but, confused and caught off guard, were pushed back, and the attacking forces closed in on the city hall, cleared it, pulled down the swastika, raised the Union Jack and freed the prisoners.

Careless Talk Among Civilians, Troops Rapped

HALIFAX, Oct. 31.—(CP)— Civilians and servicemen who talk too much or too casually were classed with Axis enemies today by a senior army security officer here who said "the people who live in eastern Canadian ports are in many cases a greater worry to the Allied cause than German soldiers."

The officer's remarks were made in a defence department statement which did not reveal his identity.

Hitting out at rumor mongers and information spreaders, the officer blamed "idle talkers at bridge parties, servicemen on embarkation leave, ordinary people writing to friends and relatives" for helping Hitler with their "foolish talk."

Striking example of the harm such talk can do, he said, were the sinkings of Allied ships just off Canada's coast.

NAZIS INFORMED

"Approximately 500 ships have been sunk off North and South America this year," he said, "not by accident but by design. German submarines do not operate on the principle of luck, but on the basis of information."

Such information, he said, comes "very often from east coast ports."

The security officer said the spreading of such information was inadvertent, but just as harmful as though intended. He urged people living in east coast ports, who "have the unfortunate privilege of seeing and hearing vital information" not to abuse this privilege by "taking among themselves and conveying information through letters and over the telephone to persons outside the area."

"The man who sits next to you in a restaurant, street car, pullman smoker, or at a private conversation may be a man who sends information over a short-wave radio transmitter to submarines operating off our shores—even if the man is in uniform."

Edmonton Man Among Graduates

J. C. Gilchrist of Edmonton was among a large group of Albertans who recently received their flying badges at No. 2 R.C.A.F. bombing and gunnery school, Mossbank, Sask.

FIRST ROUND OVER

Japanese Fleet Quits Solomons Battle Zone

By J. F. SANDERSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(CP)—The Japanese fleet which menaced the American army and marine forces on Guadalcanal Island in the Solomons has retired from that battle zone, some units returning to their home bases, it was disclosed here yesterday by Navy Secretary Frank Knox.

Declaring that the first round of the Guadalcanal battle appeared to be over, Knox told newspapermen that American forces today hold as much territory on the island as they ever controlled.

While the naval secretary went out of his way to disclaim any sense of false optimism, his statement over the retirement of the Japanese fleet was regarded as the best news to come out of the Solomons for days.

It appeared to mean that the land, sea and air defences of the American garrison have held against the first onslaught of the enemy and, taken with Knox's statement of his that military supplies are steadily reaching the United States forces, was an indication that the Japanese have not gained the sea supremacy that earlier battle reports indicated.

Some military observers here have been suggesting that the ultimate course of the Guadalcanal fight will depend on the supply line to the American garrison and Knox was emphatic in saying that it was holding up to all demands.

Although the Japanese fleet has retired from the immediate vicinity of Guadalcanal, there was no doubt but what it will return as speedily as possible, undoubtedly with the reinforcements deemed by Tokyo to be necessary to retake the island.

After warning against over-optimism, Knox said:

"But I do have a great feeling of pride in the way our men have met the onslaught in the Tulagi-Guadalcanal area and the skill with which these forces have been handled. They have done a superb job."

U.K. Produces Planes Faster Than States

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(CP)—A group of United States aeronautical experts wound up a two-week survey of Britain's air industry today with glowing praise for its organization and the productiveness of its workers.

Because of Britain's nearness to the war and the years she has been in it, British aircraft workers produce at a faster rate than workers in the United States, members of the American mission declared.

T. P. Wright, air production director of the U.S. war production board, spokesman for the nine members of the mission, particularly praised women and part-time workers in British aircraft factories.

He said the experts were impressed by the workers' morale and "amazed" at the flexibility of the factories, making possible the rapid introduction of improvements demanded by experience.

One instance of inter-Allied co-operation was cited by J. J. Llewellin, minister of aircraft production, in the quickly-renowned British light bomber, the Mosquito, a wooden plane designed in Britain and built with airframes made in Canada and motors made in the United States.

Ten Bags of Registered Mail Stolen

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31—(CP)—Winnipeg police said early today that a mail truck, stolen from a downtown street, was found a block away with all but one letter of 10 bags of registered mail missing.

Post office officials were unable to estimate the loss immediately.

R. H. Pritchard, driver of the truck, had just disappeared into his last sub-division office of his route when he heard the truck move off, police said. Pritchard had placed the ignition key into his pocket.

Police said the truck was found with the mail bags, cut open, lying nearby in a back lane. There was only one letter left. Footprints of one man, believed to have been involved in the robbery, were found but at an early hour today no arrests had been made.

U.K. War Workers Impress Mitchell

By DOUGLAS AMARON

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Humphrey Mitchell, Canada's Labor minister, returned to London yesterday after a two-day visit to the Birmingham area where he visited munitions factories and saw aircraft, tanks and other implements of war being manufactured and talked to the workers who make them.

The minister said he was struck by the speed at which the factory hands were working. Canadian and United States workers were noted for their hustle, Mitchell said, but "they have nothing on the workers of Britain in that respect."

He said he was particularly impressed by the skill of the women workers.

Red Cross Denies Wheat For Greece Diverted to Nazis

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Official denial of reports that Canadian wheat sent to Greece was being diverted to Germany was made yesterday in a statement issued by E. L. Maag, delegate in Canada for the International Red Cross committee.

Mr. Maag said that after reading press reports intimating the wheat donated to Greece by Canada was being sidetracked to Germany he had cabled International Red Cross headquarters in Geneva for assurance it was reaching its original destination.

The reply from Geneva stated that the Red Cross delegate in Athens had informed headquarters that Canadian wheat was going only to the starving Greeks.

Prices Decline In Heavy Runs On Cattle Mart

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—(CP)—The cattle run this week was about 3,000 head heavier than in the previous week because country loading stepped up with the practical completion of harvesting operations, the Dominion Department of Agriculture reported yesterday in its weekly livestock market review.

"As a result of the heavier offering, prices moved down anywhere from 15 cents to 50 cents, but supplies were well cleared," the department said.

COMPLAINTS HEARD

"Complaints were heard, however, of too many plain cattle coming on the market, and this had a tendency to depress the trade. The outlet for inferior quality and replacement cattle was narrow, and these kinds sold fully 50 cents or more lower and were hard to dispose of."

Cattle prices were down 15 to 25 cents at Toronto on most grades of killers, but a liberal supply was cleared with weighty steers making a top of $10.75, with most sales between $10-$10.60. Butcher steers and heifers were $8.50-$10 with a few $10.25.

"Trade at Winnipeg was featured by increased deliveries but reasonably good daily clearances took place. In most instances butcher cattle were around 25 cents lower, with some down possibly 50 cents. A number slaughter steers cleared at $8-$9.50 and some better kinds at $10-$10.25.

Calgary closed 25 to 35 cents lower on cows and 15 to 25 cents lower in spots on butcher steers and heifers. Good butcher steers were $9.75-$10. Edmonton shower an easier tendency at the close with best steers being bid for at $9.50. At Prince Albert top butcher steers made $9.50, Moose Jaw $9.50-$9.60, Saskatoon $9-$9.50 and $9.65, and Vancouver $9.75-$10.50.

CALVES UNCHANGED

There was little or no change in prices paid for calves, except at Winnipeg where the market was under pressure. Toronto paid $15-$15.50 for choice veals, Montreal $14.50 up to $15, Winnipeg up to $12.50 but mostly $11-$12, Calgary $10-$10.50, Edmonton $11-$12, Prince Albert an odd $11, Moose Jaw $10-$11 and an odd $11.25, Regina $11.50, Saskatoon $11, and Vancouver $10.50-$11.

Hog prices were not disturbed during the week, and Toronto paid mostly $16.35 for the basic grade dressed, while Montreal also continued at $16.35. Winnipeg was on a basis of $15.35. Calgary $15.10-$15.35, Edmonton $15.25-$15.35, Prince Albert $15.10-$15.35, Moose Jaw $15.10, Regina $15.10, Saskatoon $15.10, and Vancouver $15.95-$16.10.

Lamb prices were up at the close at Toronto, with best quality at $12, and truck deliveries $11.75-$11.85. Montreal had some sales up to $11.75. Winnipeg $10.50, Calgary $10, Edmonton $9.50-$10.25 and $10.50, Prince Albert $9.50-$9.75, Moose Jaw $9.75, Regina $10.50, Saskatoon $10.

Germans Claim U-Boats Sink 14 Merchant Ships

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Reuters reported picking up a German broadcast today which quoted the Hitler headquarters as claiming that U-boats had sunk 14 ships laden with raw materials, en route from Africa to Britain, in the region of the Canary islands.

There was no confirmation of this claim.

The regular German communique repeated yesterday's special report that 15 ships totalling 100,926 tons had been sunk in the North Atlantic and that "more operations against convoys are proceeding."

F.D.R. Studying Appointment of Food Director

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—President Roosevelt has under consideration the appointment of a national food administrator, but has reached no decision, Stephen Early, a presidential secretary, told reporters today.

R.C.A.F. Active On Many Fronts In Past Week

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Airmen of the R.C.A.F. during the past week helped carry out bombing raids on Italy, attacked industrial objectives in northwest Germany and an important railroad centre in the Rhineland, made numerous fighter sorties over northern France damaging railway trains, a military camp and other objectives, and successfully bombed shipping.

This big program of operations was outlined in the weekly R.C.A.F. headquarters communique, issued late yesterday by Air Minister Power.

Describing attacks on the Italian centres of Genoa, Savonia, Turin and Milan, the communique said:

"A Royal Canadian Air Force bomber squadron took part in the second Genoa raid (on the night of Oct. 23) and many Canadians were among the bomber crews in the other attacks."

FIGHTER ESCORT

R.C.A.F. fighter squadrons escorted Lancaster bombers to the French coast as they started on their big daylight flight across the Alps to bomb Milan.

"Chief among the many objectives attacked (by R.C.A.F. fighter squadrons) were rolling stock and communications in the coastal area extending from Le Touquet to Octeville near Le Havre," the communique said.

More than a dozen freight trains and locomotives were hit and damaged in these raids and five others were attacked during moonlight intruder patrols, with one engine derailed.

One coastal command squadron straddled an enemy tanker with bombs south of St. Nazaire and another enemy merchant vessel was crippled.

$25,000 Salary Limit in States Rapped Sharply

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Chairman Walter George of the Senate Finance Committee declared yesterday that the $25,000 limitation on next year's salaries would cause the treasury to lose tax revenue, would boost administrative costs and penalize the man who works for his income.

In sweeping criticism of the salary order, which was issued by stabilization Director James F. Byrnes and countersigned by President Roosevelt, George told reporters he believed it would "work a terrific disadvantage on the fellow who is working for something as against the fellow who is just sitting and cutting coupons."

Tribute For Dead Asked by Primate

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(CP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury asked Britons yesterday to pray Sunday before Armistice Day for the dead of both wars and in "thanksgiving for their courage and devotion in which we find inspiration for the duties laid upon ourselves and to which on that day we shall dedicate ourselves afresh."

King George has cancelled the usual services Nov. 11 at the Cenotaph, Britain's memorial to the First Great War dead and has asked that other memorial services not be held.

For the fourth year there will be no signal for the usual two-minute silence beginning at 11 a.m. because of the chance of confusion with an air raid warning.

Armistice Day will be observed as a poppy day to aid the crippled of the last war because, the Archbishop said, "we must not let the claims of this war crowd them out of our recollection."

Conant Sees No Cause For Ont. Election

OSHAWA, Ont., Oct. 31.—(CP)—Premier Gordon Conant of Ontario said last night that he saw "no reason" for an immediate general provincial election as he outlined the policy of his administration in his first public speech since he succeeded Hon. Mitchell F. Hepburn as premier of Ontario nine days ago.

In an address prepared for delivery at a dinner in his honor, the new premier declared that the chief aim of his government would be to devote "all the resources of Ontario in men, money and materials . . . toward the achievement of victory."

WILL CO-OPERATE

While his government would co-operate with the Dominion government if every possible way in the war effort, "as a citizen I have the same right to criticize as any other person and I intend to exercise that right if and when I consider it advisable to do so in the best interests of the prosecution of the war."

The premier also made these announcements:

1—A special session of the Ontario legislature will be called to deal with a bill validating power agreements with Quebec and a bill making collective bargaining compulsory in Ontario as soon as the measures were prepared.

2—If it is possible to balance the provincial budget payments to recipients of mothers' allowances and old age pensions will be increased.

3—Every effort will be made to assist the farmers to increase food production "and at the same time obtain for their produce at least the cost of production with some profit."

4—Existing liquor laws will be enforced and if the Dominion government imposes restrictions on sale of liquor as a war measure, the province will co-operate but "such curtailment . . . would certainly result in bootlegging with all the troubles that arise therefrom involving the problem of law enforcement."

The premier said he would "not enter into any controversy with any who question the manner in which I attained my present position because I know their attitude is prompted entirely by political considerations."

Mystery Letter Strains Swedish, Nazi Relations

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. — (AP) — Swedish disclosure of a mysterious letter to German nationals in Sweden reported to contain "secret instructions" for action under certain unspecified circumstances posed a new element of strain today in relations between Germany and Sweden.

Among the first references abroad to the Swedish disclosure was a Berlin dispatch of the Transocean News Agency broadcast by the German radio which said that a Swedish press had published the "alleged letter." This came only after competent quarters in Wilhelmstrasse commented vaguely on the Swedish disclosure.

"It was emphasized that the Stockholm paper Dagens Nyheter had already demanded a strict and rapid inquiry into the matter," the Transocean dispatch said, "and it was added that under all circumstances complete clarification would presumably be obtained.

"It was added that it was apparently a case of highly suspicious manoeuvres and this rendered it certain that competent authorities would take necessary steps."

All-Night Battle Is Fought to Save Merchant Vessel

MELBOURNE, Oct. 31.—(AAP)—After an all-night battle, firemen succeeded today in extinguishing a stubborn blaze which had threatened to destroy an Allied merchant ship and its cargo in an Australian port.

While firemen battled the flames, longshoremen formed a human chain between the ship and the wharf and unloaded a large part of the cargo. Drums of oil were pitched overboard in the hope they might be recovered later.

Earth Tremors

LISBON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—New tremors in the recurring earthquakes which have ben shaking the Azores for weeks were reported today to have sent inhabitants of Fayal and Sao Jorge Islands prayerfully into open fields and churches in the past 24 hours.

"OUR LIKES" CAN WAIT

NOTHING MATTERS NOW BUT VICTORY...

WINNING Victory is THE job today—and it will come only through the efforts of fighting men, machines and MONEY.

The government and our fighting men rely on us of the home front to lend the money that will help bring Victory. And now—during this Third Victory Loan Campaign—we must lend the money so urgently needed. If lending money to the government interferes with our "likes"—interferes with buying things we do not really need or can do without—let us decide that our "likes" can wait so that we shall have the money to—

Tim Buck Reveals Hideout Located In North Ontario

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Tim Buck, general secretary of the Communist Party of Canada, reported to national registration authorities late in September that during the almost two years he was sought by police he was in the Albany River country of northern Ontario, it was learned officially yesterday.

Buck surrendered to police at Toronto Sept. 25 and his national registration was recorded at that time.

(After his release from custody Oct. 6 he told newspapermen in an interview that for almost two years he had lived between Toronto and Montreal carrying on his activities as secretary of his party. He said he had become tanned from sitting in the backyard of houses in both cities, answering between 20 and 30 letters a day relating to party business.)

The announcement said white pine and cedar logs will still be exempt from export permit requirements when shipped to the United States, as well as to British Empire countries.

Purpose of the order, Mr. MacKinnon said, is to aid in allocating and distributing available supplies in the best interests of the war effort for urgent military and government projects and for other uses in order of their essentiality.

Western Flier is Decorated For Heroic Rescue

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Sgt. Karl Edward Dzinkowski, 23, of Winnipeg, a native of Sifton, Man., and a former student of the University of Manitoba where he was a member of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps, was announced yesterday to have been awarded the British Empire Medal (military division) for rescuing a fellow crew member of a burning R.A.F. Ventura aircraft.

Dzinkowski, son of Mrs. Natalia Horodyski, Winnipeg, was wireless operator and air gunner aboard his aircraft. He had been hurt before the plane caught fire, but he returned to it and dragged out another member of the crew, dragging him 15 feet before collapsing from additional burns suffered in the rescue.

Dzinkowski enlisted in May, 1941, taking the R.C.A.F. aircrew training course at Penhold, Alta., Edmonton and Calgary. He was posted to the R.A.F. Ferry Command before going overseas in 1942.

Just THINK

what you will be able to buy after the war, if you save and invest in Victory Bonds NOW!

As a patriotic citizen, you are using every capacity you have to win the war—whether in production of war materials or in some essential industry or service.

You are getting paid for doing this.

There are, undoubtedly, many things you'd like to buy NOW, things you had been planning for a long time to buy, but things you COULD do without.

You can follow one of two courses. You can spend your savings on things you don't really need now, or you can put that money into the new Victory Bonds.

To meet war needs, the average Canadian would have to lend to Canada $1 in every $5 of income left after taxes and compulsory savings have been collected. Of course, the average may not fit your case. Your circumstances are your own. You may be able to do better than that out of current income and accumulated savings; or you may be unable to reach the average. Your share of voluntary savings is every dollar you can possibly spare.

It may mean some pinching—some figuring and belt-tightening. But think of what you'll be able to buy with it when it returns to you after the war!

You will be laying up for yourself the best of all investments. VICTORY BONDS are backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada. They yield a fair rate of interest, you can borrow against them, and they are readily saleable when you need the cash.

HOW TO BUY

Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman who calls on you. Or place it in the hands of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company.

Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Or you can authorize your employer to start a regular payroll savings plan for you. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and larger. Salesman, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.

Alberta District News In Brief

Wings Received By Pupil Pilots

RED DEER—The arena was recently the scene of presentation of wings to a class of pupil pilots who had completed their training at No. 36 S.F.T.S. of the R.A.F. at Penhold. The ceremony was held in co-operation with the Red Deer National War Finance Committee.

Group Capt. W. B. Farrington, D.S.O., officer commanding No. 36 S.F.T.S.; Lt.-Col. J. J. Burton-Williamson, D., officer commanding A20 R.C.A.S.C. (Advanced) Training Centre, Red Deer; Mayor E. S. Hogg, organizer in charge of the Victory Loan campaign here, and M. Millard, chairman of the War Finance Committee, were at the saluting base.

Group Capt. Farrington presented the wings, and in speaking to the pilots and the public, he emphasized the necessity for whole-hearted support of the Victory Loan so that the supply of trained pilots could be maintained. The training Centre Band, under C.S.M. W. Hayward, played at the ceremony.

Concert Party Member Native Of Lloydminster

LLOYDMINSTER—To residents here, one of the most interesting members of the R.C.A.F. Victory Loan Concert Party was Miss Vanada "Gracie" Huddleston, a Lloydminster-born girl and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Huddleston, pioneer residents of the district.

Although she spent only a few years of her childhood here, Miss Huddleston attended the old red brick school, now in use as a high school. She later went to the Pacific coast where she made her home with her parents.

In London, England, she attended Fay Compton's dramatic school, and while over there also toured with the J. D. Robertson company as well as appearing at cabarets and at the Palace in London. She makes a specialty of imitations, among them an imitation of Gracie Fields. Shortly before the outbreak of the present war she was touring the continent. Now she is back in Canada, a member of the W.A.A.C. and doing her bit as a member of the concert party.

CORONATION — Mrs. Leslie Duke has received word from her son Laverne that he is being sent back to Canada as an instructor with the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals. He has been overseas more than two years. . . . Austin Brigley, R.C.A.F., was home on leave from Dauphin, Man. . . . Jean Anderson has passed her medical test and will be called later by the R.C.A.F. (W.D.)

"Biter Bit" When Theft Charge Laid

EVANSBURG—It was a case of the "biter bit" when Martin Pajak laid a charge against John Washiuk for the alleged theft of a bicycle. Upon arriving at the latter's farm Constable King, R.C.M.P., found no bike but did find Pajak's cows in Washiuk's field. He also found that the wire in the fence had been cut.

As a result Pajak found his call to the law cost him damages against the crop in addition to a fine.

P.S.—The bicycle has not been found.

Strange Family on Millet Farm

There seems to be many upsetting things happening in the animal world these days. Last week The Bulletin published an account of a mare and her adopted baby calf on the Providence Hospital farm, Daysland. Now more of this thing comes to light. Three-year-old Queen, shown above, with the twin calves she is "mothering", is on the farm of Mrs. Otto Lantz, 12 miles east of Millet. Queen has not yet had a colt and seems highly pleased with the present arrangement.

Wave of Frustration Is Sweeping Animal World

Another Mare Is Mother To Calves

A wave of "frustration" seems to be sweeping the animal world. Last week The Bulletin published a story about Beauty, the 18-year-old mare at the Providence hospital farm at Daysland and the baby calf she has adopted.

Now it seems the same kind of thing, only in larger quantities, is going on elsewhere.

Queen is the pony of 13-year-old Edward Lantz, who is at present recovering from an illness in the children's ward of the Royal Alexandra hospital.

Mrs. Lantz writes that the calves were pail-fed.

Needed Badly: One Bugle For Youthful Unit

WILDWOOD. — It's pretty hard to be really military unless you've got a bugler—and you can't have a bugler unless you've got a bugle. At any rate that's what the Wildwood V.V.R. cadets and Boy Scouts find.

If anyone has a spare bugle around the house that they aren't using the cadets and Boy Scouts certainly can. They'll be glad to have one donated but they're quite willing to pay a reasonable price for one.

So anyone wishing to dispose of a bugle please notify E. J. Trott, secretary, V.V.R. Squadron, Wildwood, Alta.

Nearly $100 is Realized at Party and Dance

WILDWOOD—The sum of $98.60 was realized at a recent bingo party and dance held by the Wildwood-Northville V.V.R. Sqdn. Cash donations were made by Mrs. Cody, the Allen family of Chip Lake, Lars Anderson, Pete Neslund and Mr. Wolf, Evansburg. A cushion, donated by Mrs. Grintnell, brought $16.85. Music was supplied by the Durbin orchestra which donated a generous sum to the funds. Many prizes for the bingo were donated also.

Valued at $2.50 apiece, 35 parcels are being sent to boys serving in the armed forces overseas. . . . A memorial service and parade will be held here by the V.V.R. sqdn. and ex-servicemen on Armistice Day. The parade will commence at 7.30 p.m. Rev. Richards of Evansburg will officiate.

Gleaned From Rural News

HARDISTY—Believed to have a capacity of 25,000 bushels of grain, the repair shop of Fred Bone has been turned over to the Alberta Pacific Grain Company. . . . Due to the shortage of labor 40 per cent of the grain here remains unthreshed. It is expected that most of it will have to remain in the stook until spring. . . . R. A. Peterson, B.Ed., has been appointed high school teacher here. He replaces C. G. Gillespie who has left for Lachine, Que., where he has joined the R.C.A.F.

HANNA—Eighteen members of Colfax Rebekah Lodge No. 51 recently travelled to Delia where they were guests of the Highlands Rebekah Lodge. . . . Mrs. Christ Midthun of Longview, Washington, is spending a three months holiday in Alberta with relatives and friends. She has visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eckman, at Coronation and will visit brothers at other points later. At present she is the guest of her brother-in-law, H. K. Fielding and family, and sister, Mrs. E. Baardseth. . . . At the end of the first week of the Third Victory Loan about 35% of the quota of $61,000 was in. The sale of bonds is slower this time, the delayed harvest being the cause.

Students Eschew Apples: Collect For Milk Fund

WAINWRIGHT—Students of the public school here will go from door to door Hallowe'en night—but not for the usual apples, candies and nuts. This year they will ask for donations for the Milk for Britain fund.

Mrs. W. T. Brunker and Mrs. S. Simmons were joint hostesses at a silver tea recently, the first of a series to be held by the W.I. to raise funds for wool for knitted garments for the Merchant Marine.

Officers elected at the first meeting of the season by the Students' Union are Miss B. Synder, president; L. McLeod, vice-president; Miss J. Cardell, secretary-treasurer and C. Nyberg, press correspondent.

Funeral Rites Are Held For Edwell Farmer

Upon his return to Canada he settled on a farm in the Edwell district and in 1920 married Miss Nora May Rector. He took a keen interest in community affairs and was one of the best-liked men in the district. He served on the Edwell school board for a number of years.

To mourn his loss besides his wife he leaves four daughters all living at home, Agnes, Alice, Ethel and Helen. One sister Mrs. W. B. Robinson, survives him and four brothers, George, Bert and Glen, of Calgary and Gordon of the Hill End district.

In good health, Mrs. Payne attributes her longevity to "wholesome living, early to bed, early to rise and no partying."

The Central Alberta Oldtimers' Association sent Mrs. Payne flowers and she was the recipient of many congratulations from friends.

"Give us this day . . . .

Hitler—disposer of life and death . . .

Hitler—to whom millions must pray for daily bread!

A madman's dream? On the contrary. In Europe it is already a reality.

A Hitler victory—and he holds the bread of the world in his grasp. Canada's fabulous stores of food flow overseas to garrison his throne. His starvation specialists strip this country bare—like Russia, Greece, and Poland. And Canadians starve—like Russians, Greeks, and Poles.

In Greece men died in the streets—clutching useless money in bony fingers.
Your money will be useless, too—if Hitler wins. It will curse you then, if you withheld it now.

What you have you must use NOW—in the supreme effort of free men to defeat and dethrone a tyranny that menaces all mankind.

No Fair Next Year

Decision of the directors of the Exhibition Association to abandon wartime race meets, midway shows and grandstand attractions at the Summer Fair looks like a step involving complete suspension of the fair itself "for the duration."

The certain result is to make it impossible to hold a fair of the kind that has made the Summer Fair famous. At best the directors seem to think it may be possible to stage a mid-summer live stock show, in addition to the spring and fall shows. That three events of the same type could be successfully carried out in a season is at best rather doubtful.

However excellent as a stock show, it is useless to suppose a mid-season event of the kind would draw large crowds from either city or country. It could not save the city from the loss of the business that has resulted from the fair being held, nor would it provide the annual holiday which the fair has provided for townsfolk and farm people.

As Edmonton's fair is to be suspended, it is to be hoped the other Class A fairs on the western circuit will also be called off. With Edmonton out, this seems rather probable. If all the large fairs close down it will be easier to revive Edmonton's Summer Fair when the war is over. And that is one point on which attention should be centred. Wartime suspension must not result in the permanent abandonment of the greatest agricultural show in western Canada.

The "General" Appeal

From the start of the Victory Loan campaign large subscriptions have helped to swell each day's total. These came from business concerns and provincial and municipal bodies. Payroll subscriptions from employees of commercial, industrial and public institutions have also been among the large items figuring in the daily records. To these sources is largely due the credit for the good progress that has been made.

It is suggested now that the "general canvass" group will have to be depended upon more heavily to finish the job and put the Loan over the top. This group includes those who are neither large shareholders in business corporations nor employees contributing through staff organizations. They are mainly people of middle-age or older, who have savings of moderate amounts which they could put into the bonds. It is to these the appeal is now being directed by the national headquarters.

What is true of the country at large is probably also true of Edmonton; that upon the response of the "general canvass" group will depend how quickly the quota can be reached and how much will eventually be subscribed. There is no other class to whom it is more vital that savings be put where they will be unquestionably safe. For people Victory Loan bonds present an opportunity than which there could be no better. Nor, for very many who fall within this group, is there any other way in which they can directly help the war effort.

"Buy bonds" is the best financial advice that can be given to this very large section of the people of this and every other community.

Industrial Conscription?

It is suggested that 20,000 wholesale and retail firms in Canada may be closed and that taxi-cabs may all have to be driven by women; as means to release men for the fighting forces and for war work. Compensation would of course be made in one way or another to the concerns thus put out of business in the interests of the nation. It is said 35,000 or 40,000 men could by these means be diverted from non-essential to essential occupations.

Another indication of the difficulties of manpower distribution are the new regulations designed to hamper and discourage men from moving from one area to another. This frequently interrupts production, causes time to be lost, or results in some going from more important to less important jobs. Where either of these things happens, there is lost motion—at a time when every working hour counts.

The gold miners in northern Ontario do not seem to be taking readily to the idea that they should go to work in the nickel mines. Not many go, and of those who go quite a lot return. As a result of scarce labor, nickel output in Canada has dropped 15 per cent, copper production 4 per cent, and steel production 10 per cent.

If the suggestion to close down a large number of business concerns implies compulsion, the experience in trying to shift labor to the essential mines by voluntary action seems to show that without some compulsion it is useless to talk about accomplishing such a redistribution of manpower as will "put every man in the right place" and get maximum results in production.

Stalingrad

Chagrin, or spite, or vengeance, seems to have replaced military considerations as the motive for the continued attempts to capture the place where Stalingrad stood and the heaps of ruins and corpses which now mark the site.

That possession of this particular piece of ground on the near side of the Volga would materially improve the Nazi position neither Hitler nor anyone else has shown. But still German soldiers are being marched to death in thousands for possession of the rubbish piles and the tottering buildings.

It is reported that some time ago the Nazi command asked for a four-day truce in which to bury the dead lying within range of the Russian guns. The request was granted—on condition that the people of Germany were to be told of it having been made. The condition was not accepted and the truce did not occur.

The see-saw fighting does not disprove a supposition that the Russians may be using ruined Stalingrad as a bait to draw more and more enemy forces into that death-trap. As an industrial centre or for other direct military reasons the place can now be of little use to the Red army; it is apparently being held for some other purpose.

Timoshenko's steady grind forward in the isthmus between the Volga and the Don may explain why. A sudden thrust there by overwhelming Russian forces could put them behind the attackers at Stalingrad and set the stage for a major disaster to the Fuehrer's whole southern army. A timely blizzard would complete the set-up; and the Russians know their weather.

The work of grading several streets in the South Edmonton townsite was commenced on Tuesday. A grade will be made along connecting streets from the railway station to the top of the hill on the trail to the lower ferry. The C. and E. company is furnishing the funds. A bridge and grade will also be put in at Mill Creek, opposite Whyte avenue.

W. D. Matheson brought to town on Tuesday several samples of building stone from a bed or quarry existing on the bank of the White Mud creek, about 30 miles southwest of Edmonton and about four miles west of Black Mud railway station. The ledge shows about 16 feet in the bank of the creek for about 100 feet in length. The stone is a soft sandstone of a bluish color, and is easily quarried. Its value as a building stone has not yet been tested.

W. Macdonald brought in a 20-gallon keg of petroleum specimens from the Egg Lake field on Tuesday. As a depth of about eight feet a bed of soft black gum, mixed with sand, is reached. In digging through the clay small pockets of liquid tar were found, pressed upward from the main seam. The specimens brought in will form part of the Northwest exhibit at the World's fair.

All Entertainment Should Be Part of War Effort

Suspension of Exhibition Features Offers New Opening

By HAROLD L. WEIR

The decision of the directors of the Edmonton Exhibition Association to abandon the racing, midway and grandstand features of the summer fair need not deprive the public of outdoor entertainment entirely.

There is no reason why the suspension of these attractions in connection with the fair should usher in a period of gloom and restraint.

Harold L. Weir

As a matter of fact, it would be a very unfortunate thing if this should happen.

The war effort would suffer severely if the public was to resign itself to a sober and sour outlook on life, eschewing all amusement and all those distractions that are essential to a wholesome viewpoint.

The ability to laugh and be merry in the face of any adversity is part of the genius of British people.

It is one thing that distinguishes them from the intense and humorless Germans whose curse is that they do not know how to play.

War Purposes

Nevertheless, this principle should be laid down in connection with these things:

Public entertainment should be encouraged. But it should be made, wherever possible, to yield funds for the prosecution of the war effort.

This, of course, does not apply to legitimate private entertainment enterprises, such as the motion picture theatres. The entertainment tax on such performances already delivers up a large sum to the public treasury.

But all other entertainment should definitely have the war slant. It should either be organized for the direct amusement of the armed forces or for the raising of funds to be employed for war purposes.

Thus, while the entertainment features of the summer fair may be abandoned as a purely exhibition enterprise, there is no reason why some of them should not be carried on regularly as part of the war effort, either to entertain the armed forces or to raise money for the benefit of the armed forces.

Should it be found feasible to carry on these entertainment features of the summer fair under these auspices and with this idea in mind, the continuity of the exhibition entertainment circuit need not be broken and no effort would be required to pick up the threads of the fair in its entirety after the war.

For the Services

This autumn the entertainment board of the Council for the Coordination of Auxiliary War Services of Northern Alberta produced a carnival in Edmonton which not only was enjoyed by the public, but raised a substantial sum for the entertainment of the armed forces in this part of the province during the winter months.

This was excellent business because it is fully recognized that the men in the services need to be amused and entertained.

The incidence of social disease among the armed forces in this area is the lowest in Canada. One of the reasons for this remarkable record is the quantity and quality of entertainment provided for the men. It has been demonstrated that decent young fellows, as the men in our services are, will not get into trouble if they are given some wholesome and interesting means of occupying their leisure hours.

The importance, therefore, of troop entertainment is abundantly proved.

Perhaps it may be found desirable, in pursuance of this policy, for the entertainment board of the Co-ordinating Council to take over the amusement features of the summer fair.

The idea is at least worth consideration.

Expenses High

The cost of providing regular entertainment for the armed forces in this section of the country is necessarily high. The entertainment board has to deal with a large area.

Towards the end of November, at the request of Ottawa, the Edmonton board will send a show as far west as Prince Rupert, Prince George and Terrace, B.C.

Every man who defends Canada, defends Edmonton. And no distinction can be made between the fellow stationed in Edmonton or in any other part of Canada. They are all our boys.

All this costs money.

Entertainers and musicians have been exceedingly generous with their time and talents in the past. But even if they are willing to perform for their bare expenses, as many of them do, the sum involved is still large.

The public must be made to understand the urgency of this work. They must be made to understand that large sums of money will have to be made available for this purpose.

They will have to accustom themselves to the fact that all entertainment must take on a war significance, just as the movie theatres are a source of large war revenues at present.

Use Both Hands

Resistance

Editor, Bulletin: I have heard of the protest that Ottawa has presented to Washington re Time Magazine's report on the Bowmanville fracas.

In the first place, sir, it must stink in the nostrils of every true Canadian that we should find it necessary to get ourselves down to the level of "the maniac" in our treatment of prisoners of war.

My earnest prayer is that if the Germans attempted the things to our Canadians that we attempted on the German prisoners of war in Canada, may God give our Canadians strength to act in the manner described by Time Magazine!

Real Issue

Editor, Bulletin: With the Edmonton civic elections rapidly approaching, it seems an opportune time to draw the attention of all voters in this city to the urgency of the need for them to cast their ballots on Nov. 12.

At this time, when our men and women are giving their lives literally and figuratively to their country, it should be a matter of honor with every voter to cast his or her ballot as a pledge to those that are serving their country that this part at least (and it is a vital part) of our democratic way of government is shall be exercised and maintained until their return.

We are told that the civic vote is low because there is no issue. An analysis of the percentage of the voters who cast their ballots in the city of Edmonton during the past sixteen years shows that an average of 41.83 per cent of the voters exercised their franchise during that period. No one can feel proud or satisfied with such a sorry state of affairs.

Let every candidate for civic office and every civic voter make a hundred per cent vote the issue in the forthcoming election. The civic authorities do their part in having ballots printed for everyone, polls within easy reach of all homes and a staff sufficient to attend to the fifty thousand odd who are entitled and privileged to cast their ballots.

There is a psychological point of view also to be considered. What fair minded man or woman wishes to be placed in a position in which he cannot honestly say to himself: "I have been elected to this office by a majority of my fellow-citizens and knowing that they are behind me, I will carry out their wishes as their elected representative to the best of my abilities."

There are those who argue that for all to vote will make no difference to the final result. After all, what is the final result? It is, in the words of Howard Spring in "Fame Is the Spur," "either a group of bad men elected to power or a group of good men doing good things." Every citizen should do his part in seeing that the latter do suit is true and that he has discharged his duty to his city in this regard—that he has built his true stone "well and truly" into the edifice that can really be called "government of the people, by the people and for the people"!

Let us all then, regardless of our political outlook, unite in this one clear-cut duty.

FRANCIS W. WOOTON.

Commando Dagger

Editor, Bulletin: It is heartening to many Christian people to read, as they did last week, that the Right Reverend Dr. Francis Heathcote Bishop of the diocese of New Westminster refused to dedicate the "commando dagger" in a public ceremony in Vancouver in connection with the third Victory Loan campaign. Also that the Very Reverend J. B. Skene, ex-moderator of the Presbyterian church in Canada was able to state that none of the clergy of his church attended the ceremony and that they "had urged upon their congregations not to attend such a service on Sunday."

It was also stated in the news item that Rev. T. Rattray, former minister of McDougall church of this city, expressed himself as opposed to the meeting.

There must be a terrible confusion of mind when a dagger takes the place of the cross as the supreme symbol in a religious service. To what extent the clergy of Edmonton attended this service and gave it their support, I do not know. Certainly there was no public protest by the General Ministerial Association or any body of the church to be "above the battle."

Food Shortages

Editor, Bulletin. With reference to the shortages in sugar, beef and pork which Mr. Weir refers to in his article on gambling in connection. I think he has effectively summed up the situation in one paragraph in which he says, "The farmers business has not been brought into relation with the economic structure of the country." There's the rub. And as far as can be seen by present government action they have no intention of doing their part.

For 10 years before the war these products generally speaking sold at ruinous prices and the effect of this was to discourage and effectively prevent the farmer from going into their production with any enthusiasm.

However due to the stress of war time necessity hogs were badly needed and the government introduced inadequate half baked measures to increase production. They were very timid however; and after the first year they dropped the price by $2.19 per 100, although it was not yet at parity. Although the packers voluntarily guaranteed prices, no such guarantee was given to the farmers and prices were allowed to fluctuate and various deductions were made for which the farmer could see no justification.

The result has been a general loss of confidence on the part of the farmer which was shown at the sale which took place in Edmonton last week where many good pure bred registered sows were passed unsold through the ring which did not even bring a "stock yards price" bid.

Farmers feel that they will be left "holding the bag" again after the war and wonder why the same guarantee cannot be given to them as the government is giving to manufacturers to maintain a cost of production plus price for a reasonable period after the war so as to enable the farmer to get out of hogs without too great a loss. Already many farmers have increased their facilities for raising hogs at considerable expense from purely patriotic motives; but mortgage companies won't accept patriotic motives in payment of the mortgage in the event of the hogs not being worth enough to make the payments.

However there is no need for government regimentation. The farmers of Alberta have increased the production of hogs beyond expectations in response to war demands and they can do even better. Give them a parity price now and guarantee it for one year after the war and they will look after the production end.

The story is the same with regard to beef and sugar while it is of course no use to mention wheat.

Yours truly,
H. F. NICHOLS.
Secy. Alberta Farmers' Union.

Stop Complacency

Editor, Bulletin: Mr. Chas. H. Huestis, writing in your issue of Oct. 24, accused Mr. Weir of "thinking with his blood instead of his head."

I judge from the various letters Mr. Huestis writes to your paper, that he is a man of better than ordinary intelligence. If so, I would like to suggest that he exert his talents toward furthering the war effort. That is one thing we criticize anyone who is calling for a total, all-out war effort, as Mr. Weir has been doing.

If Mr. Huestis would get behind Mr. Weir in his efforts to arouse a still complacent Canadian public to the very real danger threatening our Empire—in fact threatening all people who believe in the things for which we are fighting for—he would be doing a real service to our country.

We are quite well aware of our own shortcomings, but right now we have to win this war.

I submit—respectfully—that Mr. Huestis' letter is not helpful to the morale of our people, and coming at a time when everyone is being asked to support the Victory Loan is likely to do much harm.

Remember: "Nothing Matters Now But Victory." I trust Mr. Huestis will in future confine his criticism to "constructive" lines, not destructive. There are so many things to be proud of in the British race; and this is not the time to harrige and magnify our faults, or even to draw attention to them. No race of people in the world have better record, or have done more for the cause of humanity.

Get behind the war effort, Mr. Huestis, and support Mr. Weir. With your talents you could help a lot.

Dependent Mothers

Editor, Bulletin: I am instructed to call attention to a situation which, with increasing casualties, is bound to become acute. The position of dependent mothers with respect to pensions is not clear.

It is the understanding of the Canadian Corps Association that when a son is killed his dependent mother must apply for pension and prove her dependency before a Pensions Board. This is bound to entail delay and hardship. This Association is aware of this and has so informed the Prime Minister, that the granting to a mother of a dependents' allowance should, in the event of the son's death, make her automatically eligible for a pension at a standard rate without further investigation.

This association believes, further, that if a mother, subsequent to her son's death, becomes in such circumstances that she would, if her son were living, be recognized as a dependent mother, she should have the right to apply for and receive a pension at the standard normal for dependent mothers.

Believing firmly that action for the benefit of the Armed Services by the Government can only be induced as the result of widespread public demand, the Canadian Corps Association requests that the Edmonton Bulletin assist, as it has on other occasions assisted, in giving this question, vital to public morale, as wide publicity as possible.

The Canadian public is at the moment giving evidence of their eagerness to support an all-out effort by subscribing to the loan. They will be no less ready to respond to an appeal on behalf of our fighting men if advised of the urgency of the situation.

Good Taste Part of War Effort

Women Should Aim to Be Both Economical and Attractive

By MARY ALICE QUAYNE

Where is the woman who isn't interested in clothes? Women today must consider it part of their war effort to be attractively but economically groomed.

Whether it is the important dress of the season, or a little suit to wear under a fur coat, the creative designers minimize ornament in favor of slim lines and subtle draping. No exaggerated bows or ruffles, no intricate blouse handling is used to give these fashions a new look.

Rather it is the slimming of the skirt and the use of color that give these dresses a fresh appeal.

There are the two-piece dresses as slim as a pencil, with contrast achieved by using velvet in the same tone. This is equally effective whether made of dull black crepe trimmed in black velvet or colored wool and matching velvet—or just this combination the other day at a popular Edmonton shop in that colorful wear made of citron wool. This two-piece dress was as plain as porridge with its fitted velveteen peplum in the same tone as the dress from closing of the blouse was accented with dull gold buttons.

No Breadth

There is hip-draping on some of the skirts, but it is done very simply so as not to add fullness in a manner that gives breadth to the figure.

The fur-trimmed or costume suit is a happy suggestion for the November bride. If her choice should be soft shades of grey, I would like to suggest accessories of pink, that vivid pastel of Peruvian inspiration. Another suggestion would be a brick red suit trimmed with luxurious fox collar. A huge black velvet beret completes the ensemble with suede bag, gloves and shoes, underscoring the use of black in trimming.

Simple clothes made from good quality fabrics of lively colors ornamented by a clip at the neck or a jewel-trimmed belt can be worn throughout the day and evening.

If you are in the market for a casual coat don't overlook the flamboyantly colorful tweeds.

Have you ever thought about getting yourself a dressy evening blouse with bead embroidery for the same suit that carries a tailored shirt for morning?

Wool Substitutes

With the scarcity of wool for the civilian population we welcome that new wool-like substance that is mainly rayon. The fabric has a dull, soft finish like serge and it is handled adroitly in semi-tailored fashion. The colors that caught my eye were the creamy gold, the gray, the aqua, the soft pink and copen blue. These will be as refreshing under your fur coat as ice cream is on a hot summer day.

In the one-piece dresses you will find almost every favorite tailored type of the season represented. There's the dress with a fly front, its pointed turndown collar stitched in multiple rows. There's the shirt-waist style and the collarless dress that buttons up the back.

Others that I saw had tucks as they are having their inning as ornamental details. One dress is a softened style with diagonal tucks banding the bodice and the skirt. The sleeves are the fitted three-quarter length variety that can be worn straight or pushed casually up above the elbow.

Tailored

Any woman who likes the classic tailored styles, slightly softened as a concession to the season's feminine ideas, will find interesting models from which to choose.

Shoes play an important part in achieving that well groomed look. Here are a few suggestions that will be helpful for all of us now that we will be doing more walking on account of our decrease in rationed gasoline.

Guard your energy by wearing shoes with comfortable low heels. Be sure your shoes are fitted with room enough for the foot to spread, especially if you are on them for long hours. Experience has taught most of us that oxford ties support the arch best.

This year, it is not difficult to find shoes with this special quality of foot ease, for low-heeled shoes are in the fashion picture, in oxford type and in sandals or step-ins for dress.

Major And Minor Notes—By John Oliver

CARROLL GLENN, the brilliant young United States violinist who opened the Women's Musical Club Celebrity Series at the Empire theatre last Monday, has been the stand-out feature in music circles this week. Since the event much time has been given to its recollection and reminiscence. Not only did she prove herself a splendid artist — unsurpassed among young violinists of the day—and in the front row of the musically anointed of both sexes, but she also showed that she was a genuine, wholesome young woman. There was no conceit about her; no snobbishness; no sense of superiority such as is felt by many whose accomplishments are so far behind hers that they cannot be seen. Her comprehensive series of triumphs at such an early age have left her unspoiled, and fired her with a determination to proceed to even greater heights.

She was up early after her concert, which was followed by a reception. Then at 3 p.m. Tuesday she was hard at work at her room in the Macdonald, practicing scales and arpeggios. She took time off to have a cup of tea with Mrs. Ernest Meaden, ubiquitous manager of the Celebrity Series. Just to show that the life of the successful concert artist is no ladder of roses, Miss Glenn, with her obliging accompanist, Henrik Endt, bied herself at Heintzman and Company's premises, and indulged in a period of intensive practice.

She left Tuesday evening for Winnipeg, where she played a recital Wednesday evening. She passed through here over the C.N.R. Friday morning on her way to Seattle, where she will give a concert early next week. From there she will work her way down the west coast. Miss Glenn spoke glowingly and appreciatively of her reception here, the arrangements that had been made, and the manner in which the whole event had been carried through. It is a safe bet that she will find it all times "welcome" on the mat when she returns.

On the stage at the concert last Monday was a third person, who kept eyes fastened on the music and at a quick, short nod from Mr. Endt, turned the pages of the music for him. This young lady was Miss Elsie Muriel Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Mills, 8621 112 street. A few minutes before the concert started, Mrs. Meaden was confronted with one of those unexpected, startling situations that make the life of the impressario attractive, in that there is always variety, and the unknown lurking just around the corner. Mr. Endt asked if arrangements had been made for someone to turn the pages of the music. Mrs. Meaden expressed verbal and aural amazement. It was the first she had heard that a page-turner was desired. Mr. Endt thought the request had been forwarded by the management.

There was no time to lose. Mrs. Meaden scurried to the lobby of the theatre for help. She encountered Miss Mills, who at 15 years, is one of the most promising of this city's pianists. Mrs. Meaden laid the case before her. Shy and retiring Miss Mills did not desire a stage appearance, but realizing Mrs. Meaden's predicament, she acquiesced and modestly replied she would "try." She made a fine job of it and Mr. Endt afterwards declared that never had he had a more efficient assistant on this phase of his work. He warmly congratulated her.

The next Celebrity Series concert, is on Nov. 11, when Claudio Arrau, famous Chilean pianist, will make his debut here. He is rapidly forging to the forefront among the leading keyboard artists. Like Miss Glenn, he has to make his mark in this city, but in view of his sensational successes in the United States, music lovers are looking forward to a scintillating performance. Although his entire program has not been released, it is known that he proposes to include such tremendous works as Bach's "Italian" concerto, Schumann's "Carnival" and a major Beethoven work.

When Richard Crooks, world famous tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Association comes here in January in the Celebrity Series, he will be accompanied by Mrs. Crooks. This will be the first time that she has visited this part of the country. Incidentally, in view of the congestion of accommodation, a hotel needed badly already has been made for Mr. and Mrs. Crooks.

Mrs. Meaden felt that the Celebrity Series had done exceptionally well when, by the end of last June, all reserved accommodation for the current season had been absorbed. But, judge her amazement when, the day after Miss Glenn's concert, she received a phone call asking if it was possible to now reserve seats for the 1942-1944 series. That is enthusiasm for a good cause.

Mrs. James B. Carmichael is one of the busiest musicians hereabouts. At present she is intensifying efforts of the Edmonton Civic Opera Society in its preparations for the production next month, of "Florodora". But, of course, major activity is occupying much of her time and attention. It is the high school orchestra she is conducting at Strathcona high school. Rehearsals are being held at 7:15 p.m. each Tuesday, at which every prospective players may turn out. In the alternative, they may phone Mrs. Carmichael at her home.

There is a tremendous field for the school orchestra. Dr. Ralph Vaughan Williams, one of Britain's leading contemporary musicians declared today: "In England today after a dark period we are gradually winning the battle of music; our battle is being fought in the music rooms of our schools." None will deny that mechanically-produced music has been a great boon. Most homes will declare that their favorite pieces are the "The Meistersinger Overture." the "Prelude to Tristan or "Tchaikovsky's Pathetic Symphony" and yet they will be unable to hum even the opening notes of many themes therefrom. They have gained their knowledge sitting in an arm-chair listening to ready-made music.

Not so many years ago, knowledge of the classic was gained by playing either in piano solo or duet, or by joining an amateur orchestra. Those who have studied the masterpieces of music from the lowly position of the last desk in the second violin section of an amateur orchestra, get to know and appreciate them in a way that can never be achieved by the armchair musician.

If everyone wanted to listen, there would be none left to listen to. There are still to be heard, artists who delight the ear and set the standard for the amateur. Unlike old soldiers, who never die, but simply fade away, the artists will pass hence. Their places will have to be filled. There is no finer "farm" for musicians than the school orchestra. Not every violinist in a school orchestra can be a Kreisler, Heifetz, Plastro or Persinger. Not every violin-player can roll Green. But in cases where the budding genius exists, he will be found out by the school orchestra —and such cases are by no means infrequent. Great men do not appear unheralded out of the sky. Usually they are products of their surroundings. If this city is to continue to have instruments and orchestral music, the means must be supplied. The school orchestra is one medium. It is to be hoped that the educational authorities and students will rally whole-heartedly to Mrs. Carmichael's support in her effort to supply future orchestral material for major musical efforts.

The Civic Opera Society's production of Florodora will take place at the Empire theatre Nov. 19, 20 and 21. Despite some difficulties in casting, due to the exigencies of the war and other causes, the production is rapidly rounding into shape. Dr. Paul Hervieux, who had been cast as Leandro has had to give up his role on account of military duties calling him to an eastern Canadian camp. His role has been filled by Jack Bissell, a newcomer to the society, who has competed in the Ontario music festival and has sung in various works in Ottawa and elsewhere. Renard Frederking, who will be remembered as singing "Alexius" in "The Ice Chocolate Soldier" has been added to the male section of the double sextet that will sing "Tell Me Pretty Maiden." Bert Leah, clarinettist in the orchestra is out of the city on business and may not be back for the production. But Mrs. Carmichael and her associates have held the main body of cast, chorus and orchestra intact and all speak enthusiastically of the progress of rehearsals.

The ballet for the production is being arranged and directed by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moore, executives of the Juneau School of Dancing. There will be Spanish and folk dances by a specially-trained group from the Juneau school, and indications are that this will be one of the features of "Florodora."

The next program of the Women's Musical Club will take place at the Masonic Temple next Saturday, and will be devoted to dance forms. Under the direction of Mrs. T. Winslow Hamilton, first vice-president of the club, the program will take the spectators back through the years when dancing on the village greens was a feature of community life. Then the theme will lead through later developments, when orchestras were employed in stately homes to play. The pictorial side of the program will be implemented by dancers from the Ideli Davidson School of Dancing. Musical illustrations will be drawn from recordings by the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Amsterdam Concert Orchestra, the City of Cologne, the English Singers, the Brussels Conservatory of Music Orchestra, and the Jacques String Quartet.

Egon Grapentin, first winner of an Edmonton Civic Opera Society scholarship, and one of this city's outstanding violinists, will play the following program at his recital to be given at the Masonic Temple at 8:30 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 6: Sonata in G Minor, Handel; Concerto in A Major, Paganini; Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso, Saint Saens, Scherzo Tartanelle, Wieniawski; Slavonic Dances in G Minor and E Minor, Dvorsk-Kreisler; Sea Murmurs, Castelnuovo-Tedesco; Jota de Falla-Kochanski; Gypsy Airs, Sarasate. It is of interest to note that Mr. Grapentin is including two numbers, Sea Murmurs and Gypsy Airs, which were played by Carroll Glenn, United States violinist, at her Celebrity Series Concert here last Monday.

NATIONAL SOCIALISM CONDEMNED BY CAUCUS

A number of other resolutions were also endorsed by the caucus Friday. One of the most important of these is titled "National Socialism."

In this resolution the caucus resolved that "we, the federal and provincial Social Credit members, in caucus assembled, condemn and denounce as anti-democratic the socialistic policies being advocated and adopted (under cover of a professed adherence to democratic principles) for increasing the arbitrary power of a vast state bureaucracy to dominate and regiment the people, thereby crushing initiative, destroying free enterprise and robbing the individual citizen of his rightful liberties and privileges under our democratic constitution.

WARN OF PERIL

"And be it further resolved that the people be aroused to the peril of this trend towards a totalitarian national socialist state before it becomes entrenched as the basis of the post-war order and we find, too late, that we have fought German national socialism overseas we have become enmeshed in its destructive toils at home under cover of some other label."

Attacking the "scheme commonly known as 'Union Now'," another resolution condemned "the open advocacy, particularly during this struggle for the preservation of democracy, of a scheme which would divest the people of Canada of all essential sovereign authority, destroy effective democratic government, submerge the British Empire in a conglomeration of countries dominated by an international totalitarian authority, render the British Crown meaningless and sweep away everything for which the British people are fighting at the present time."

The preamble to this resolution maintained that the "Union Now" plan proposed that a dominion of the British Empire and the U.S.A. and other democracies be consumated and that the nations entering into such a union set up an international authority in which would be centralized control over the armed forces of the nations entering into the union; the financial system of the entire union; and the rights of citizenship of the nations entering into the union."

PLAN CONDEMNED

The caucus condemned this plan.

Dealing with compulsory insurance schemes, a resolution passed by the caucus urged the abandonment of compulsory state insurance schemes, and proposed that they be replaced by:

1—"National issues of debt-free money for capital expenditures to enable the greatest possible number to secure employment in necessary and worthwhile enterprises without incurring national debt.

2—"Government advances of money at cost to individuals for the purpose of sound, industrial expansion and development, thereby providing maximum opportunities for those qualified to apply their initiative and enterprise in the industrial field.

3—"A scientific system of national pensions, consumers' dividends and special allowances in the cases of the aged and infirm in order that all citizens will be guaranteed a basic income apart from work and wages, sufficient to assure them a reasonable measure of social and economic security to which, in a country of abundant resources, the citizenship should entitle them: and

DEBT-FREE FINANCING

"That all such national pensions, consumer dividends, special allowances, etc. be non-contributory and financed by debt-free money created by the state."

A resolution on foreign trade advocated trade relations based upon "the reciprocal and mutually agreeable exchange of surplus goods and services."

The resolution urged abandonment of the gold standard as a basis for the control of the national economy; and that the home market be provided with purchasing power sufficient to buy the goods for sale at economic prices.

Another resolution urged that trade with other countries be placed on a reciprocal and mutually acceptable basis, at the abandonment of competition for foreign markets when such competition resulted in bitter commercial rivalry.

"Rather than create the slightest frictions that might lead to rupture of relations with other countries, it will be better to give some of Canada's surplus to those nations which need the products," the resolution stated.

Liner Officers Receive Awards

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Capt. N H Gale, commodore of the Queen Mary and other liners of the Cunard-White Star fleet, has been awarded the Distinguished Service order, it was announced today, for "fortitude, seamanship and enduring in taking merchantmen to North Russia."

His convoy, which fought its way for five days through narrow lanes between ice and land against bomber and U-boat attacks, arrived in Russia with seven ships destroyed.

Two other officers handled their vessels with such cool skill they were awarded the Order of the British Empire. They are Capt. Henry Austin and Capt. John Henry Reardon Smith. The latter fire destroyed two German aircraft, one of which sank Capt. Smith's vessel with a torpedo.

The destroyer which picked up Capt. Smith from a lifeboat after his craft was lost was commanded by his son, Reginald Smith.

He said 15,000 civilian men, women and children had been killed by the invaders, 5,000 had been wounded and 12,000 were missing.

Governor of Alaska Stops In Edmonton

sult of such developments as the Alaska Highway and the chain of hard-surfaced airports along the highway route.

RELATIONS PERFECT

"Relations of Canada to Alaska cannot become any closer. They are just perfect now. How could they be any better?" the Governor asked.

On the question of news about happenings in Alaska, Governor Gruening declared emphatically that he is highly in favor of much news being released to the people of Canada and the United States. Without saying so, he intimated this is one important matter he might bring to the attention of Washington authorities.

RELATIONS PERFECT

"Relations of Canada to Alaska cannot become any closer. They are just perfect now. How could they be any better?" the Governor asked.

On the question of news about happenings in Alaska, Governor Gruening declared emphatically that he is highly in favor of much news being released to the people of Canada and the United States. Without saying so, he intimated this is one important matter he might bring to the attention of Washington authorities.

The reporter told Governor Gruening that lack of information concerning military and naval operations in the Aleutians, such as the bombing of Dutch Harbor last summer had been largely responsible for many wild rumors circulating here about other bombings and enemy landings that were supposed to have been made on the mainland of Alaska.

"We even heard that Japanese planes had been observed above Watson Lake near the Yukon-B.C. border," his interviewer said.

Governor Gruening smiled and shook his head.

"I can not imagine any place in the whole Canadian or Alaskan area as Edmonton at the present time," he said. Continuing on the subject of news and censorship the governor said:

FAVORS MORE NEWS

"I have always favored a general loosening up by the army and navy concerning operations in the Alaskan area, and I think more news will be given out from now on."

While declining to comment on the military situation in the Alaskan area at the present time Governor Gruening seemed reasonably confident that defences there are fairly adequate when he said:

"Great strides have been made in the defence of Alaska since December 7 when the Japanese attacked American outposts in the Pacific."

Asked his views concerning the future of Alaska the governor replied:

"Well, Alaska has always been important and has always been on the North American continent although this fact may have been largely forgotten in the years before the war. But many army men have been to Alaska, including many high officers since this war started. They now know what Alaska is like and a lot of them are going to stay when the war ends."

Tourists will come into Alaska in thousands over the new highway after the war and some of them may also settle there, Governor Gruening believes.

Official opening of the Alaska higway will be observed in a ceremony near the Alaska-Yukon border on November 20 instead of November 15, as was previously announced he stated.

The term "Alcan Highway", which American magazines and newspapers have been striving to introduce as the official name for the highway, didn't win very warm approval from Governor Gruening.

The reporter observed that "Alaska Highway" still is the name the road gets by everybody in and around Edmonton.

BETTER NAME

"And I think that's the better name. Everybody knows that you have to go through Canada to get to Alaska.

The "can" for Canada isn't necessary in my opinion."

Speaking again of the highway itself the Governor said:

"I am very much impressed and gratified at the speed with which the army engineers and the public roads administration have worked. They have done a superb job of construction. When certain additional highway routes are constructed and the present route is converted into an all-year permanent highway, we will have a splendid transportation system to Alaska."

Stockily built and of medium height Governor Gruening was a delightful subject to interview. His graying hair is brushed straight back and he wore a double-breasted business suit with a blue shirt and white tie.

He has been governor of Alaska for three years, with his seat of government at Juneau on the Alaska panhandle.

FORMER DIRECTOR

For some time before taking the Alaskan post he was director of the division of territories and inland possessions in the interior department.

For many years he worked as a newspaper editor in New York and Boston and is considered a leading authority on Latin-American affairs. He is married and has two sons.

Lieut. F. C. Bishop, senior public relations officer for the United States Army on the Alaska Highway, came from Whitehorse with Governor Gruening.

Gov. Gruening started his career as a cub reporter with the Boston American. Later he was with the Boston Herald, the Boston Journal and the Boston Traveller. He has also been a managing editor of the New York Tribune and of The Nation.

MANAGING EDITOR

He started the Portland (Maine) Evening News and was managing editor of that paper for five years. Although Governor Gruening always travels by plane in Alaska he thinks the dog team will continue to play an important part in the life of the northland.

Maj. H. J. Silver, chief of the electrical engineering staff on the Alaska highway, who is one of the best known officers in the Alaskan panhandle, is also a former Edmonton resident.

New Treatment For Paralysis Is Criticized

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The infantile paralysis treatment of the Australian nurse, Elizabeth Kenny, was criticized at the American Public Health Association meeting yesterday as not justifying the wild enthusiasm it has created.

Miss Kenny brought this treatment, which she originated without medical aid in the Australian hinterland, to the United States two years ago. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has approved it. She has used hot water packs and muscle training on the limbs but no splints.

The criticism was made by Dr. H. R. Carroll, St. Louis orthopedic surgeon, speaker at a demonstration of the Kenny method. He said treatments of infantile paralysis have been numerous and one of the oldest was heat baking and muscle training.

"Each," he continued, "has failed and each in turn has been replaced by another — method equally hopeless in controlling the after-effects. We are now confronted with the most recent addition, the Kenny treatment, and the question is whether or not it should be placed in the same category as the others.

"I firmly believe that it should and will be classified in the same way, as the principles on which it is based cannot be considered sound in the light of our present scientific knowledge."

The scientific evidence, he explained, is that the wasting paralysis does not originate in the muscles, but in destruction of nerves in the spinal cord. He said that any treatment directed at the muscles themselves is only tinkering with a secondary trouble.

The muscle, he declared, will remain paralyzed regardless of treatment if the spinal nerves are destroyed. He said he is certain the one hope of eradicating the disease and its crippling after-effects lies in immunizing people.

Alaska Highway accompanied Gov. Gruening to Edmonton.

Maj. Silver (Maine to Great War, Ma). Silver admits he is called "Hi-Ho Silver" by all his buddies. He is six feet three compared with the Panama Canal as an engineering achievement.

Rights of Jews To Be Honored Declares Hull

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull said yesterday that "we must have a world in which Jews, like every other race, are free to abide in peace and in honor."

Hull's statement was made to a group of Rabbis who presented to him a memorandum commemorating the 25th anniversary of the Balfour Declaration pledging Britain's best endeavors to facilitate the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jews.

RECALL DECLARATION

The memorandum called attention to the declaration made a quarter of a century ago, expressed appreciation of the efforts of the United States in behalf of the Jewish people and voiced the hope that the United States government would bear in mind in the future the aims embodied in the declaration.

Hull observed that the Balfour Declaration of Nov. 2, 1917, had aroused wide attention in the United States and that this country had followed with interest and sympathy the work which had been done under it, in which he said American citizens played a useful role.

"This country was shocked and outraged," he added, "when tyranny and barbarity again commenced their march, at the brutality which was inflicted on certain races, and particularly on the Jewish populations of Europe.

Apparently no form of abuse has been too great, and no form of torture or oppression too vile to be meted out to these populations by the Nazi despots. And, in taking this attitude toward the Jewish race, they have made it plain by concrete acts, that a like attitude would be taken against any race against whom they might invent a grievance.

REFUGE LONG SOUGHT

"The Jews have long sought a refuge. I believe that we must have an even wider objective, we must have a world in which Jews, like every other race, are free to abide in peace and in honor.

"We meet today when the battle for freedom is being carried on in the East and in the West and every effort is concentrated on a successful issue. We can with confidence look forward to the victory when liberty shall lift the scourge of persecution and the might of the United Nations free mankind from the threat of oppression."

Butter Quota Ordered Cut 25 Per Cent.

OTTAWA, Oct. 31—(CP)—The foods administration of the prices board announced last night an order limiting all holdings of butter in storage warehouses and creameries at Nov. 30 next to 75 per cent. of the amount held at the same date last year.

The announcement said the present rate of consumption is above that of last year but added that the board "Believes that with co-operation on the part of consumers it will be possible to maintain an adequate supply to meet normal demands."

The statement said that the board felt the restriction in holdings "will facilitate the movement of butter within Canada and permit the best possible distribution of existing stocks."

REPORT HOLDINGS

The order also requires that beginning with November and until further notice all holders of butter carrying stocks in excess of 5,000 pounds must report their actual holdings to the food administrator, J. G. Taggart, at the close of each month.

In accordance with the board policy established last April, maximum prices of butter will increase on Nov. 2 by ¾ of a cent a pound at wholesale and one cent a pound on retail prices.

This seasonal increase, said the board, is a recognition of the need to encourage expensive winter production and to provide for storage costs. The new wholesale price for creamery butter will be ¾ of a cent higher than the prevailing schedules.

Truck Shoves Man Through Glass Door

William Fisk, 45, employee at Mills Motors, suffered shock, lacerations and possible internal injuries at 8.15 a.m. Saturday when he was forced through the glass panellings of the garage door by a truck.

Fisk was opening the large door when the truck rolled forward pinning him against the door and eventually forcing him through the glass panelling.

He was taken to the General hospital where the extent of his internal injuries is being determined.

New Series of Strikes Break Out in France

Berne, Oct. 31.—(AP)—A new series of strikes was reported today to have broken out in France, especially in the Haut-Savoie province of unoccupied France, among workers called to report for work in Germany.

A dispatch from Annecy to the Swiss Telegraph Agency listed strikes in Annecy, Marnaz, Scionzier, in the watchmaking region of Closes and at Annemace.

Some workers at Annemace refused to answer summonses from labor inspectors and the Nazi placement bureau there was placed under heavy guard.

The Haute-Savoie strikes were called when the workers received notices to present themselves at the mayor's office for physical examination prior to departure for Germany.

"Discontent is high among the population, although calm is being maintained," said one agency report. Factories there were closed and police reserves dispatched to principal centres.

At several towns in Haute-Savoie women were reported to have gathered before medical centres to hoot and heckle German doctors attempting to conduct examinations of their men.

Tomorrow—Nov. 1—is the day normally set for beginning of the roundup of workers under Pierre Laval's go-to-Germany drive. In effect, however, it has been under way for two weeks.

roaming other waters of the southwest Pacific.

But the fact that the inshore operations of the Japanese navy in the Solomons zone had halted indicated that the steady hammering of American navy, marine and army planes had brought results, even if temporary.

MAY RETURN

There remains the possibility, perhaps even probability, that the Japanese surface force will return. But in the meantime, the Japanese army on Guadalcanal is on its own, without naval guns and aviation to support it.

It appears to be agreed in press discussions of the meagre reports furnished by the navy to date that the enemy enjoys a numerical but not qualitative advantage both at sea and in manpower on Guadalcanal island. But the matter of air power would seem to be something different. If Japan had rushed planes in force from China, Burma or elsewhere to the Solomons battle zone, they have not come into action effectively.

Available information does not indicate they have been able to match the American air effort either in numbers or range of action. Army-marine success in beating off repeated Japanese attacks on Guadalcanal and quickly restoring any dent in the lines defending its vital air fields is in part traceable to that.

A substantial portion of the total force available on the island to the enemy commander must be continuously engaged along supply lines. That is particularly true of the southern face of the American defence front.

The foe has urgent need of air domination to supplement his indicated superiority in warcraft and men. While Henderson field can be used by the Americans to launch attack planes, evacuate casualties, receive essential supplies and, possibly, personnel reinforcements by air, it must remain a tough nut for the Japanese to crack. Here greater numbers of ground troops is not enough. It would take an overwhelming enemy quantitative superiority, to be thrown in regardless of losses, to crush a determined American defence by weight of numbers alone.

CONCENTRATE PLANES

It appears that either exigencies of the sea battle, in which planes are of primary importance both for scouting and for long-distance attack, have forced a concentration of Japanese naval air power at sea, regardless of the Guadalcanal situation, or that the Japanese cannot replace air casualties fast enough to permit sustained bombing attack over the airfield.

Quite likely both explanations have a bearing. It is also a fact that the rising tempo of Allied air attacks in China and Burma tends to pin enemy air strength to those theatres which otherwise might lead southwestward.

Japan is beginning to pay the penalty for wide dispersion of forces to accomplish her conquest dreams. Recent London disclosure that heavy British battle craft and at least one aircraft carrier are now somewhere in the Indian ocean is another factor. It must compel the keeping of similar Japanese naval units in that ocean when they are urgently needed in the southwestern Pacific.

German Saboteur Worked For Firm Making Bombsight

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Herbert Haupt, an American youth who became a Nazi saboteur, once worked for a Chicago firm engaged in production of the supposedly secret Norden bombsight for aircraft, a witness testified yesterday at the first treason trial in Illinois history.

The witness was Andreas Conrad Grunau, a native of Germany who managed the concern. District Attorney J. Albert Woll told reporters later that Grunau was "brought here and taken away in the custody of immigration authorities." An assistant prosecutor said Grunau was being held for a hearing by an alien board.

He was promoted to superintendent at Penticton on January 1, 1941, and was superintendent at Vancouver from October 9th last year until his recent transfer to Revelstoke.

C.P.R. Staff Has $2,198,450 In War Bonds

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31 — Employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Canadian Pacific Express Company, and Canadian Pacific Air Lines across the dominion subscribed a total of $2,198,450 to Canada's third victory loan during the first eight days of the current drive. This is 31 per cent higher than subscriptions from company banks in the first eight days of last year's campaign.

Western lines of the company—from the head of the Great Lakes to and including Vancouver Island, showed total subscriptions for the eight days of $854,050 or 38 per cent higher than for the corresponding period of the 1941 drive. Eastern lines subscriptions totalling $1,256,500 showed an increase of 27 per cent. Canadian Pacific express company employees have subscribed $87,900 or a 17 per cent increase.

14,000 IN FORCES

The railwaymen, and their associates of Canadian Pacific Air Lines, have a personal interest in the outcome of the campaign because of their 14,000 fellow employees now serving in all branches of Canada's forces.

Wahl (South) was declarer at three no trump. He let East's king of spades win the first trick. He won the second spade, then led a heart and ducked it to East. Having no more spades, East led a club. Wahl put his ace right up, cashed the ace of hearts and led a third heart. Thus he established nine tricks in a hurry.

Notice the difference had he won the first spade trick. He cannot make the contract without bringing in the heart suit. If he ducks a heart to East, another spade will come back, taking out his last stopper. Now West will get in if the hearts are continued, and will make his established spades, setting the contract at once.

Mrs. McPherson Enjoys Visit to Charleston Races

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 31.—(AP)—It seemed unusual enough when two horses owned by Mrs. L. McPherson won both ends of the daily double at Kanawha Park Friday, but that wasn't all—Grimaldi and Allergy were the only two friends she brought to the meeting. The pay-off was $135.40.

Furthermore, Jockey M. Allen rode both of them and Grimaldi was the longest shot of the day, returning $44.60, $10.60 and $6 after setting a track record of 1.23 4-5 for the 6½ furlong event.

Canada United by King Says Crerar

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Hon. T. A. Crerar, dominion minister of mines and natural resources, said here last night that Prime Minister Mackenzie King had brought "a united Canada into the war," and said political party aims should not be allowed to interfere with the proper prosecution of the war effort.

Speaking at the banquet of the Manitoba Liberal Association convention, Mr. Crerar said T. C. Douglas, C.C.F. member of parliament for Weyburn, had charged the government with favoring big business and that Mr. Douglas "knows better than that."

Corporations across the Dominion are paying as much as 40 per cent of their net profits to the government now, the minister said, and on overwhelming majority of them are quite satisfied with this situation for the duration.

By the end of this year Canada will have close to 1,500,000 men and women in the armed forces and war industries, he said, adding that after the war their occupations will cease within a short time and precautions must be made now to meet the situation.

Urge Better Deal For Disabled Vets

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Walter S. Woods, associate deputy minister of pensions and health, said in an address yesterday Canada owed men disabled while serving in the armed orces something better than being put into the casual or unskilled labor class as a result of war injuries.

He told the newly-formed Citizens' Rehabilitation Committee here that such organizations could assist the government chiefly in removing the prejudices against disabled men and should devote their attention to planning for the rehabilitation of men disabled on war service. It would be the government's responsibility to lead the way in the reestablishment of men who return physically fit.

A man who has but one leg or one arm, said Mr. Woods, can render as good service if put in a job where only one leg or one arm is needed as a man who is 100 per cent physically fit. It was in finding these jobs within a municipality where the committee could render splendid work.

Halt Evacuation

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(CP)—The government halted the evacuation of children from London effective Nov. 10, not because the city was "less dangerous" but because the number leaving had become so small that the plan was no longer workable. Evacuation never was compulsory.

Preview and Review Of Sport

By Hal Dean

Sports Editor of The Edmonton Bulletin

Football situation generally and in particular the junior set-up in this province will be in for a thorough going over at the annual meeting of the Alberta Union being held in Edmonton today.

Les Ferguson, president of the Alberta Rugby Union, headed the Calgary delegation arriving here late yesterday afternoon along with Jack Bannerman, president of the Calgary league, Vere Carmichael, past president and Jack Grogan, secretary of the Union, Phil Heather, of the Air Cadets, Mike Sande of the Navy Cadets and Bob Harrison, assistant coach of the Army Cadets. Coach Ed. Rorvig of the Army team came with his squad this morning.

The preliminary meeting held last night was also attended by Whit Mathews, president of the Canadian Rugby Football Union, M. J. Lieberman, K.C., Mel Wilson, secretary and Gordon Northfield, treasurer of the Edmonton Junior League. Cy. Berchell and George Snowdon of E.A.C., Tommy Hays, Varsity, Doug. Menzies, South Side and Bill Perzek, Maple Leafs.

RUGBY OUTLOOK GOOD

WHILE there may be some differences of opinion as to the means of accomplishing their object, all appear agreed on the necessity of keeping minor football in this province in its present very healthy state, with the majority evidently favoring the giving of interprovincial playoffs the go-by.

The Calgary-Edmonton playoff is a natural and it seems sound business to avoid the financial headache entailed in a series with teams outside the province.

Junior football has now been flourishing in both Calgary and Edmonton for the past three years and orchids are certainly due to those men at the helm in the two cities. They are doing a very fine job and a trip out to Clarke Stadium this afternoon is recommended to any local citizen having any doubts in the matter.

In addition school leagues are thriving, although in Edmonton the six-man variety football is being played. Calgary sponsors junior and intermediate divisions this year, while here bantam, junior and senior leagues are operating with the teachers completely in charge.

JUNIOR FINAL TODAY

WHILE Coach Jake Jamieson's Airmen are given the call to retain the Alberta junior championship for Edmonton for another year, the Calgary Army Cadets may come through with an upset. It will be recalled that in the playoff last year the Tornadoes threw an awful scare into Tommy Hays' Maple Leafs in the second game after the Edmonton juniors had piled up what looked to be a safe margin in the first.

Ed. Rorvig is conceded to have a fast team, but the "A" Depot line is decidedly tough with Rayner, Michaluk, Idler and Neal doing the blasting. Horton, Dutchak, Kiesko and Hutcheon are hard to match as ball carriers and Blue should be good for a few points on kicks.

Both R.C.A.F. and Calgary juniors have been busy all week and with the latter reported to have perfected a few new plays, today's clash should be good. It will be the last chance to watch a football game in Edmonton this year. Don't miss it!

Lust Prepares For Fight With Dave Castilloux

MONTREAL, Oct. 31—(CP)—Al Lust went through a light sparring practice Friday with Brother-Manager Eppie as his opponent, while Johnny Greco, Montreal lightweight, looked on.

Eppie found Young Greco, a lightweight, shortly after Greco arrived in town yesterday to report to military authorities, and Greco accepted an invitation to give Lust a few pointers on the style of Dave Castilloux.

Lust meets Castilloux here for the Canadian welter title Nov. 5, and the pointers that Greco can give might be useful because he is a former stablemate of Castilloux. He had plenty of questions fired at him during the workout.

The way Greco figures it, the fight is going to stack up as one of those boxer versus puncher battles. He considers Castilloux will have the edge if he can make Lust stand off and box, but that the advantage will be with Lust if he can get in some of his close-quarter heavy hitting.

"I talked to Maxie Berger about him," Greco said later in reference to Lust's prospects. "Maxie said he's green and not the best boxer in the world, but he can take a punch and can hit hard."

Berger ought to know about that hit hard business. Lust knocked him out when they met last July.

Sports . . . . Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 — (AP) — There's many a slip — which is about as good a way as any to sum up the prospects for the National Hockey season that gets started tonight . . . Nobody knows how it will end, but you can figure that its showing will be a good indication of the future of baseball and other sports . . . for instance, with about 40 per cent of last year's players already in the armed forces, hockey clubs are loading up with guys like Ebbie Goodfellow and Sweeney Schriner, who either had retired or were about to; they're using former third-stringers and minor leaguers in some of the more important spots and bringing in as many 17- and 18-year-old rookies as they can . . .

And baseball men might take note that instead of cutting down their squads, the ice house gangs all are planning to carry about 18 players although they can only use 15 in any one game . . . The idea, presumably, is to have the spares handy in case some of the kids don't come up to expectations or in case they get that 24-hour notice to get mustered for a uniform.

Scrap collection.

Fred Egan, veteran Lexington, Ky., harness horse driver has retired from the game, but he's going to keep his silks and equipment. Just in case he changes his mind after the war . . . According to the Bridgeport, Conn., Telegram, Gene Sarazen, the squire of Brookfield Centre, wants to turn amateur now that he can't continue his old habit of sweeping up all the pro golfing honors.

Inside stuff.

Speaking before a sports gathering at Providence, R.I., the other night, Letty Gomez said that his greatest thrill of the 1942 season came when he got four hits in a game against Newsom . . .

"You'll notice," added El Goofo, "that Bucky Harris resigned after that."

Vic Beats Westglen 13-12 But Losers Awarded Points

Westglen lost but they won in the senior division of the High School six-man football on Friday. They lost by actual score to Victoria 13-12 but due to the fact that the winners were unable to field a team to comply to the regulations the westenders were awarded the points.

As a result, Westglen moved into a first-place tie with Separate in the league standings. However, they are all through with their schedule while Separate still have a contest left with Strathcona which if they win will give them the undisputed championship.

In yesterday's contest, the Ingram brothers, Bill and Jack, teamed up for the redmen and between the two of them they were responsible for all their team's points. They gave Victoria a 13-point lead late in the third quarter before Westglen even got started. However, the latter staged a great finish and almost turned what appeared like a lopsided defeat into victory.

Jack Ingram drew first blood in the game early in the initial quarter when he hoisted a punt to the deadline.

Bill Ingram swung into action just after the start of the second frame by intercepting a pass and running 12 yards for a touchdown. Brother Jack converted.

Jack Ingram increased the redmen's total just after halftime as he sped around left end and lugged the oval 40 yards and over the goalline. He also kicked the convert.

The westenders found themselves just before the end of the quarter and Harrison Young fired a 20-yard pass to Norman Cuthbertson who stepped over the line. Young split the uprights with his convert.

In the final frame, the losers dominated play. Young climaxed a 60-yard march by plunging over from the five-yard strip and he moved his team within one point of Victoria by converting.

Westglen held an edge in play for the balance of the quarter but they were unable to add to their pointage. They were threatening as the final whistle went, being in possession on Victoria's 15-yard line.

LINEUPS:

Victoria — B. Ingram, McLeod, Lawrence, Mitchell, Kuchinski, Hewko, J. Ingram, Haire, Parr, Smith.

Officials: Mr. Stewart and Rod McAlpine.

Bronx Battler Qualifies to Meet Bivins

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Oct. 31—(AP)—Tami Mauriello came roaring down the stretch last night to outpoint the veteran Lee Savold of Des Moines in 10 rounds at Madison Square Gardens and move into the forefront of consideration as boxing's war-time "duration champion." Mauriello weighed 184; Savold 191¼.

The Bronx youngster, who has grown up from a middleweight to a heavy in that way, did it the hard way—coming off the floor from a fifth-round knockdown and taking the last three heats to grab the unanimous but close verdict in a blood-and-thunder brawl from start to finish.

The late surge of the 22-year-old Italian earned him the nod. On the Associated Press score card, Mauriello won six rounds and Savold, who now fights out of Paterson, N.J., took four.

A crowd of 12,734 turned out for this first Garden boxing show in a month and contributed to a gross gate of $57,470.

The victory qualified Mauriello to take on Jimmy Bivins, the Cleveland clouter, here Nov. 27 for ranking as "duration champ." The title the National Boxing Association has decided to bestow on the best of the active war-time leaders in the various weight divisions.

From start to finish in last night's shindig, the free-wheeling action on the part of both belters had the fans on their feet and roaring. Blood dripped freely from both fighters.

Mauriello's nose spurted crimson as early as the second heat, and a gash of red was drawn his face from a gash alongside his right eye in the sixth. Savold, on the other hand, had his nose bloodied in the third and his right eye was cut badly by a hammer-like left Mauriello fired in his 10th-round rally.

While Mauriello won a clean-cut verdict, he had a lot more trouble than the 1-to-3 betting odds in his favor indicated, and a goodly number of the bookmakers in the ringside area kept their fingers crossed until Referee Ruby Goldstein spied and sock in the late going.

DETROIT, Oct. 31—(AP)—Jolting Jimmy Edgar of Detroit, the boy Joe Louis' home precinct is boosting for the welterweight title, scored a one-round knockout last night over Tony Motisi of Chicago in the co-feature of an indoor boxing show at Olympia Stadium before 3,500 spectators.

Edgar, like Louis up from Paradise Valley, Detroit's Harlem, floored Motisi for a five count and then finished him off at 2:10 of the round. The knockout was Edgar's 12th as a pro. He has won seven decisions and lost one. Edgar weighed 149, holding a 2½ pound edge on the Chicagoan.

Curly Tells One

He was one short of his limit when a lone bird came over. He stood up in his boat, shot and fell overboard in three feet of water. He clambered back in the boat, pulled off his boots and out rolled five sunfish.

He got the ducks and started gathering up the fish, when a warden arrived and asked for his fishing license. He didn't have it and the fish went back in the river and Sievers went home with his duck limit.

Junior Title at Stake

Calgary Army Cadets Here For Final Against R.C.A.F.

FINAL of the two game total point series for the Alberta junior football title between the Edmonton R.C.A.F. and the Calgary Army Cadets will be played at Clarke Stadium this afternoon starting at 3 o'clock.

The local Flyers as a result of their 10-0 win over their opponents in Calgary a week ago rule heavy favorites to capture the honors.

Coach Ed Rorvig led his Cadets into the city this morning. There were 29 players in the party and they were joined here by Jack Hobbs, stationed in the city with the Navy. Previous to leaving the southern city, Hobbs was a standout performer in it's junior football league.

Rorvig reports that all his players are in fine fettle and that the squad is free from injuries.

Coach Jake Jamieson of the local Flyers says his big husky performers are rearing to go. They realize that they are in for a mighty tough battle, but they are confident that when the smoke of the battle clears from the Stadium this afternoon they will be the new Alberta champions.

Starting lineups will be chosen from the following players:

Alsab Gets Chance to Top 1942 Money List Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Alsab reaches another important hurdle in his brilliant turf career today when he faces seven older rivals in the $25,000 Westchester handicap at Empire City.

Having established his supremacy over Whirlaway and broken even with Shut Out in four races, Mrs. Albert Sabath's little stretch runner will get his chance to become the top money winning horse of 1942 in the mile and three-sixteenth number.

The Sab has earned $225,215 of his total winnings of $335,825 since first facing the barrier as a three-year-old in Florida last winter. But he bowed to Shut Out in the rich Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes with the result Mrs Payne Whitney's Ace, now on the sidelines for the remainder of the year, picked up $258,975, although not as active in competition.

Trailing the two money winning leaders with little chance to catch either of them are the two-year-old Occupation with $189,865 and Whirlaway, world's top money winning horse, with $188,675 for 1942. Occupation is entered in today's Pimlico Futurity but the race is not rich enough to permit John Marshall Juvenile to threaten either Shut Out or Alsab.

Alsab's chief opposition today figures to come from the Louisiana farms' Riverland, and Tom Heard, Jr.'s, Texas-owned Boyuy. Riverland finished first in eight straight races but was disqualified out of two purses before losing to Whirlaway at Laurel last week.

Billy Conn Not Entirely Destitute

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31—(AP)—Boxer Billy Conn said last night he plans to dip into his "nest egg" of government bonds to pay part of the $25,707 in federal tax he owes on his 1941 income.

"It will be a few thousand dollars," said Conn in declining to tell how much he intends to pay. The money had been invested in bonds for use after his fighting days are over.

Conn, a corporal in the army and boxing instructor at the New Cumberland, Pa., induction center, says he is "badly worried" about the income tax and is anxious to do some boxing.

"I don't know whether the army will let me fight or not," he said. "I'm worried about this tax business and want to pay it off, if I can, and I could if I could only fight once or twice."

Bissell "A", Y.W. Win Hoop Games

Two games were played in the City Girls basketball League at the Y.W.C.A. last night. In the opener, Bissell 'A' trimmed Bissell 'B' 18-14 and in the contest following this, the Y.W. defeated Clare Hollingsworth's Starlets 18-12.

The initial clash proved to be a very excellent one. Bissell 'B' stayed out in front practically all through the encounter but the ultimate winners closed fast to gain their margin of victory. Dot Myery was the big point getter for Bissell 'A' with a total of 10. Irene Nakamura topped the losers with eight.

Lineups:

Bissell 'A'—Barilko 2, Myers 10, D. Chandler, Robinson 2, Redlin 4.

Bissell 'B'—J. Chandler 2, Nakamura 8, G. Riddell 4, B. Riddell, Quilley.

Ada Forbes was the pace-setter for the Y.W. in their 18-12 win over the Starlets as she chalked up the impressive total of 10 points.

The winners wound up the first half tied at 6-6 with their opponents. At the end of the third quarter they were ahead 14-10. In the final frame they added another four points while holding the Starlets to two.

The losers' scoring was pretty well divided up amongst all the players. Mary Pringle was the pace-setter with a pair of baskets.

Lineups and scoring:

Y.W.C.A.—Young 4, Storey, G. Riddell, J. Chandler, McKillop, Forbes 10, Gordon 4, Miller.

Starlets—Golnick 2, Strachan 2, Thompson, Metheral 2, Hay, Pringle 4, Hole, Duke, Kell, Le Lacheur 2.

Referee—Reg Robertson.

Four Clubs Begin Schedule

National Hockey League Swings Into Action Tonight

TORONTO, Oct. 31—(CP)—Selective service . . . low labor priority . . .the Stu Smith case . . . army callups . . . selective service again. Those are the melancholy impressions of the National Hockey League training season that keynote a new wartime mood as the N.H.L., representing a $1,250,000 investment in the world's fastest sport, swings tonight into its 25th year of continuous operation.

The gloom isn't entirely unwarranted. All six teams still in hockey's biglime have suffered drastic losses. Brooklyn Americans lost all but four of its player strength and folded for the duration. Since then, no spokesman has ventured to place his own club higher than third in the usual pre-season forecasts.

The situation is likely to get worse before it gets better. Amateur leagues in Canada, already rich in service personnel, stand to acquire additional skilled talent every time the position rings.

Even so, the league the people wanted almost certainly will struggle through the season. Some of the principal doubts may be banished when Toronto Maple Leafs entertain New York Rangers and Boston Bruins meet Canadiens on Montreal home ice in the league's opening games tonight.

LEAFS LOSE EIGHT

Maple Leafs lack eight players from the club which brought the Stanley Cup to Toronto last season, but they still retain goaltender Turk Broda, defencemen Reg. Hamilton and Bucko McDonald and six forwards. Hank Goldup, a forward last year, is being converted into a defenceman. Any gaps will be filled by four promising rookies, notably Defenceman Bob Copp. Rangers no longer have the brilliant Neil Colville-Alex Shibicky-Mac Colville line, but in quantity at least their freshman crop surpasses all others. Seven Ranger rookies will make their first N.H.L. appearance tonight.

Steve Buzinski's debut in the Ranger nets will be carefully noted by Leaf fans. Another rookie netminder—Sugar Jim Henry—was the chief reason for Rangers' 4-3 victory over Leafs in their N.H.L. opener last season.

CANADIENS IMPROVED

Canadiens, picked by Coach Dick Irvin to finish third, have added high-scoring Gordie Drillon, last year with Leafs, to bolster their chances of improving last season's dismal showing. They are a young improving club. Manager Art Ross speaks dolefully of his Bruins, but he has 11 seasoned players, including two of the game's best goalies, Frank Brimsek, and several youthful candidates.

Boston travels to Detroit to meet Red Wings on Sunday, and although Manager Jack Adams says the Wings will likely finish sixth "if we lose just a few of the boys," the other coaches don't share his opinion. Adams has 12 holdovers, more than any other team, a valuable acquisition in 19-year-old Harry Watson of Americans, three newcomers and lush reserve material at his Indianapolis farm club.

Chicago Black Hawks, the sixth team in the league, opens the 1942-43 campaign against Boston Thursday.

Six-Man Variety Football Becoming Popular Overseas

WITH THE R.C.A.F. SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Oct. 31.—(CP)— Six-man football never gained much of a foothold in Canada because the 12-man game had the public by the ears, but it is rising in popularity among R.C.A.F. men in Britain.

These are the men who played in Western Interprovincial, Big Four or O.R.F.U. games two or three years ago or saw the games, or sat comfortably at home on rainy afternoons and listened to them. They can't do any of that now, and for airmen who are lonesome for the splash and color of a Canadian football season, six-man football is helping to fill the gap.

At one central air station, where Fl. Lt. J. C. Steele of Vancouver is the sports officer, a six-team league flourishes in the very shadow of war. Two Canadian squadrons are stationed in the vicinity, and air crew and ground crew alike take part.

"We wanted a game which is simple and does not require much equipment," Fl. Lt. Steele said. "We have found the answer in six-man rugby, which is strenuous, but not to the point where any of the boys get hurt. It's a good conditioner and a great many of the boys are playing it, too, so it fills a useful purpose."

The way these men play this game, it has all the driving excitement of the game they left behind. The roar of crowds is missing, of course, but it has a thunderous substitute in the roar of fighter craft into the usually-gray English skies to engage the enemy or accompany mighty Allied bomber sweeps into France or Germany.

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(BUP)—Handsome Claude Shane, son a Cleveland jeweler, has wrapped up a black diamond in the person of Jimmy Bivins.

Shane and Bivins were in town to watch last night's heavyweight battle between young Tami Mauriello of the Bronx and Lee Savold of Paterson, N.J., the winner of which was scheduled to tangle with Negro Bivins of Cleveland at Madison Square Garden on Nov 27.

Bivins will be favored heavily over Mauriello on Nov. 27. He has what it takes. Bivins—a grotesque figure, with long legs and ape-long arms, and squat, broad-shouldered torso—hopes to become the "interim heavyweight champion." And he probably will.

CAME UP HARD WAY

THIS BIVINS boy graduated into the big time largely because of the confidence in him held by Claude Shane. There was the day in Nov. 1939, for example, when Charlie Shane, Claude's father, walked into the jewelry store and saw the slow-motion Negro, and said, "What goes on here? This guy is so slow and useless, I'll toss him out myself. If you don't do it before me."

But the jeweler's son, Claude, replied, "Listen dad, this guy I've hired as porter will be light-heavyweight champion of the world.

Bear with him a while. He's the greatest natural fighter you've ever seen."

Young Bivins continued as porter in the Shane jewelry store until he had registered so many victories that he was considered a genuine threat to the light-heavy or heavyweight crowns. While porter in the store Bivins got $20 for his first professional fight. But 11 months later he got $3,500 for a bout. And when he tangles with Mauriello, he should knock down at least $10,000.

WAR-TIME JOE LOUIS

THIS money will mean little to Bivins, who has arranged for a home for his wife and two daughters. But he will insist upon the proper percentage every time he tosses leather. In this connection Bivins is more or less a flailing freak. Until he steps into the ring he is a slow-motion guy, who does cross-word puzzles in the dressing room. But once the bell sounds, Jimmy Bivins goes to town.

Bivins, who probably will be a war-time Joe Louis—the latter's title being frozen while Louis is in the army—would like to take a tuneup fight in Detroit, before tangling with Mauriello. But the jeweler's son, Claude Shane, says, "Nothing doing. You're signed for Madison Square Garden, and you're not going to leave that New York debut to fight in a Michigan ring."

So—the Black Diamond, and his Cleveland manager, will show their wares in the Garden, Nov. 27. Meanwhile Manager Shane is laughing off any angles that might menace Bivins.

No Rookies Starting Out With Chihawks This Year

HIBBING, Minn., Oct. 31.—(CP)—For the first time in 16 years, Chicago Black Hawks will begin a new National Hockey League campaign with not a single "rookie".

While the other five teams sport more newcomers from amateur ranks than in most other seasons due to wartime manpower demands, the Black Hawks will depend on four seasoned American Association men and goalkeeper Bert Gardiner of Saskatoon who has been with American and N.H.L. clubs to fill vacancies.

The American Association players—Leo Carbol, and Aud Tuten and Joe Matte, Defencemen, and Red Mitchell, a forward—have been training at Chicago's camp here for more than two weeks.

Carbol, more than 30 years of age, has been a professional 11 seasons but never with an N.H.L. club. Last season he starred on defence for St. Louis Flyers.

Tuten, Mitchell and Matte are from Kansas City Americans. Tuten, 27, has played minor league hockey for three seasons and was on defence for Chicago last winter in six games.

Matte, 24, an American Association defenceman for nine seasons, has been a rearguard mate of Carbol for seven campaigns.

Mitchell, 29, played one game with Black Hawks last winter but has been in the minors six years.

Gardiner, 29, began his professional career 10 years ago in the Former International-American League with the old Philadelphia Ramblers. He played a game or two with New York Rangers of the N.H.L. before becoming the property of Montreal Canadiens of the same circuit last fall.

Doug Stevenson, an Edmonton goalkeeper, has been signed by the Black Hawks but is not slated for major competition yet.

Manager Paul Thompson said the rookies trying out with Black Hawks this season did not have sufficient experience for major league service.

College Grid Giants Tangle

Four Out of Six Top Teams Hold Today's U.S. Spotlight

NEW YORK, Oct. 31—(AP)—Saturday figures to be an important day on the 1942 United States college football calendar, especially since four of the six top ranking elevens tangle in two of the foremost games.

Ohio State, holder of the No. 1 spot for three successive weeks, meets sixth-ranking Wisconsin at Madison in a clash between the two unbeaten western conference foes. Not only will the Buckeyes' position as the country's ranking eleven be at stake but the game should go a long way toward helping settle the conference race. The Badgers' tie with Notre Dame is the only blot on either team's record.

The Southeastern Conference argument over whether Georgia or Alabama is the better team also comes to a showdown at Atlanta in another test of unbeaten elevens. In this week's ranking by the country's sports writers, Georgia was placed No. 2 and Alabama No. 3.

ARMY HITS QUAKERS

Undefeated Army is the only other member of the "Big 10" to clash with one of the high ranking elevens. The Cadets, rated eighth, travel to Philadelphia to take on Pennsylvania's Quakers, whipped only by Georgia Pre-Flight and ranked 14th.

Notre Dame, whose comeback in the last two games earned the Irish fourth spot, take on a weak navy outfit at Cleveland while Georgia Tech, rated fifth, moves out of the Southeastern Conference to do battle with Duke's Blue Devils, on the comeback trail after a poor start.

Boston College, No. 7 in the rankings and rolling along with a four-game winning streak, tackles always - dangerous Georgetown, Texas Christian risks its No. 9 ranking against a weak Baylor team and Minnesota, whose victory over Michigan moved the Goahers up to No. 10, plays host to Northwestern.

ILLINOIS-MICHIGAN

Illinois, whipped only by Notre Dame, meets Michigan, which needs a victory to keep alive its western conference titular hopes. Conference titular hopes. U.C.L.A. power house of the west coast, tackles Stanford in the outstanding game in the Pacific Coast League.

The remainder of the schedule is studded with games that are mostly sectional in nature.

The midwest presents, in addition to its leading attractions, Great Lakes-Missouri, Iowa Cadets-Indiana, Nebraska-Kansas, Oklahoma-Iowa State and Oklahoma A. & M. Creighton.

Ken Preston Will Play With Bombers

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31—(CP)—Halfback Ken Preston, formerly of Regina Rough Riders, said last night he had changed his mind about retiring for the season and will play here today for Winnipeg Bombers in the city senior football league championship series against Royal Canadian Air Force Flyers.

Preston announced earlier this week that he would retire because he is leaving soon for Gordon Head to take an army officer's course.

The second game of the total point series will be played Tuesday night.

Busy Policeman

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Patrolman Aloysius Lewis, 55, hustled an ailing woman into a cab yesterday. On the way to hospital she gave birth to a girl. Returning to his duties about 45 minutes later, he noticed another woman in distress. He stopped a passing car, but before they could start for a hospital another child was born—a boy.

"Ambassador" Dies

The first British raid on Dieppe was in 1339 in the Plantagenet war with France.

Torchy Peden Planning Transfer to Canadian Army

MARIETTA, O., Oct. 31—(CP)—William John (Torchy) Peden, Canada's outstanding six-day bicycle racing rider, will do his fighting with the Canadian Army if it's okay with the United States government. He's certain it will be.

Draft registrant from Marietta, Peden passed his army physical test Thursday in the Columbus, Ohio, induction centre. He leaves today for Detroit where at the Canadian Army enlistment centre he expects to have his inductions papers transferred to the Canadian army.

"In many ways I will be sorry to leave the United States although it will be only for the duration," said Peden yesterday. "Since first coming here in 1936 I have received only the fairest and best treatment from the public and officials. I've tried to be worthy of this kindness.

NOT U.S. CITIZEN

"Now I have a decision that was hard to make, but I know that my progress in the United States army would be handicapped by my not being a citizen. In the Canadian service I can advance as far as my ability warrants. I decided on that course.

Flashing his famous smile Peden added: "I doubt if when I return I will be able to hold my own with the younger men, but if I can help bicycle racing by doing so I will give your future champions a fair go. Six-day bike racing is a great sport; it will return to a place among the major sports of this country and Canada."

Up to now Torchy has done his part in production work as top mechanic and welder in a Cleveland arms plant. Last spring he completed the company's course in electric welding.

WANTS TO DO SHARE

"Unless they have a spot where I may be more useful I hope to be able to enlist in some mechanical branch of the Canadian army," Torchy said. "Whatever it is, welding of welding a bayonet, I hope to be able to do my share in licking the enemies of the United States."

Peden was born in Victoria, B.C. He has been riding as a professional cyclist for more than 10 years and is considered one of the sport's leading performers.

Doug Peden, a younger brother, also a former professional bicycle rider and a baseball player, and well known as an amateur athlete, is serving with the 27th Anti-Aircraft Battery in the Victoria area.

Sgt. Anna Peden, a sister, is a member of the R.C.A.F. Women's Division.

TURKEY BURIED FOR SIX WEEKS TURNS UP ALIVE

KILLARNEY, Man., Oct. 31.—Six weeks ago the farm of Fred Jordon was swept by a storm, several buildings were flattened and there were casualties among his livestock and barnyard fowl.

Jordon said today that one of the "casualties"—a turkey—turned up alive a few days ago when he moved a pile of debris caused by the storm. He hopes to fatten the bird in time for Christmas dinner.

MORE THAN THEY BORROWED

NORWICH—(CP)—An innkeeper in this Norwich town decided to charge one shilling for each glass taken outside the bar, and money refunded when the glass returned. At the end of two weeks, he found he had four more than he started with.

Beach-Air Force Clash Feature of Eastern Football

TORONTO, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Flying Officer Lew Hayman's undefeated Royal Canadian Air Force Hurricanes collide with the fast-climbing Toronto Balmy Beaches today in the feature contest of the Ontario Rugby football Union's triple-barreled program.

Flyers probably will be distinct favorites, since the second-place Beaches will be without five key players — Halfbacks Don Smythe and Ross McKelvey and Linemen Jack Young, Leo Beasley and Rutch Allison. The Air Force entry will be at full strength.

In the second half of the weekly doubleheader at Varsity Stadium here, Toronto's third-place Navy entry from H.M.C.S. York appear to have a soft touch in the winless Kitchener-Waterloo Panthers. A Navy victory and a Beach defeat will move H.M.C.S. York into undisputed possession of second place.

Toronto Oakwood Indians, with two victories in six starts to date, travel to Hamilton to meet the fourth-spot Wildcats in the third game on today's card.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

By REVEREND G. R. DAWE, B.Th.
Pastor, Norwood Regular Baptist Church

"PEACE"

WHAT a priceless possession! How the world longs for it today! How far it seems from the experience of the human heart! But what is peace? Who will define it? Though peace is precious and universally craved, it is doubtful if many could really explain what it is. From the following words which fell from the lips of the Son of God, it is quite evident that two widely varying conceptions of "peace" are to be found in the world. Just before our Lord made His departure from this earth to return to the Father's presence, He said to His disciples, "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid" (John 14:27). According to this, the peace which Christ gives is "NOT AS THE WORLD GIVETH." There is a DIVINE peace and a HUMAN peace which may prevail in the human heart.

Now the peace that the world knows is dependent upon certain outward or physical conditions. Publicly, it depends upon the cessation of hostilities between rival forces and the activities of those who would create strife. It depends upon human integrity—when that is gone, suspicion and fear take the place of peace. When man fails to keep his pledge with his fellow man, it becomes necessary to resort to arms to guard the peace. Privately, it depends upon the gratifying of every fleshly desire, for sinful man is so constituted as to never be satisfied so long as his heart craves that which he cannot lawfully possess.

In conirast to this, every true Christian knows the peace of God which fills the heart even when things without are in a turmoil. God's peace does not depend upon external circumstances. It is an inward calm which reigns supreme when all without is commotion and war. Worldly peace is outward; God's peace is inward. The one operates when all conflict ceases; the other prevails in the midst of conflict. The world's peace is possessed only with the pleasures of sin; God's peace is possessed only with purity from sin. That of the world is based upon man's integrity; Divine peace rests upon God's integrity. The one is obtained through struggle, the other through faith; one is protected by human armaments, the other by a Divine Advocate. Worldly peace is transient, God's peace is eternal.

And what is the secret of this eternal peace? It was procured through Christ's sacrifice—"having made peace through the blood of His cross" (Colossians 1:20). It is possessed by the individual through the acceptance of Christ as Saviour. Said Jesus, "These things I have spoken unto you, that IN ME ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world" (St. John 16:33).

Norwood Plans To Celebrate Anniversary

Norwood United church is celebrating its 35th anniversary on Sunday. It began as a congregation in 1907 in a tent erected on 93 street and 114 avenue. The Rev. A. J. Law, now of Hobbema, was the student missionary.

Later a church was built on that site and the late Dr. W. A. Lewis became the first ordained minister. In 1912 the present church on the corner of 116 avenue and 85A street was opened for service.

Dr. Thomas Powell, Calgary, who has given a life of service to the church in Alberta, and recently retired as superintendent of missions will be the speaker both morning and evening. His subjects will be "Life" and "Frontiers and Pioneers."

Morning soloist will be Mrs. A. Wotherspoon, while in the evening a duet will be sung by Mrs. C. Hagith and Miss Una Palmer. Mr. Jacobs will play a violin solo.

Sunday evening is of especial interest, a reunion of the present congregation and many old friends of Norwood, who are returning to take part in the service.

Dr. Powell will give his popular lecture, Tuesday evening, after ladies of the church have served a "war-time" supper.

Rector to Preach At Christ Church

The evening sermon at Christ church will be the first in a series on modern hymnody as it is entitled. "When in Rome, Do as the Romans Do".

Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8 a.m., and the rector, the Rev. E. S. Ottley, will preach in the morning about "The Cloud of Witnesses."

Junior church is at 9:50 a.m., and Sunday school at 2:30 p.m.

St. Matthew's Church

The Rev. Canon J. C. Matthews will be in charge of morning prayer at St. Matthew's Riverdale (Anglican), Sunday.

UNDER SUPERVISION OF RED CROSS SOCIETY

Auxiliary Nursing Corps To Be Recruited in Edmonton

Two Hospitals in City Will Train Volunteers For Wartime Emergency

Any young woman in Edmonton who is physically fit, between the ages of 18 and 50, has a high school education or the equivalent, and wants to serve her country in one of its greatest needs, now has the opportunity offered to her—an opportunity demanding courage, hard work, obedience and devotion to duty—but an opportunity for sacrifice and service.

Announcement was made Friday that two city hospitals, the University and the Royal Alexandra, will participate in the training of Voluntary Aid Detachment workers. A commandant has been named, and interviews for candidates will begin Monday.

Miss N. S. Mackenzie, national supervisor of nursing for the Canadian Red Cross, is now in Edmonton to complete plans for the training. She emphasizes that the purpose of the Voluntary Aid Detachment is to have in Canada disciplined and trained young women for hospital service in the event of any wartime catastrophe.

COMMANDANT NAMED

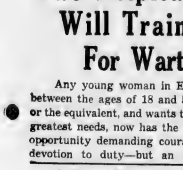

Mrs. J. J. Ower, R.N., has been appointed commandant for Edmonton to act in conjunction with the advisory board. Mrs. Ower, a graduate of the Montreal General hospital school or nursing, is the wife of the acting dean of the faculty of medicine at the University of Alberta.

The V.A.D.'s acts under the supervision of the Red Cross society, and have been in operation in England since the beginning of the war. In the United States, such workers are known as Nurses' Aides.

The Canadian Red Cross early saw the need for trained workers to assist nurses in wartime and sought the backing of the Canadian Nurses' Association, which appointed a committee to draw up a program of training and

The Visual Load

By J. E. Thomas, Optometrist.

Approximately eighty-five per cent of all we learn comes to us through the medium of vision, and in this modern day, we are dependent upon the reading of books for the greater part of our specific information. The importance of possessing efficiently functioning eyes is increasing amazingly.

In business offices the introduction of typewriters, dictaphones, posting machines, have added much to speed and facility in handling correspondence. This gain has increased the burden on the eyes of today.

In many instances an office correspondent must read a great deal more than was required in the same position in former years.

Needless to say, such rigid requirements are eliminating the visually inefficient. They no longer have a fighting chance for positions they might want. This disadvantage increases every day. There is no reason for anyone to be in this class. If they will only take care of their eyes, and at the least sign of strain, have them examined and the error corrected.

It is expected that Maj.-Gen. Pearkes will hold a conference of active force officers during the time of his visit.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

Are the bombing attacks on Hong Kong the forerunner of activities on a larger and wider scale in China?

THE ANSWERS

FRED KENNEDY, Bookkeeper: These raids on Hong Kong, together with other activity which included the destruction of a large number of Japanese airplanes in various sections of southern China, indicates that aerial assistance to Chiang Kai-Shek is becoming substantial. Such assistance will necessitate the withdrawal of forces from other fronts to meet these attacks. It might well be that China's seasoned troops are about to apply the pincers to the Japs.

PERCY JENNINGS, cabinet maker: The news of the bombing of Hong Kong must have given considerable heart to the Chinese army and people, and it would seem safe to prophesy that these attacks are only the forerunner of activities on a larger scale.

WILLIAM PROCTER, returned soldier: American squadrons operating from Chinese bases may well be part of a protecting flank for the United Nations' armies now stationed in India if a move to drive the Japanese out of Burma is started. Whether this guess is right or not the presence of American airplanes in number on the Chinese front has been received with great satisfaction.

Pilot Officer Frederick Eugene Davies, son of J. A. Davies of 11042 87 avenue, is missing after flying operations in Canada, it was learned here Saturday. No details as to the locality or circumstances are as yet announced.

Getting Around with Jack DeLong

Governor Ernest Gruening of Alaska, who visited Edmonton Friday night, is "boss" of a territory short on population but mighty long, at the moment, in importance. And it is not important to the United States or Canada only. It is important to Great Britain, Russia and all members of the United Nations now battling the Axis foes.

And the governor demonstrated he is fully aware of the importance of the territory under his immediate direction and also of the great responsibility that rests upon his own shoulders at the present time.

A former newspaperman, Governor Gruening was in perfect "sympathy" with reporters who interviewed him.

We discussed with him the subject of censorship. The governor has always been in favor of more news being released concerning happenings in the Alaskan area. And he nodded assent with the conductor of "Ripley's" when we expressed the view there should be

All Are Welcome.

Sane Evening Is Anticipated By Authorities

With schools, churches and youth organizations encouraging the celebration of Hallowe'en in a more constructive manner, Saturday night in all likelihood will be celebrated in a manner different from the celebrations in former years.

Hobgoblins, ghosts and other eerie creatures probably will be conspicuous by their absence.

Edmonton householders are perplexed this year, puzzled over what type of Hallowe'en callers to expect. They are puzzled whether they should stock up with the usual apples, peanuts and suckers or whether they should reduce their supply and have on hand a stack of pennies.

The reason for the uncertainty is the fact that during the last year, schools, churches and youth groups have instilled into Edmonton's children the need for changing their ways of fun, turning them into worth-while ventures pointing towards victory.

As a result, many children are making preparations to make calls as usual, but to ask for pennies for Milk for Britain instead of apples or suckers.

A WARNING

Police Chief Blackwood has issued an appeal to Edmontonians, old and young, to co-operate in keeping the city's Hallowe'en record clean.

He has warned that rowdyism and vandalism will not be tolerated and that in view of the many sobering influences effected by three years of war, any possible disturbances of the war effort will be checked up by police and the culprits will be dealt with through the wheels of justice.

TABOO LIST

Officials generally commend the idea of calling for "Hallowe'en pennies" instead of Hallowe'en apples. Chief Constable Blackwood has listed the following "pranks" as taboo for Saturday night:

Soaping windows; damaging fences on either city or private property; defacing or damaging any street sign, stop sign or signs for the regulating of traffic; breaking or interfering with city electric lights; placing obstacles of any kind in any way with motor vehicles, trucks, wagons, etc.; doing damage of any kind to public or private property; pulling trolley wires; turning in false fire alarms; damaging or removing plank sidewalks.

By the church calendar, Hallowe'en is the vigil for All Saints' Day Sunday. It may be tonight Canada will see the nearest observance of the basic Christian idea of the celebration in many decades.

The festival aspect of Hallowe'en long antedates the Christian era. It was linked with Druidic rites in ancient Britain and the Ritual tributes to the Goddess of Fruit in ancient Rome.

Western Savings Assn. Subscribes $300,000 to Loan

Time Schedule City Schools Changes Nov. 2

New hours of school attendance in Edmonton, which have been arranged by the public school board in conjunction with the street railway department and civic officials to ease the transportation problem, will go into effect, Monday, R. S. Sheppard, superintendent of schools has announced.

The alteration of hours has been made according to transportation facilities in the various districts. Because pupils in elementary schools are quite young, and in most cases have considerable distances to travel, it has been thought advisable to have these schools assemble at 9.30 a.m. and to reduce the length of the teaching day by 15 minutes. This reduction will not seriously affect the amount of instruction, and is in accord with the standards of the department of education, Mr. Sheppard said.

All intermediate schools will open at 9.15, and pupils in the elementary grades in these schools will assemble at this time. High school schedules are as follows: Eastwood, 9.15; McDougall, 9.30; Strathcona, 9.15; Technical, 9.20; University, 9.15; Victoria, 9.20; Westglen, 9.15.

Because of these changes the noon hour will be shortened, but no school will have less than an hour and a quarter for lunch time. Individual schedules were worked out by the principals, conferring with their teaching staffs.

Army Assisting In Victory Loan

According to official figures issued by the District Paymaster, the army in Military District No. 13 has contributed $31,150.00 to the Victory Loan campaign to date. This figure is far short of the actual bond purchases, as a number of centres have not made reports to the District Paymaster for several days.

The official returns to date show that No. 131 C.A.(B)T.C. Camrose is again setting the pace in the 3rd Victory Loan campaign as it did in the Second Victory Loan, with an official contribution to date of $11,600.00.

The standing of the other centres in the district were reported as follows:

A.16 C.I.T.C., Currie Barracks, Calgary, $4,300.00; Edmonton Wing, No. 13 District Depot, $4,150.000; No. 13 District Depot, Calgary, $3,000.00; No. 133 C.A.(B)T.C., Edmonton, $3,400.00; A.20, R.C.A.S.C., T.C., Red Deer, $1,500.00; 12th Detachment R.C.A.P.C., Calgary, $1,050.00; 13th Vocational Training School, Calgary, $1,000.00; C.W.A.C., Calgary, $150.00; 13th Company, R.C.E., Calgary, $50.00.

Initiation Held Westmount Hall

The annual Hi-Y dance and induction ceremony was held, Friday in the Westmount community hall, at which time 42 members were initiated, including all those from Eastwood and Strathcona high schools.

This event is held annually to formally induct members into the Hi-Y club. This year, Eastwood has only new members as all old ones have left school. The Scona club was organized only recently.

After the ceremony, girls pinned bits of red, white and blue ribbon on their cloaks, who will wear them until their pins arrive.

Two hours of dancing followed with many former Hi-Y members attending, some of them in uniform. The hall was decorated with red, white and blue, the colors of the club.

The award has been approved by His Majesty King George VI, and the citation, as announced by R.C.A.F. headquarters, is as follows:

Scottish Friend is Poetry Inspiration

The following poem was inspired by a guest child from Scotland who is a playmate of Joan Trout's. Joan is the daughter of the late H. B. Trout of the Edmonton Normal staff. She is 13 years old, attended Norwood school last year, and is now a pupil of the McCauley school. The poem is entitled "A Guest Child Speaks":

I remember, I remember my Scotland oh so dear!
I remember how the heather bloomed about this time last year;
I can see our little cottage shaded in among the trees,
I can see our purple lilac gently swaying in the breeze.
I can see our dear Loch Lomond where in childhood dwelt,
I can see Mother as she bade goodbye, I remember how I felt:
I can see the teardrops shining in a misty looking eye,
I remember when we parted, how I could not help but cry.
Oh men of this fair country end this war and set me free;
I am longing for my Mother, and I know she longs for me.

The first edition of the Varsity High newspaper, a weekly with circulation early this week, with about 95 per cent of the students subscribing, is the editorial staff made quite a profit on subscriptions, which is proof of the appeal this publication has for the pupils. It is hoped that "The Torch" will continue to be enjoyed by its readers.

After a typing test held last week by Miss Holley's class, it was learned that a feat had been accomplished which had never before occurred in connection with the typewriting test for the Gregg typing trophy. Miss Winnie Tait, daughter of a former student, wrote the test at 51 words a minute without error. This will make all the rest of the students of the school sit up and take notice to try to duplicate this student's accomplishment.

All arrangements have now been made in connection with the Sadie Hawkin's event. Rules were posted on the halls of the school on Monday and after taking heed of the same, the girls proceeded to talk the boys into going to the Gateway with them. VICTORIA
By Jack Towers

Along with the sudden fall of snow came the end of the rugby season. Fortunately, junior group in the three leagues were nearly completed.

On Monday, the Vic bantams defeated Sep. in the final game of the league. Vic and Westglen are tied for top place.

In the junior game on Monday, the Eastwood team lost to Vic 25 to 15. Sen. juniors defaulted the game, Thursday, and left the Vic boys as league champions. Vic lost only one game in this league during the whole season.

The senior championship was to be decided later in the week. The Vic boys have not done so well in this division, but nevertheless, they have played fine rugby.

The sale of war savings stamps was boosted at Vic this week by a poster campaign. A parade of silent, to buy Victory bonds, is planned for the near future. Every student will be included in this by having to add to the fund before being allowed to pass through the hall doors.

STRATHCONA
By Gwen McGregor

Scona-17, Vic-1, was the score Wednesday, when the senior rugby team played Victoria. It was a rainy day, but that didn't keep the seniors down! The juniors lost to Westglen on Monday.

There's a new topic under discussion at Scona this week—Christmas cards. It was decided that plain but attractive school cards would be chosen, and the sale profits will be turned over to the students' union.

Three students of Strathcona received top honors in the annual W.C.T.U. provincial competition. Stanton Tenove won a $25 scholarship for an essay contest, while Calvin Chambers won a gold medal for elocution. Harriet Skelton came fifth in the essay competition.

An organization meeting for the year book was held, Thursday after school.

The cast for the year play "Ghost Train" has been chosen, and already several practices have taken place. The cast includes the following: Margaret Sheldon, Doris Hazell, Eleanore Bowerman, Margaret Hand, Don MacDonald, Bill Jewitt, Jack Prichard, Allan Edwards, Brian Sproule, Dick MacDonald and Calvin Chambers.

Headed by sports rep. Peggy Edwards, junior girls' basketball teams have been organized for the girls and games are underway.

Both senior and junior boys basketball teams have started practices.

WESTGLEN
By Ron Fitch

Last Friday afternoon, Westglen's first big "lit" of the year was held in the gym. Produced by Miss Manser, the presentation was a great success for the dramatic department, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who saw it. The title of the program was "Today and Yesterday," and it illustrated how people did things years ago, and how they do the same things today.

Included in the cast were more than thirty members of the dramatic classes, and a vote of thanks goes both to them and to Miss Manser for the hails of the school on Monday and after taking heed of the same, the girls proceeded to talk the boys into going to the Gateway with them. The picture to be shown is "Holiday Inn" starring Bing Crosby and Fred Astaire. A draw will be held after the first show, and all persons holding stubs and who have bought tickets at the school will be eligible for the draw.

Clubs such as the bowling and badminton clubs are expected to get under way in a hurry. A meeting has already been called for the bowling club for Monday, Nov. 2. The learn-to-dance club has already started. A president has been chosen in the person of Pat Moran.

Under the leadership of J. P. Pace and Clair Hollingsworth, the basketball practices were held this week. These practices were held mainly for the benefit of the new students and fundamentals were carried out exclusively.

National Guide Day Observed Saturday

This is National Guide Day, and for the occasion, which is usually "marked" with special ceremonies and gatherings, a coast-to-coast program has been arranged.

While Guides in the city are busy with their full program of meetings and preparation for the passing of tests, the work is going forward steadily outside the city.

Last Saturday, Mrs. F. C. Pardee, provincial commissioner, Mrs. S. H. Gandier, deputy provincial commissioner, and Mrs. T. Palfrey, divisional commissioner for Westaskiwin, visited Hobbema, where they assisted in organizing a new company of guides on the Indian reserve.

Public Speaking Contest Scheduled

The 10th annual public speaking contest, in which all Anglican young people's associations in the diocese are invited to take part, will be held in December, and a committee is working on arrangements. Last year's winner, a silver cup, was won by Miss Eva Briggs of Camrose.

St. Faith's and St. Peter's groups will be the guests of St. Mark's A.Y.P.A. at a Hallowe'en party Saturday night, while Holy Trinity held a social evening last Wednesday.

A meeting on A.R.P. work was held, Monday, by Central A.Y.P.A., which includes St. Faith's, St. Mary's and St. Stephens' groups.

C.G.I.T. Activities Carry on For Year

Robertson United Group has chosen the following officers for the coming year: Pres., Leona Armstrong; vice-president and press reporter, Betty Hopkins; second, Barbara Tolchard; treasurer, Floris Fickenlamb. The senior group is making a layette for the Red Cross. A Hallowe'en party was held Friday.

McDougall C.G.I.T. officers are: Press, Lois Neilson; Vice-Pres., Sylvia Harrison; Sec-Treas., Gwen Second; Song Leader, Jerry McMichael; Games Leader, Ada Oldham and Pianist, Margaret Scott. This group also is holding a Hallowe'en party this week.

Strathcona Baptist C.G.I.T. has been divided into two intermediate and two senior groups. The "Lode Stars" one of the intermediates, are knitting a Christmas quilt. One of the seniors is making silhouettes for Christmas and are also decorating the club room. Members of the "Selbonaires," a senior group, are making lavendar sachets.

Bissell elections resulted in the following being elected: Pres. Lois Macamura; Sec., Stephena Wenzok; Treas., Viola Gollanyck; Press Reporter, Eleanor Smith. The project of the group is "A girl grows up." A Hallowe'en party will be held.

Westmount Pupils To Ask Donations

In accordance with the necessity of sacrificing personal wishes and interests for the furthering of Canada's war effort, pupils of Westmount school have decided that this year they will forego their accustomed Hallowe'en privilege of exacting apple and candy donations from residents of the district, according to Gordon G. Harma, principal.

Instead, the Kinette club is sponsoring the pupils to call, Saturday evening, at the residences in the Westmount area to ask for donations for the "milk for Britain" fund.

Authorized callers will wear official arm bands, and will carry the regulation money boxes to hold donations. They will work in groups of not less than two.

Westmount residents are requested to comply with the wishes of the children, and instead of supplying the usual tribute, to give small donations for this fund. It is hoped all residents of this district will respond to the new Hallowe'en cry, "Milk for British children!"

Presbyterian Y.P. Holding Meeting

Ian MacMillan of Vancouver will speak about the young people's society of that city to a gathering of Edmonton young people at the First Presbyterian church Sunday night.

The Y.P. of this church held a meeting, Oct. 23, when new officers were elected. They are: President, Agnes Ainsley; vice-pres., Kay Dain; sec., Edna Thompson; treasurer, Mary Wilson; devotional convener, Mary Freeman; social convener, Isabel Grant; press reporter, Isobel Fyfe.

Phyllis MacAllister was heard in a vocal solo, and a social program followed.

(To be colored with paints or crayons. Whenever you come to a word spelled in CAPITAL letters use that color.)

Let us have a Hallowe'en party!" said YELLOW-haired Susie May. "I will dress like an old witch and wear a tall BLACK hat with a wide YELLOW band about it, and a long GRAY (not BLACK lightly) cape about my shoulders. My dress can be made of BLUE material."

"O, that will be lots of fun!" cried Teddy. "My mother has made me a fine cat's suit, all BLACK velvet, and I shall wear a RED bow about my neck!"

"And I will be little Bo-Peep and wear my pale PURPLE dress with small YELLOW flowers all over it," said Polly.

Polly has AUBURN (use RED and BROWN mixed and then add a shade of PURPLE) hair.

We can have the big YELLOW tub full of water and float RED and GREEN apples in the water. Then we can see who can bite up the first!" suggested BROWN-haired Teddy.

"Mother will let us have a big pumpkin Jack o' lantern to hang up from trimmings!" cried Polly. "It has big eyes, nose and mouth, and it is real bright ORANGE (use RED AND YELLOW) color. It has a most terrible grin, too, and we can have a candle put inside."

"Isn't that fine?" said Susie May. "Now we can have a fine spooky time and you can be my witch's cat, Teddy."

"Meow r-r-ow," cried Teddy. "Let me jump on your shoulder and take a ride!"

"You can ride on my YELLOW-handled broom, you witch's cat!" cried Susie May, "and don't you scare my dear little Bo-Peep."

"Purr-r!" purred Teddy. "I will always be good to Bo-Peep!"

They all have PINK (use RED lightly) cheeks. The wall is YELLOW and the floor has a dark GREEN carpet.

Central United Y.P. Plans Dance Nov. 6

The Central United young people's union has commenced the season's activities, and is planning a dance to be held Nov. 6 in the McCauley community league hall. Tickets may be obtained from the secretary, Alice Allan, phone 72041, and all young people are invited.

One of the projects for the year will be the keeping of an honor roll scroll, which when completed, is to be hung in the church. This scroll will contain the names of the boys of Central United who have left for the armed forces.

Guides Will Serve

An invitation is extended to all Girl Guides or ex-Girl Guides more than 15 years old, to join the wartime emergency ranger company being organized in South Edmonton. Meetings are held in Scona Community hall, 101St & 86 avenue, every Monday at 8 p.m. Mrs. H. A. Elliott is the leader.

Nursing Corps To Be Formed For War Work

pledged its full support to the project.

Trial training was begun at two Montreal hospitals, the Royal Victoria and the General. To date, 37 V.A.D.'s have been called up for military service, and at least four are serving ac Kingston.

HAVE TWO CHOICES

When a young woman enroles as a V.A.D. she may choose to become "mobile" or immobile." Mobile workers indicate that they are willing to accept duiy anywhere, and may be called into military service, while those in the immobile classification serve in their own communities.

The army has set an age limit of 40 for mobile V.A.D.'s and when they are called up, they become a part of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps.

The program of training includes elementary nursing procedure, the teaching of which takes place in various departments of schools of nursing. At the conclusion of this period, which is about two months, the women are examined, and must be qualified to hold the Red Cross home nursing certificate in addition to the first aid certificates of St. John's Ambulance Association.

The V.D.A.'s are then sent to wards in hospitals for a period of practical experience. Civilian, emergency and military hospitals and those under the direction of the department of pensions and national health are giving training and accepting the services of this voluntary personnel.

Outlining details of the plan, Miss Merkenzie states that already many hospitals have received valuable assistance from the volunteer workers.

"This is not a short course for nursing," Miss Mackenzie emphasizes, "but purely a war service and must be given voluntarily. Each candidate must agree that she will not use her training for commercial purposes now or later, in other words, that she will never enter the field or practical nursing."

GOOD OPPORTUNITY

The Red Cross points out that the V.A.D. provides a good opportunity for women who are now at home, for officers' wives, and for young business women or school teachers who can give only a small portion of their time for service.

"In case of an epidemic, all schools and places of business would be closed anyway, therefore such workers would be invaluable."

After passing qualifications, and being examined by the advisory board, prospective V.A.D.'s must finally meet with the approval of the superintendent of nursing at the selected hospital.

Upon acceptance, she buys her own indoor uniform. Those who enter the R.C.A.M.C. are supplied with uniforms, board and lodging, laundry and transportation while on duty. If the aide remains in Canada, she receives a small remuneration, while if she is sent abroad, her salary is not to exceed $3.00 per day.

FINE CO-OPERATION

"The Alberta division of the Canadian Red Cross is most fortunate in obtaining excellent cooperation of nurses and schools of nursing in the province," Miss Mackenzie said. V.A.D. training was started in Holy Cross hospital and in Calgary General in that city this month.

Mrs. Ower will begin interviewing candidates here Monday, Nov. 2, at 2:30 p.m. Other scheduled hours are: Tuesday, Nov. 3, 10 a.m. till 1 p.m. and from 2:30 p.m.; Wednesday, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 2:30 p.m.

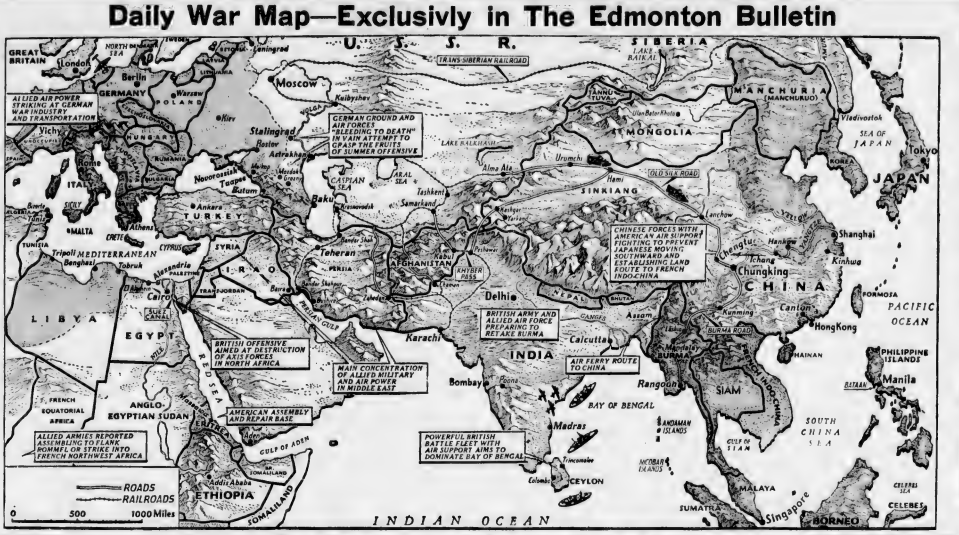

She will be assisted by Miss Mackenzie, who leaves next week for Saskatchewan. Miss Mackenzie is a graduate of the Montreal General hospital school of nursing, with present headquarters in Toronto.

an integrated censorship between United States and Canadian authorities.

He was keenly interested in the Bowmanville "incident", which he had not previously heard of. He agreed heartily with the suggestion there can be no differentiation between what is dangerous to Canada and what is dangerous to the United States at this time.

Of Alaska itself, Governor Gruening is very, very proud. In the past, far too many people thought Alaska was a vast wilderness of barren rock, snow and ice.

Actually Alaska has thousands and thousands of square miles of highly fertile land and some of the finest dairy herds in the world graze on the slopes of beautiful valleys in the lower portions of the territory.

Several hundred men and women from the dust bowl of the U.S., who went to Alaska during the depression years under federal government supervision, are now happy and prosperous.

This strange world war has changed many things and there are more and even greater changes to come. And Edmonton is truly at the crossroads of destiny as a result of the tremendous importance of Alaska and the whole northwestern area.

Several men, occupying leading places in the national affairs of many allied countries, have already visited Edmonton as a result of the Alaska highway and aerial route. There will be many more.

Police said Mrs. Bowman apparently shot her husband early Thursday, went on an automobile ride in the afternoon, and took her own life with the same pistol at 1 a.m. yesterday.

McCoy Health Service

In diabetes mellitus the body no longer burns sugar properly. This refers not only to sugar foods but also to the starches, which are changed by digestion into sugar.

The term "mellitus" means "honey" or "sweet" and diabetes means "to flow through." A liberal translation is "the flowing through of sugar," which is a good description of this disease, in which sugar is gotten rid of through the kidneys.

While diabetes is probably growing more common, it need not be as serious as it used to be. One reason for this is that we know more about treating the mild or moderate cases with diet, and another reason is that many cases can be managed with insulin.

Two types of diabetes are known, but the one which I shall discuss today is diabetes mellitus, the more serious disorder. This disease is most common in the fifties, is found more frequently among men than women, is most prevalent among those living in cities, and is often found among members of the Jewish race. It is 10 to 20 times more common among Jews than among Gentiles.

Diabetes may become dormant for years, and then suddenly become active. Sometimes it appears for the first time during pregnancy, and disappears after the baby is born. Sometimes it appears after an infection, such as influenza, or after a severe emotional shock, such as the death of a loved one.

Diabetes is a disease of metabolism, which means that it is a disease of the chemical changes which take place in the body. Normally, the body is able to change starches and sugars into a substance called glycogen, which is stored in the liver and muscles. When the body needs energy, the glycogen is changed back into sugar.

In diabetes, some of the cells which secrete insulin are damaged and as a consequence, the body loses some of its ability to burn sugar. Often a limited amount can be burned, but the patient will be unable to use the large amount of sugar and starch which he is in the habit of using.

In spite of the potential seriousness of this disease, it is often easily controlled in the average patient of middle age. If the proper dietary treatment is started in time, the symptoms do not grow any worse and may completely disappear. As a general rule, the sugar disappears from the kidney elimination while the patient is following a careful diet.

The War Today

By JOHN COLLINGWOOD READE

Broad Strategic Aim to Encircle Axis Powers

Yesterday I said that a much more realistic view of the military situation could be obtained by turning the globe around so that India appeared at the centre instead of the American continents. Today I have taken my own advice. The accompanying map embraces all the areas where the decisive battles must be fought. Unfortunately it is not quite large enough to include the Southwest Pacific, but Australia is really another island base, just as the United Kingdom itself.

As the great United Nations offensive begins to develop, the Axis powers will each be threatened with encirclement. In Middle East and Africa the United Nations are gradually creeping around the enemy. The first phase of the offensive would appear to be directed toward removing the Axis forces from the south shore of the Mediterranean entirely and bringing the whole of Africa, including French colonial and mandated territory, under the control of the United Nations.

It will then be seen that the enemy is threatened from three sides. To the east stands Russia, holding an unbroken line from the Arctic to the borders of Persia. There the Russian flank joins British-controlled territory, and the United Nations forces control a continuous area all around the Eastern Mediterranean coast to the present battle line west of El Alamein.

THREATEN GERMANS FROM SOUTH

If the present Egyptian offensive succeeds in its purpose and a new campaign is opened up in Northwest Africa, the United Nations will then extend their line continuously from El Alamein to the Strait of Gibraltar, and the whole Axis empire will then be threatened from the south. From the west, the Germans are threatened by Anglo-American land, sea and air forces based in the British Isles. This situation still appears to give Germany the advantage of working on interior lines of communication, while the United Nations are working from no particular centre around a very long perimeter.

But the more united these United Nations become, the more deceiving is this appearance. For military purposes, the Middle East is becoming a primary base, and Africa itself is a prolific source of military supplies of all kinds and will become so increasingly as the United Nations develop a completely integrated military economy.

Germany on the other hand, is finding her transportation problems aggravated by the growing ascendancy of Allied air power, and by the fact that the combined resources of the United Nations so far outweigh her own that when fully mobilized they are more than a match for German concentrations of power at any point on the perimeter of the Axis empire. This means that the Germans are compelled to be more mobile than they ever were, if they are to meet the threatened attacks which can be directed from so many quarters.

The might of Russia alone is sufficient to hold the great bulk of the German land forces and half the German air force. As the combined weight of the British Commonwealth and the United States is brought to bear against the south and west approaches to Nazi Europe, it is obvious that the German military potential will be strained to the uttermost, while the already overloaded transportation system will be incapable of maintaining the entire German military potential at the very extremities of what is now a very extensive empire.

The importance of the Middle East has been increased, until it is now the very nexus of Allied military power, by the entry of Japan into the war and her rapid initial successes. China bears about the same relation to Japan as does Russia to Germany. It is a big country with an enormous population and capable, if subsidized with weapons and machinery, of holding the bulk of the Japanese forces in engagement. Once again, we find that the Middle East with India offers an excellent base from which the enemy's flank, and the means of bringing Allied air power to bear against his sea power and transport.

THE ISSUE WITH INDIA

As with the enemies in the West, so it is with Japan in the east. Allied armies are already established on land masses from which the enemy can be threatened. In the case of the Pacific area of the war, simultaneous threats from opposite directions can be made from Australia, the Aleutians and Midway. Nevertheless, it is apparent that the bridge between East and West is also the main gathering point for United Nations power, and must be considered the advanced base for land and air power serving both theatres of war.

It is for this reason that the tangled problems of Hindu and Moslem must be regarded in the light of their bearing on the military situation and presenting an emergency which must be met. Much of the rioting and sabotage which have developed on a large scale in India bears the imprint of Japan. The very subtle agitation which Japan has been directing for many years produced deadly results in Malaya and Burma, where native non-cooperation or active insurrection greatly handicapped our forces. A small but powerful political junta is calling for freedom for India and organizing riots. Its cry is being echoed by august people in other lands.

What a spell is carried by the word "freedom," and how few people understand what a burden of responsibility it imposes. Freedom is not something that can be given and taken, like a cigaret. It is something which must be exercised, like a talent or faculty. One may prevent a child from playing the piano by forcible intervention, but the removal of repressive authority will not make the child to become an accomplished pianist.

MUST RESTORE ORDER

Another glance at the map will show that the vital military bridge to the Near and Middle East is occupied in its extremity by people of the Moslem faith. In the eastern extremity in the basin of the Ganges lie the centres of population most easily influenced by Hindu Nationalist propaganda. The two religious and racial groups are irreconcilable. It is very right and proper that all peoples of the world should be free to live according to their own standards and in harmony with their neighbors. The foreign yoke is always irksome, and should be removed. In these respects Mr. Willkie has made no mistake.

But human affairs are not a collection of facts. They are a set of relationships which produce certain results in the process of time. Because time is one of the factors involved, there are antecedent facts to be considered, as well as present ones, and consequent facts must be studied as well. Those unacquainted with the antecedent facts it is easy to create a profound distaste for the present facts, which they will be eager to alter by the most direct methods because they cannot envisage the consequent state.

Some means must be found of restoring order in India, even if the creation of a wholehearted spirit of co-operation is impossible, and intimidation is evidently not the way to do it. The trouble is that ignoring the past and preaching a lofty idealism which depicts the ends without devising the means brings the solution no nearer.

India cannot be handed over to Gandhi, nor to any group associated with him which combines political cunning with the mysticism of detachment. Gandhi is not the spearhead of a spontaneous popular movement which embraces most of India. He is a Mahatma—a cross between saint and sage—who has taught those who would describe him thus how to behave in the way he wants them to.

When one is about to confer freedom and self-determination upon a people one must find a repository of responsibility, and one must be sure that repository holds power in trust, not for some of the people, but for all of them. Else one is offering to exchange a disciplined and experienced tyranny for an incompetent and irresponsible tyranny, which is not a good exchange, and which leaves the inarticulate groups, the helpless and hostile minorities and those who find things satisfactory as they are, at the mercy of a devil who has been conjured up overnight.

By all means let the United States share with Britain the burden of solving India's political problem; let the Chinese and the Russians sit at the council table with equal voice. But let them also help in the responsibility both of devising and executing the plan decided upon. They will discover, in fact they will discovered, that no plan can be devised and therefore none executed which does not involve the very active co-operation of the various racial and religious groups in India. To enter into the field now would simply draw upon their heads the hate and malice which Britain must now suffer alone.

Failing a willingness to share with Britain the responsibility of working out a solution for the Indian problem, and admitting the fact that lack of political consciousness or a substantial basis of agreement makes it impossible to secure native co-operation, influential people in those countries should support whatever action the British government decides on, and support it wholeheartedly, in the interests of unity among Allies and the exigencies of a common military purpose.

Mr. Willkie has championed the right of the uninformed to express their opinions on matters of policy. He has exercised it freely himself, and cannot therefore complain if others tender their advice to him and urge him to refrain from inflammatory comment about policies involving responsibilities which neither he nor his supporters are prepared to share.

Observance of Silence Urged Armistice Day

OTTAWA, Oct. 31 — (CP) — Remembrance Day, Nov. 11, anniversary of the Armistice which ended the First Great War, is not being observed as a public holiday in Canada nor will it be so observed while the present conflict lasts, State Secretary McLarty said yesterday.

But the minister, in a prepared statement, said it was honed that the customary two minutes of silence at 11 a.m. on Nov. 11, which formed a part of peace time Armistice Day celebrations, would be observed where conditions make it possible without disruption of necessary war activities.

"It is also expected," the minister said, "that where they can be arranged without retarding essential war activities, short ceremonies of commemoration which have ordinarily been held on Remembrance Day at war memorials and cenotaphs may be held, and that as has been the custom, wreaths will be deposited."

Rural Districts Are Hard Hit by Doctor Shortage

TORONTO, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Some rural sections of Ontario and other provinces are bad, a pioneer conditions so far as medical attention is concerned, with no physician available to attend at births, Dr. Stanley Ryerson, assistant dean of the faculty of medicine at the University of Toronto, said in an interview here yesterday.

"The poor public in rural districts is suffering," said Dr. Ryerson. "It is only my personal view, but the time may come when the government will have to assign doctors to rural areas."

Dr. Ryerson said it may be necessary to assign doctors now in the armed services who are not required immediately for active duty to outlying districts in Ontario and the western provinces.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The necessity to get along with the persons who live in our homes or near us to becomes imperative when we recognize that if we are unable to solve the relationship or companionship tangles of our immediate circle, what chance have we of solving those more complex relationships of society which are national and international? The best most of us can do is to begin being diplomats at home. Use our tactics and our tactfulness on the neighbors. Those can be victories, too.

Mrs. L. wonders how neighbors can impose so on other neighbors. "I have had neighbor children eat one meal with us and then the mother, upon the child's pleading, has consented to let them stay a second meal. Neither the mother nor the child thanked me for these courtesies.

"I have had a neighbor who bundled up a child and sent him to my home with instructions to make him play inside as he was sick and feverish. And this neighbor knew my child was delicate.

"When a child has misbehaved in my home I have been honest and friendly and told the neighbor about it, but she has refused to believe that her child was guilty. Neighbors, when troubles have arisen, have asked the child instead of me. In which case the child has lied. I never ask a child a question when I am reasonably sure he is guilty and apt to lie."

These are flagrant examples of a neighbor's lack of consideration as well as of her very poor manners. One can hardly imagine any well-brought-up person failing to thank anyone for the pleasure of having a meal with her. If the child forgot that might be forgiveable, but not the parent.

In all these cases I believe you have allowed yourself to be imposed upon. Why would you hesitate to tell a mother that you did not want to be responsible for the care of a sick child? You could be frank about your fears that your child might suffer by exposure to the unknown illness.

You clearly do not expect 50-50 co-operation with your neighbors or you would expect your children to be invited to their homes for meals. It may be your attitude that none of these things is any trouble to you which inspires neighbors to take advantage of your kindness.

Your difficulty with the children's behavior might be handled more satisfactorily by dealing with the child alone and not bringing the mother into it. If children misbehave in your home then you should show your disapproval or send them home, for the time. But explanations to the parents are, unfortunately, often received in just this spirit.

Our leaflet, "Children's Quarrels," may be had by sending a 2-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Paraguay's population was reduced 80 per cent. during the five-year war of the Triple Alliance, 1865-70. The proportion of men to women at the end of the war was one to seven.

Raising Children Is Job for Both Parents

—By DOROTHY DIX

United Front Needed; Qualities of Two Complement Each Other; Father, Mother Should Avoid Conflict of Opinion

DEAR MISS DIX: Which parent, the father or mother, should rear the children in a family in which there are both boys and girls?

T. M. C.

Answer: It takes both a father and mother, working together, to bring up a family properly. It is a two-handed job that is too much for either a man or a woman to accomplish alone.

Children need a mother's love and tenderness, sympathy and understanding. They need her continuous physical care for their personal needs. They need a mother to kiss the spot and make it well when they get hurt. A mother to whom they can run for bread and jam when they are hungry. A mother to see that they are wrapped up when it is cold, and that they have dry shoes on when they come in when it is raining.

NEED MOTHER

A mother to tuck them in bed at night and say to them those last few words that sink into their subconscious minds and that deter mine the kind of men and women they are going to be when they are grown, and what they will do 20, 30, 40 years later in some crisis in their lives.

And they need a father to provide for them, a father to discipline them, a father to be firm with them, a father to whom they look up to as a fountain of wisdom. No man, no matter how hard he tries, can take a mother's place in his children. He has his work to do and can't be with them all day in their mother could, and when he is with them he doesn't know how to do the thousand little things for them that a mother does. There are no more piteous spectacles than that of men trying awkwardly and ineffectually to mother their motherless little broods.

Nor can any woman take a father's place, especially with boys. There comes a time when every boy outgrows his mother and when he has a contempt for her opinion and defies her authority. Later on when he is a grown man he may revere her wisdom, but there is an age when every little thing he asks women are fools because they don't know a baseball king's batting average and can't tell the make of every automobile at sight.

RESPECTS FATHER

But the boy respects his father because he knows the things that the boy is interested in. He is physically stronger than the boy and can enforce his commands instead of using moral suasion. Women are nearly always too strict or too lenient with boys and widows' sons are generally sissies or helions.

There should never be any conflict of authority between parents in rearing their children. They should present a united front, and there should be no appeal from mother's verdict to father's. Matters in which the children disagree should be discussed privately and some concerted plan of action agreed upon.

Lucky the children whose parents are broad-minded enough to do this and to give their youngsters the benefit of their combined wisdom.

DOROTHY DIX.

NIGHT OUT

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I have solved the amusement problem in this way: One night a week he stays at home and takes care of the baby while I go to a show with a lady friend, and one night a week he goes out and stays as late as he pleases. Now when he goes out it is all right, but when I come back at about 11 o'clock the first greeting I get is: "Here, take your kid. I'm worn out with him, and I am not going to stay in with him again."

And because my husband is so cross I can't tell him about the show, and it takes all of the pleasure out of the thing and I sit down and cry. Now what shall I do? Shall I take my night off? Or shall I stay at home because my husband doesn't want to bother with the baby?

A DISTRACTED MOTHER.

Answer: Now is the time to stand pat and resist your husband's attempt to put all of you ing in to it. Don't let anything make you give up your night out. You are entitled to it. If you you needed diversion and makes you a better and more cheerful wife and mother. And your husband will respect you far more if you stand up for your rights than if you lay down and let him make a doormat out of you.

Remind him that the baby is just as much his as he is yours, and it is just as much his duty to take care of him occasionally as it is your duty to take care of him all the time. And if two or three hours of nursing the baby wears him out, how does he expect a poor little kid of a girl to stand 24 hours of it?

But it is your fault that the baby is hard to take care of. If you were bringing it up properly, you would put it to bed in a room by itself and shut the door, and it would go to sleep and be no trouble to anybody. I know dozens of wise young mothers who are rearing their children that way. After their babies are tucked in their little beds at 7 o'clock, they are never heard of until the next morning.

If you have the firmness to do it, you can break your baby into the habit of going to sleep by itself and of lying quietly in its bed if it does wake up. If you don't do that, your husband will not object to staying at home with it. What gets on his nerves is having to deal with a spoiled youngster. And I don't blame him for that.

DOROTHY DIX.

WIFE KEEPS PEACE

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married a little more than a year and find that when my husband and I have a spat I have to do all the making up and apologize all over the place even when he is at fault. Otherwise he pouts and sulks. I am sick of always being the goat. What shall I do?

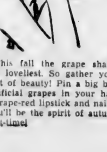

ALICE W.

Answer: Well, the easiest way out is to keep on being the goat. It will save time and wear and tear on your temper and nerves just to kiss and make it up instead of fighting it out.

After all, what does it matter? Every woman has to keep the peace, if it is kept, in the home and let her husband blame his faults on her and hold her responsible for his mistakes. The happy wife is she who lets him save his face that way, and who isn't too proud to say: "I'm sorry, let's make up and forget it."

The Chinese Have a Word for It

By Nellie McClung

WE CAN brace ourselves for anything if we hold firmly to the hope that when the war is over we will be able to lay the foundation for the world of our children. For where evenly man's homeland will be a place where people can work happily and enjoy the reward of their labors unafraid. Separation, loneliness, dangers, anxiety can all be borne, if we can be sure in our minds that these sacrifices are not in vain.

Now, of course, we are not sure of anything. Only the dead are sure. But life is in the making, and we can make a pledge as the Russian soldiers did, and we can pledges, that we will not fail in our part to bring in that better day, which will atone for this time of dreadful night.

DISMAL DOCTRINE

I do not know how it is going to be brought about, but I do wish there was some way to silence the people who spread the dismal doctrine that it will be better if neither side wins a decisive victory. I do not think the newspapers should give publicity to this sort of talk, no matter who utters it. I often think we pay too dearly for freedom of speech. I met a few days ago, a man who has scattered all around him the germs of discouragement. He knows exactly what is going to happen. All his news is bad news. The nations will fight until they are exhausted. Plague, pestilence and famine will take its toll, and it may be 50 years before the nations are ready to fight again; but they will revive and carry on where their ancestors left off, with greater and more powerful weapons. And this will go on until man succeeds in his own entire elimination, destroyed by his own hands. And the gentleman in question is not an enemy alien, or a Fifth Columnist—he is just a dismal dyspeptic, a carrier of woe; and like the people who carry typhoid germs, he does not appear to suffer from it himself. In fact, he seems to find a hearty satisfaction in hating everything that anyone else organized — the churches, the League of Nations, and the Parliament of Canada. And that man goes on living, while good men die every day.

CHEERFUL IMBECILITY

To aim at peace alone is dangerous. Like Mr. Micawber and many others, I belonged to peace organizations for many years. We studied books, made speeches, moved resolutions, figured how many students could be sent to college each year on the money spent on armaments; and after that spent a social hour in welcoming new members, and went home lifted up in spirit. (I wonder if we are not doing the same now which has this quality of cheerful imbecility?)

Peace is not the absence of war. Peace is a by-product of justice, fair laws, and firm but kindly authority. Peace is not a name one thing back of it. It is more than an idea, it is a well thought out and implemented system. We are glibly "the League of Nations was a good idea but it didn't work." No idea works by itself. Not even the Christian ethic. It has to be worked by earnest people—an idea is not a charm, or a philtre, or a magic carpet.

ARTISANS OF PEACE

"Blessed are the Peacemakers" has a new translation in French. "Blessed are the artisans of Peace," and that has more teeth in it. Even those of us who are not as much in the way of the services can be artisans of Peace, if that thought dominates our mind. We can help to uphold the highest traditions of our but precious. Man has always dreamed of a golden age, a better day—more food, more leisure, equality of opportunity. A few years ago there was much talk of self-determination, but that has faded out. Today we fight for the future of all people. We want security for our children and for all children.

Now all these cravings, desires and ambitions are derided by our enemy. If Hitler wins the common man will lose every advantage that he has won. He will be trampled under.

Science has put great weapons of death into our hands. When we go water the desert, tunnel a mountain, make all the clothes he needs, grow his food, make houses in a few days, books can be produced at will, music and poetry flow around the world. There need be no more drudgery. We can then be work for all and leisure for all, sports and hobbies for all. There are brains in man and in his machinery to carry it out. Just one think is lacking, and that is the desire for all men to serve each other's need.

STARTLING FIGURES

Someone figured it out the other day that, if when the war is over, we could go on spending on peace what we are now spending on war for just 16 days, we could clothe feed, shelter and educate all the people in the world. It sounded like Eldorado. It seems that the only thing we lack is a moral substitute for the war spirit. We can move people with war slogans—"Scrap to lick the Japs," "Heavier taxes to beat the Axis," and send out lovely ladies to roll War Bonds while the band plays, "We did it before, and we can do it again."

But how can we get a great, compelling, rousing spirit to magnetize and vitalize our peace? Just as the war is over, to go out and build the happy world which will atone for all this sorrow and suffering? Surely it is time for more fun and a better glory to build than to destroy. But how can we put that over?

'WORKING TOGETHER'

A great troubling the waters, at this moment. The churches are roused. Little bands of men and women are getting together all across Canada, studying the great Christian principle of co-operation: firm in the belief that men must help each other or perish. The same spirit accounts for the gallant resistance of the Chinese. They have a word for it. They call it "working together." It is just as simple as that. Why do we find it so hard to learn?

Points For Parents

By EDYTH THOMAS WALLACE

Father: "There's something you neglected to do before you came to the table, Son. We'll excuse you while you wash your hands and comb your hair."

Mother: "Don't send Billie away from the table to wash. It makes him sulky all the rest of the meal and after all, a happy meal time is what's important."

Parents sometimes think a choice between two misdemeanours is indicated when neither one should be permitted.

WARDROBE FORESIGHT

Next summer's wardrobe may depend to a large extent on just how well this last summer's clothes have been cherished. Packing garments away correctly is therefore important. Unless clothing is absolutely unusuable, do save it. Garments that are not washable should be dry-cleaned. Those that may be laundered, should be washed carefully, mended, buttons and fasteners of any kind replaced. Clothing which is to be worn as is, but part of which may be used in combination with some other material in the future, should be pressed and usable sections stored. The old-fashioned scrap bag is important again. Do not starch. Pressing lightly before packing away makes neater storing.

Use Gelatine Salads to "Dress Up" Leftovers

Debunker

Most people believe that the Bible mentions only the sons of Adam and Eve, but this is merely because the stories of their sons, Cain, Abel and Seth, have become so well-known. But Genesis 5:6 states: "And the days of Adam after he had begotten Seth were eight hundred years; and he begat sons and daughters." The number of children born to Adam and Eve is not stated in the Bible. The account implies that Cain, Abel and Seth married their own sisters, though some scholars believe other races of mankind were already on earth and Adam's sons could have married wives from them.

Vivid Indian Rug You Weave Easily

Warp Is Candlewick or String

In black and white, or dark green and vermilion, it could also be a striking living-room rug. And the whole thing, 24½ by 33 inches, is made simply and quickly of candlewick and muslin, on a home-made wooden frame. Our rug booklet gives directions.

To warp the frame—that is, prepare it for weaving—drive 87 small nails, ¾ inch apart, into each of the short sides.

Tie black or green candlewick yarn (or dyed string) to lower right corner of loom and wind it up and down around the nails, as shown in our sketch. First and last nails have a double warp for selvage.

For the Navaho pattern just follow the diagram in our 32-page booklet. Has complete directions for making Navaho rug and frame; also shows, with diagrams, how to make many beautiful hooked, crocheted, pile, braided and other popular rugs.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "How to Make Your Own Rugs" to Home Service, The Edmonton Bulletin, 60 Front Street West, Toronto, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

What To Do

Ladies, the surest way to attract men to you is to be a good hostess. You need not pull out the best silver, and the heirloom china to achieve this — just make the man feel comfortable and above all make him feel important.

Give a few minutes thought to your guests before they arrive and you've won the battle. Keep a notebook on the likes and dislikes of the people you entertain. They will be flattered to see that you remember their preference in food and drink.

Never apologize when something goes wrong—be sure you can make good coffee, and above all—relax. The men will like the atmosphere you have created—and so will your women guests.

"Dress Up" Leftovers

By MRS GAYNOR MADDOX

Every scrap of food is important. Waste nothing. A few pieces of cheese, some snips of ham, sections of fruit, are all valuable foods. Refrigerate them well and use not as leftovers, but as "food on hand." That's the way to keep your family well fed despite rationing and high costs and scarcity due to transportation and labor shortage.

These simple gelatine salads use leftovers deliciously.

HAM CHEESETTES

(Serves 5 to 6)

One quarter cup cold water, ¼ can condensed tomato soup, 1 envelope plain gelatine, ½ package cream cheese, ¼ cup salad dressing or mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ cup ground left-over boiled or baked ham.

Combine soup with ½ cup water and heat. Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve in hot soup. Mash cheese and blend in mustard and lemon juice. Add soup to cheese mixture, slowly, stirring constantly. Cool; when mixture begins to thicken, fold in mayonnaise or salad dressing and ground ham. Turn into individual molds that have first been rinsed in cold water. Unmold on crisp salad greens and serve with extra dressing.

COTTAGE CHEESE MOLD WITH FRUIT

(Serves 6 to 8)

One envelope plain gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, 2 cups cottage cheese, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ cup cream or whole milk, 2 cups diced fruits.

Soften gelatine in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Mash cheese very fine or put through sieve. Add seasonings, cream or milk, and dissolved gelatine. Turn into individual ring molds for one larger one that have been rinsed in cold water. Unmold. Use fruits, salad and fill centers with diced fruits. Serve with mayonnaise.

"Y" Executives Speak Highly Alberta Clubs

"Alberta has taken the lead among the western provinces in establishing nationally authorized Y.W.C.A. Hostess Houses for the three services,' stated Mrs. J. L. Savage, chairman of the War Services Committee of the National Y.W.C.A., who with Mrs. A. U. Sanderson, in charge of personnel for the Y.W.C.A. Hostess Houses across the Dominion, arrived in Edmonton Saturday morning, on a Dominion-wide inspection tour. Mrs. Savage and Mrs. Sanderson were interviewed at the Macdonald hotel on Saturday.

Up to one year ago, Alberta had no nationally authorized Y.W.C.A. Hostess Houses at all, and in 12 months has established five such dwellings, with two of them now in operation, and the promise of the other three to be opened before Christmas, the women explained.

COMFORT OF PERSONNEL

These Houses, operating with the main purpose to provide entertainment and comfort for the service personnel, serve also as a bureau of information, a meeting place for civilians and service members, and, in cases of emergencies, such as serious injury or illness, will provide overnight accommodation for close relatives, Mrs. Sanderson stated.

Operating under the direction of the National Council Y.W.C.A., the organizations will locate living quarters for the wives and families of service men, and conduct organized clubs and educational classes for these dependents. It is one of the five auxiliary services subsidized by the Dominion government to work with the troops and for their dependents.

Complete with recreation rooms, rest rooms and canteen services, these houses are entirely staffed, stored and supervised by selected personnel, chosen from applications sent to the head office at Toronto, by women between the ages of 35 and 55. Close co-operation with the liaison officer of each province whose duty it is to conduct a personal interview, with each recommended applicant, enables the senior staff to select a suitable person for each individual job.

OVERSEAS HOSTEL

First "overseas" leave hostel to be established, is at Newfoundland, where it is expected the new building will be completely finished within the next month, and open for service to the men there.

In Victoria and Vancouver, as in all other basic training centres across the Dominion, Hostess Houses are operating, with a view of offering a place of friendship to all men and women in uniform, and to acquaint them with the privileges and opportunities offered to them by the "Y," at other advanced training centres.

Today, the blue triangle sign placed outside the door of the Hostess House, is a nationally recognized symbol of friendship, help, kindness and understanding.

Alberta Woman Owner and Editor Of Weekly Paper

CHINOOK, Alta., Oct. 31. — Mrs. Margaret Nicholson, 76, owner and operator of the Chinook Advance a weekly newspaper published every Thursday in this Alberta town, 195 miles northwest of Calgary gets out the paper single handed.

Mrs. Nicholson gathers all the news that fills the four pages and the advertisements that bring the paper revenue. She writes the editorials and then sets it all in type.

Arthur Nicholson, her husband, started The Advance in 1914. He died in 1920 leaving the paper to his wife. A short time after Mrs. Nicholson rented the paper out but took it back again in 1937 and since that time has operated it.

All the type in Mrs. Nicholson's print shop is set by hand. While she has never timed herself she says she can just set a column of type very quickly "for after all I have been doing it for 15 years."

Mrs. Nicholson learned the business from printers she employed in the early years of operating the weekly. She said she has no thought of retiring for awhile. In addition to her multitude of tasks getting out a paper single handed, she finds time to help the citizens of the town and surrounding district. Her newspaper office is a bureau of information and sometimes farmers call on her to write their business letters.

Women Factory Workers Are Found Better Than Men in Britain

By FOSTER BARCLAY

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Women and young girls employed in Britain's busy and dangerous factories are safer workers than most men and boys.

Accidents to women showed a "startling" increase during 1941, but there was no evidence women were more prone to accidents than men, according to a report issued by Sir Wilfred Garnett, chief inspector of factories.

"The general impression of inspectors is the reverse," said the report. "After a period of special liability to cuts and bruises in the breaking-in stages, women are, for work within their strength, neater, tidier and therefore safer workers than most men. And girls are not so foolhardy as boys of similar age."

FACTORY CASUALTIES

Fatal accidents during 1941 totalled 1,646, an increase of 20 per cent. over 1940, while non-fatal accidents numbered 269,652, an increase of 17 per cent. These figures include 42,857 killed or injured women. Thus oge in 20 men met with an accident, one woman in 56, one boy in 19 and one girl in 56.

The report urged that every factory should have a "safety committee" of workers and management to organize accident prevention and emphasized that if maximum production was to be obtained good conditions and reasonable working hours also were essential. "A good deal has to be spent in convincing even some other government departments that this is so," said the report, which also warned against reducing light and heat in factories to conserve fuel.

"Very serious pressure to reduce the heating in factories this winter ban be expected" it continued. "This would mean a drop in production out of all proportion to the fuel saved, quite apart from the lowering of vitality of the workers. Women cannot handle small metal parts with skill and pace if their fingers are numb with cold."

RISKY HAIR-DOS

The modern style of hair dressing was cited as one reason for accidents among women. More than 175 were caused by hair becoming entangled in moving machinery. One girl, for instance, who suffered a minor scalp wound, refused to wear a cap because it would make her hair look like a "fright."

The report suggested that women adopt the severe coiffure of Russian women workers which keeps hair under the cap and thus reduces the risk from straying curls.

City Arranges Parties Galore For Hallowe'en

By BETH HALLMAN

Hallowe'en Eve is here! That celebrated occasion when witches ride through the skies on their broomsticks, and goblins and ghosts cast all manner of black magic on unsuspecting persons; the time when you and I will shudder at the mere rustle of the window blind, and jump at the sight of a grinning orange jack-o-lantern staring into the blackness of the night; this is the holiday to be observed in Edmonton tonight, where war-time illnesses will not cast a damper on the frolics planned by young and old.

So Saturday night, the eve of ghosts and pumpkins and witches will be celebrated in a variety of ways.

One of the gayest and brightest events of the holiday, will be the weekly square dance, held in the main dining room at the Macdonald hotel, where we are told, guests may expect shadows from the cobwebs to roam at free will throughout the course of the evening.

Another gala evening's entertainment is promised at the first of the Y.W.C.A. dances to be held this season, when members of the Leaguers' Corps and Gamma Sigma Gamma will present "Black Magic," a Hallowe'en frolic, to take place in the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium, Saturday night. The program dances have been named, and include such spine-tingling items as "Skeleton Scuffle" "Bony Bounce", "Witches Wiggle" and "Black Cat Capers". The affair is for mid-forties dancing and will be from 9 p.m. until midnight. Patrons are Mrs. E. P. Wellwood, Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Johns and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Godson.

For the men in uniform, the annual Hallowe'en party and dance sponsored by the United War Services Club, and held in the Hostess House, Y.M.C.A., will be the popular affair of the evening, on Saturday. This year, as of previous, the Elizabeth Mowat Chapter, I.O.D.E., has charge of arrangements.

Another Hallowe'en dance arranged by the South Edmonton Battalion, Veteran's Volunteer Reserve, will be held in the Scona Hall on 103rd Whyte Avenue, Saturday, and all proceeds will be donated to the ladies' Auxiliary, to be used to provide comforts for the men in the armed services.

No. 4 I.T.S. will be the scene of a special staff dance, commemorating Hallowe'en night. This affair is being sponsored by the ladies' Auxiliary to No. 4 I.T.S. and will be held in the Normal School gymnasium.

A tea, arranged by the Faculty Women's Club of the University of Alberta to be held in place of their fall meeting, will take place in the senior common room of the Arts building, Saturday from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Guests of honor will be the wives of new members of the faculty, and new lady members of the faculty. This is only one of the many occasions being arranged this week-end on the campus.

Many of the students will be entertained at an informal dancing party, to be held in Convocation Hall on Saturday evening. This will mark the first of the regular fortnightly house dances, sponsored by the Students' Union. Dancing will take place between the hours of 8 p.m. and 11:45 p.m.

Not to be outdone by the Hallowe'en dancing party, the members of the Outdoor Club and their guests gathered at the Tuck Shop Friday evening for their annual hayride, ending up at the club's cabin, where a roaring fire and outdoor refreshments greeted the guests, in true Hallowe'en style.

These activities, and many others still unmentioned, will be the celebrated features in Edmonton over the week-end.

In loving memory of our dearly beloved husband and father, Norman Ruby, who departed this life on Oct. 31, 1936.
Time shows on, seven years have passed
Since death its gloom, its shadow cast
Within our home where all seemed bright
And took from us a shining light.
We miss you still and always will,
It's a vacant place there is none to fill.
Down here we mourn, but not in vain,
For up in heaven we will meet you again.
—Sadly missed by your loving Wife Rudolph and Marianne.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Oct. 31—(AP)—Selected stocks, led by steels and rails, got another grip on recovery today and market favorites finished the week and the month tilting upward by fractions to a point or so. Lessening of tension over the outcome of the Solomons battle did much to prop sentiment. Transfers for the two hours were around 300,000 shares.

Only Few Sales On Wheat Mart

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31—(CP)—Only a few sales were completed in the wheat pit of Winnipeg grain exchange on the short Saturday session. Mills were credited with the purchases, all in the December position. Prices closed unchanged, October at 90 cents a bushel and December at 90⅝.

The pit was deserted most of the session. Export sales of Canadian wheat yesterday and today were estimated at around 500,000 bushels, all to the United Kingdom.

In the cash wheat market, terminals showed a little interest in No. 1 Northern and mills were after No. 2 Northern.

In the coarse grain pit, shippers offered a little support in oats and barley. Large interests were after barley.

Country marketings at Winnipeg yesterday totalled 1,682,000 bushels compared with 1,737,000 bushels a year ago. Grain inspections amounted to 60 cars against 600 a year ago.

Felt Siding Aids In Home Building

A new low-cost siding that eliminates painting is providing a help in the erection of homes for war workers. This siding, made in large sheets, looks like colorful asphalt shingles, for it has the same granular type of surface. It is made of two sheets of heavy roofing felt, saturated with an asphaltic compound and held together with an asphalt-type adhesive. The final operation is another coating of asphalt into which are imbedded the mineral granules, which give the surface a rough, pebbly look.

The panels can be attached to any type of sheathing. In comes of a temporary nature they can be applied directly to the studs if they are on sixteen-inch centres.

The weatherproof panels are 3/16 inch thick and come in 3 and 4-foot widths and five lengths: 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 feet. The granule surface colors now available are buff and brown, but the material can be obtained in other colors if a large quantity is needed.

Canadian As Our Rock Ribbed Shores

The quaint simplicity of the kind of home which dots the New England coast, is embodied in this two-story house, planned for completeness, with cellar and garage. As the plan in this illustration makes clear, every foot of space has been utilized to the best possible advantage, resulting in economical use of comparatively small plot area.

New Blackout Shatterproof Shade Takes Important Place in Home

A new blackout and shatter screen which keeps broken glass from scattering in an air raid has been announced.

Tests were made on fifteen types of material. It was found that materials which allowed air to pass through, but which were strong enough to stop and sieve out the shattered glass, solved the problem best. The new screen is of such a material.

It is a porous blanket made up of sixteen layers of black flame-proof expanded fiber and four layers of the same material in a light color. It provides the three functions essential in a blackout screen. It will black out, stop glass and provide ventilation.

This blanket mounted in a light frame may be attached to the inside of windows and glass doors. The construction of the blanket differs from other glass stoppers in that it is designed to be resilient enough to allow the pressure front of an explosion to pass through its mesh with little resistance. It looks like "blanket type" insulation.

MOUNTING REQUIREMENTS

Since the material comes in rolls, it lends itself to individual mounting requirements. It can be mounted on a roller, like a porch shade, with huge springs placed at the sides of the windows to hold the edges of the blanket down during blackouts. It can be installed on a standard window screen, and when not being used the frames can be taken off the hinge hangers.

You can easily make your own blackout shades with this material, for it can be cut with large hand shears. Its dark side is designed to face the street and its light side the room.

Another advantage of the blanket is its light weight. Material to equip a window 42 by 72 inches weighs about five and a half pounds.

New Type Paint is Good Preservative

The heavy rains this summer have left most cellars in a not-too-dry condition. Such an atmosphere is conducive to mildew growth. If you are storing awnings in the cellar this winter, guard them against the ravages of mildew by painting them with a canvas preservative. This preservative is a pigmented compound which saves the fabric soft and pliable, and awnings can be rolled up without danger of cracking.

The preservative is an essential if your awnings are old, because they are irreplaceable; and it assures a longer life if the awnings are fairly new. On new canvas, where the colors are still fresh, use the clear variety of the compound. If you want to give awnings a different face, there is a choice of eleven colors.

The paint can be applied with either brush or spray. One quart will cover about sixty square feet, but old awnings are more porous and may take more paint. The manufacturer especially suggests it for convertible car tops. Naturally it won't repair bad holes. Have bad holes patched, then apply a coat of this compound and the top will look incredibly improved. All the colors are sunfast.

Tax Collections for the nine months total $3,560,659.68, an increase of $115,494.17 over a year ago, which itself constituted a record up to that date.

The bank overdraft has at last been entirely eliminated, and as at 30th September there was a credit balance of $274,063.76.

Sales of Tax Sale Lands and Properties for the nine months were $205,010.43, as against $182,534.05 a year ago.

Building Permits to 30th September were $2,799,935.00 as compared with $2,258,128.00 for the same period last year. Included in the 1942 figures was $949,675.00 covering 435 new dwellings. In view of the scarcity of certain building materials, and the restrictions necessarily imposed by the Dominion Government under extreme war conditions, this compares very favourably with the 456 dwellings constructed during the same period last year.

Bank Clearings to 30th September this year have increased by $39,294,945.00 and constitute the largest percentage increase of any city in Western Canada.

The gross revenues of the Utilities to 30th September were $4,083,826.71, an increase of $366,109.01, or 9.8% over the same period last year.

Street Railway passengers have increased from 12,226,962 to 14,958,720.

Power output sold is 62,174,400 K.W.H., an increase of 5,624,000 K.W.H. over last year, or 9.9%.

The population has increased from 93,924 to 95,725, excluding transients and military personnel.

The value of the City's assessment has increased by $1,345,515.00, the third consecutive substantial increase. A new Administration Building was erected at the Airport, at a cost of approximately $85,000. This building has been constructed on a self-supporting basis, and the total cost should be recovered within a ten-year period.

The most important event during the present year was the elimination of the bank overdraft. When it is recalled that the overdraft at 31st December, 1937, was over $2,000,000.00, this represents a very substantial achievement, an average betterment of over $400,000.00 per annum. Not only will the bank charges be very materially reduced, but it is now possible for the first time to place all Guarantee Deposits amounting to $186,266.60 in trust with the Sinking Fund Board.

This year the City of Edmonton, through its Sinking Fund Board, invested $125,000.00 in the last Victory Loan, and contemplates the investment of at least a further $200,000.00 in the present Loan.

Under ordinary circumstances the balance of surplus tax collected could be utilized each year in redeeming the City's outstanding Debentures by calling them in, but unfortunately so many of them carry the U.S. premium of 11% that it would make it unprofitable to do so. Under the Refunding Plan the City each year is retiring its Debenture Debt by upwards of $700,000.00 by means of purchase on the open market, but it is becoming increasingly difficult to do this, as the City's Debentures now represent such a sound investment that the present owners are holding them. When the Refunding operation went into effect as at 1st February, 1937, it was possible to buy Edmonton bonds at as low as 68c on the dollar, and in the interval $3,213,501.85 have been so bought, at a cost of $2,924,291.72, but with the improvement in the City's position, consequent upon the stabilization of its finances, they have now risen to a yield better than par 5%. The following statement furnished by the City Treasurer represents the transactions of debt retirement during this period 1937-1942.

CANCELLATIONS

	Amount Redeemed	At a Cost of
1937	$ 204,492.52	$ 188,221.63
1938	463,307.74	384,294.25
1939	519,853.28	431,224.85
1940	632,646.24	588,501.29
1941	632,989.08	592,240.67
1942	693,702.06	673,298.10
	$3,146,990.92	$2,857,780.79
Add 1937 Maturities held by Sinking Fund	66,510.93	66,510.93
	$3,213,501.85	$2,924,291.72

This is very substantial progress, but the City has still a long way to go before its total General Debenture Debt is down to the average for Canadian cities, which is only added incentive to reduce it as rapidly as possible, by all available funds. The balance of the funds still remaining unrealized in the Sinking Fund as at 30th September last was of the nominal value of $4,594,092.80 which if they could be sold at anywhere near par would reduce the outstanding debentures on General Debt account by more than 20%, but evidently some other Municipalities, School Boards and Provinces have not made the effort that this City has in rehabilitating their finances, and Edmonton suffers thereby to the extent of $72,000.00 annually.

Tax Collections

The collection of taxes, current and arrears, to 30th September, were $3,560,659.68, which is a further increase of $115,494.17 over last year's record. As a comparison the tax collections for the same period in 1939, the first year of the war, were only $3,179,290.14, with a 2½ mill higher tax levy. It is regrettable that it took a world war to make such startling changes in the City's finances, and its relative prosperity.

Three years ago Unemployment Relief cost the City $349,344.89, and at 1st October, 1939 there were 7,405 persons receiving Unemployment Relief, while in the present year the cost will not exceed $25,000.00, and there were only 27 persons in receipt of such relief as at 1st October last.

Today there are over 1,500 employees at the Aircraft Repair Plants, while the Edmonton Packing Plants are producing almost one quarter of the total bacon quota for Britain. Airport facilities and operations have expanded to a remarkable degree, and the construction of the Alaska Highway, and other northern projects have caused a large influx of workers into the City, and the effect of all these changes is that the bank clearings for this city lead the whole of Western Canada in percentage increase. These developments hold promise of becoming the important stabilizing factors in Edmonton's future progress.

Tax Sale Lands

It was anticipated at the beginning of the present year that there would be a falling off in the sale of vacant lands, due to the increasing difficulties of obtaining building supplies, and, in a lesser degree, to scarcity of labour, but up to the end of September, the sales have been appreciably greater than last year, the increase being $22,476.38. With the ever increasing war effort, and the great need for supplies for its prosecution, the restrictions on private building are becoming more onerous and this is bound to be reflected in the land sales from now on. $341,575.00 has been added to the active tax rolls as a result of the sales so far this year, which, together with the value of the improvements effected thereon will add materially to the 1943 revenue.

Unemployment Relief

After thirteen years, during which time it cost the City over $4,130,000.00 (of which $1,200,000.00 had to be capitalized) Unemployment Relief has practically ceased to exist. It is to be hoped that if it ever becomes necessary again, that it will be recognized as a national responsibility, and not one of local government, as the limited taxing authority of the latter was not designed to cope with such extraordinary social upheavals.

Housing Accommodation

This is undoubtedly the most troublesome problem confronting the civic administration. Due to this City's strategic situation, many war efforts, both directly and indirectly, have converged upon it, which has caused the influx of large numbers of temporary residents, the result being a housing shortage of acute proportions, as the large number of dwellings being constructed each year is more than needed for the ordinary net increase in population. The situation is further complicated by the residence here of the wives and families of members of the armed forces from outside points. In an endeavour to alleviate the difficulty, an appeal has been made to the Dominion Government, through Wartime Housing Ltd., for the construction of a number of houses under their authority, and it is hoped to hear shortly that the appeal has been granted.

Airport Development

Many improvements have been effected at the Municipal Airport during the present year, including enlargement of the field and a new North-South concrete runway, and the widening of the existing runways. With the exception of the new Administration Building, the work has been undertaken by the government to meet the ever increasing demand for accommodation and servicing.

City Architect and Building Inspector

Despite many restrictions, building has again been active in the city during the present year, and an outstanding item is the comparatively large number of dwellings which have been erected. The total permits taken out during the nine months ended 30th September, amount to $2,799,935.00, compared with $2,258,128.00 for the same period last year. The comparison for dwellings is 435 units, which is only 21 less than last year, when the restrictions had hardly begun to be effective. The Building Inspector reports the following summarization:

BUILDING PERMITS TO SEPTEMBER 30th, 1941-1942

	1941		1942
No.	Class	Value	No.	Value
9	Public Buildings	$ 232,795.00	13	$1,156,450.00
42	Commercial Buildings	204,265.00	23	210,600.00
3	Apartment Buildings	54,400.00	2	21,500.00
859	Alterations and Repairs	716,732.00	831	441,120.00
350	Dwellings ($1,000.00 and up)	952,305.00	365	911,845.00
106	Dwellings (under $1,000.00)	60,345.00	70	37,830.00
230	Miscellaneous	37,225.00	211	40,590.00
1599		$2,258,128.00	1515	$2,799,935.00

The following are some of the larger permits issued during the year:

Metropolitan Church	$ 40,000.00
Dept. of Transport, Hangar & Accessory Buildings	350,000.00
Dept. National Defence, Airport Buildings	526,000.00
Dept. National Defence, Q.M. Stores & Recreation Bldg.	25,000.00
Canada Packers Ltd., extensions	80,000.00
City of Edmonton—Administration Building	85,000.00
City of Edmonton—Power Plant . . . Water Basin	43,700.00
Alberta Provincial Govt. addn. to Hospital	88,000.00
Alberta Provincial Govt. Infirmary	20,100.00

An outstanding item of some significance to this city was the erection of the new Administration Building. The building was designed and its construction supervised by the City Architect, and officially opened on October 21st. Besides filling a long felt want in the matter of convenience to the travelling public, and the operating staffs connected with the airport, it has added considerably to the appearance of the airfield, and this will be particularly noticable when the grounds and approaches are completed early next summer.

Safety and Health

During the first nine months of this year the general health of the citizens has shown improvement over the same period in 1941. Births have increased by over a hundred, while deaths decreased by almost a like number. Infant deaths have remained at a low level, reflecting efficient medical care and the value of preventive clinics.

At the Baby and Pre-School Clinic, 4,800 children were given physical examination and health supervision. More than 2,000 home visits were made by nurses in maintaining this supervision.

Serious communicable disease has remained at a minimum. Number of visits made for investigation and control of such disease were 1,110. Sixteen hundred children were given protection against diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough or smallpox in the Health Department Office.

Over 18,000 inspections were made by our sanitary staff to date, and the excellent result indicates a whole-hearted co-operation by the majority of citizens.

Much diseased meat has been prevented from reaching citizens by the veterinary inspectors.

The high standard of safety in the city milk supply has been maintained by constant inspection fo all dairy farms and dairies. During this year 7,509 samples of milk have been collected and analysed for purity and quality. Other foodstuffs have been inspected regularly in factories and stores.

The Department urges that all citizens use the available public health services freely as a protection to the good health of themselves and their famlies.

Fire

The following is a comparison of Fire Calls answered by the Fire Department to the end of September, 1942, and the same period in 1941, also Adjusted Loss:

	FIRE CALLS ANSWERED	ADJUSTED LOSS
1942	543	$237,889.05
1941	864	$132,249.19

The Department installed a 250 gallon water Tank Truck under pressure. This was built by the Department. The new fire hall on 118th Avenue near 66th Street was completed and is now in operation.

Police

Generally speaking crime conditions throughout the City have not been acute and with only very few instances of major crime.

The Force is at present two below the established strength. In addition to ordinary resignations and retirements there are fourteen members who have enlisted in the Armed Forces since the outbreak of war.

The best of co-operation has been received from the R.C.M.P. and units of the armed forces. Such co-operation has materially assisted in the maintenance of law and order within the City and in keeping down crime.

UTILITIES

All the Civic Utilities are finding increasing difficulty in obtaining materals necessary for adequate mantenance, but generally speakng they have carried on to date without hardship.

There has been a very considerable increase in business but any resulting betterment has been largely offset by increased costs of labour and matrial.

Power Plant and Pumping Plant

The increase in energy delivered to the City was 9.9% as against 6.95% for the similar period in 1941.

The increase in total energy generated was 37.3%. The major part of this increase is due to the energy transmitted over the lines of the Calgary Power Company, for essential War industries in the Southern Part of the Province.

Reserve set aside for new extension and renewals was $207,000.00 against $150,000.00 for the same period last year. To date $694,779.67 has been paid on the $750,000.00 New Plant Extension, out of extension reserve.

The new building extension was completed in March, 1942. The new boiler is completed and is now operating on acceptance test, and the condensor for the new turbine is at present being installed.

Work on the new clear water storage reservoir was commenced in May and will be completed this month.

Electric Light and Power Distribution

Sales of current have increased by 4,831,200 K.W. Hours during the nine months; the comparative figures being 49,801,200 K.W. Hours against 44,970,000 K.W. Hours. There is every indication that this increase will be maintained until the end of the year.

Work is proceeding on a Duct Line from the Power Plant along 103½ Lane to 99th Avenue, with a branch off at 97th Avenue running to 101st Street.

No Street Lamps have been installed this year, owing to Dominion Government restrictions on extensions.

Considerable work has been done during the nine months at the Airport, where extensions and changes of pole line, aerial wires and fittings and underground cable have been made at the Air Observers School, North West Air Lines, United States Army, and the new Administration Building.

Government restrictions now in force and others anticipated, will curtail much new work which the general public might expect. In viewing the whole situation it is satisfactory to note that the Department has maintained its activities in all other sections during the last nine months.

Street Railway

The nine month period shows a very remarkable increase in the number of passengers carried, the total to the end of September being 14,958,720 compared with 12,226,962 for the same months in 1941, a total increase of 2,731,758 or 22.34%. A much greater rate of increase is expected during the Winter months.

To cope with the heavy increase in traffic a system of skipping of stop streets was instituted early in April. 183 stops were eliminated. On May 3rd the service on all routes was speeded up giving a twelve minute base schedule on all main lines which has worked out very satisfactorily, but naturally this faster schedule has resulted in increased mileage and higher operating costs, the Power charges alone being up approximately $1,000 per month and the increase in mileage travelled is in excess of 30,000 miles per month since May.

The total mileage operated during the 9 month period was 2,209,944 as against 2,028,722 last year, an increase of 181,222 miles.

The three new Trolley Coaches which have been on order for some considerable time were finally delivered from England and after testing and painting had been completed in our own shop, were placed in service, making a very valuable addition to our fleet and releasing other bus equipment for much needed overhaul. Three more Trolley Coaches are on order and delivery is expected before the end of the year.

Telephone Department

The total number of Telephones in Service as at September 30th, 1942, was 21,848, which is an increase of 1,085 over the corresponding period of last year. Many applications for service are on hand due to lack of facilities caused by shortage of materials created by existing war conditions. It is expected that many of these applicants will be able to procure service when installation of new sub-office equipment, now at hand, is completed.

A 500 Line Addition to sub-office equipment has just been completed in the West Exchange and a 700 Line Addition is being completed in the Main Exchange. Further additions of 500 Lines of sub-office equipment in each of the North and South Exchanges will be completed in the near future.

The only outside Cable Extensions completed this year have been in connection with Airport Development and other business essential to the requirements of the Armed Services and to Agencies related to the war program of the U.S.A.

The Metal Controller for the Dominion Government has ordered a rigid conservation of materials which enter into the manufacture of Telephone Plant and equipment, and as a result of this order, it will not be possible for us to extend wire facilities in some congested districts, unless additonal cables are necessary for essential Military Services.

Waterworks

Following are a few comparisons for the first nine months of 1942 against the same period in 1941:

Cash Revenue	Up 3%
Total Expenditure on current account	Up 2%
Water sold	Up 5%
No. of new customer's accounts	Up 4%

Extensions of new watermains on Government account for war purposes have been fairly considerable, but for City account they have been practically eliminated.

Renewal of existing piping has been cut to the minimum possible, with a view to conserving materials, both ferrous and non-ferrous.

The shortage of metals is making it very difficult to obtain certain requirements and now that our stocks, bought late in 1941 and early 1942, are mostly depleted it may be impossible to replenish some of them.

The operations in general, to a rapidly increasing extent, are being hedged in by the Governmental prohibitions and restrictions, necessary to wartime conditions. In all regulations however the protection of public health and safety is provided for.

Engineering Department

The following information is given concerning operations in the Engineering Department.

Generally speaking this has been a rather difficult year due to labor and material shortages and much heavier than usual rainfall.

PUBLIC WORKS

The maintenance of public works was carried out as routine except for the difficulties mentioned above. In the capital programme the following projects were constructed:

A concrete pavement and storm drainage were constructed on Rowland Road from 90th Street to 95th Street.

2.73 Miles of plank walk were constructed, including walks on arterial roads such as the Calgary Trail, Fort Trail and 118th Avenue. An additional six blocks of concrete walk in the centre of the City were replaced at a cost of $14,403.00.

2.69 Miles of grading and gravelling were constructed on streets and lanes together with incidental concrete curbing and boulevards in various parts of the City.

SEWERS AND DRAINAGE

During the Summer there were two very heavy rain storms causing serious flooding of buildings in some districts.

Half a mile of sewer mains was constructed. The tunnel sewer and laterals serving McKernan Lake and 105A Street (Rupert Street) districts together with the elimination of the old sewage pumping station at 76th Avenue and 109th Street were completed.

STREETS AND SCAVENGING

Roadway paving maintenance has been curtailed and gravelled road oiling eliminated due to wartime restrictions on the use of asphalic products.

The scavenging problem continues to be one of the most important items facing us and is at present the subject of considerable study.

Considerable maintenance is being done at present on gravelled streets and lanes following the wet Summer.

PARKS AND CEMETRIES

Mount Pleasant Cemetery was taken over by the City to operate early in the year. During the Summer a start was made on improving the grounds by straightening up headstones, lawning and cleaning up a portion of the old part of the cemetery. A water-main was extended to serve the grounds.

Planting was completed on the portion of the Civic Centre which was started last year.

Reduced rates were established for members of the Armed Forces using the swimming pools and golf links and extensive use was made of these facilities by the Forces.

GRAVEL PIT

Th Gravel Pit was called on extensively this season and approximately 85,000 cubic yards of gravel have been produced to date, a larger part of which was used at the Airport.

Demands of War Make Canada's Sugar Beet Industry a Mammoth Enterprise

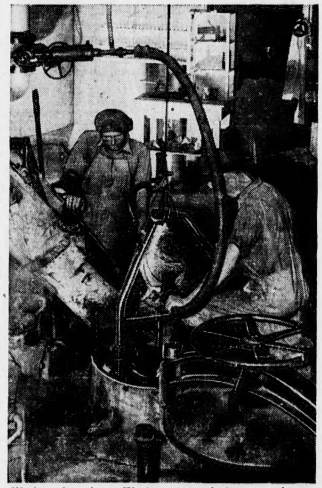

Wartime Domestic Production of Sugar Becomes Vitally Important Activity

The humble sugar beet, shown inset in the above photo, now looms as a very important fellow on the Canadian war scene. Combined with tons of such mates as those shown in the huge pile in the background, it is making an enormous contribution toward the success of our war effort. If it were not for the home production of sugar, Canadians would have to accept a far smaller ration for their daily needs. Large quantities of sugar are consumed in the manufacture of high explosives. Not so long ago we had to depend upon other countries for our sugar supply. Now, thanks to the vision of pioneers, we produce at home and save vital space in our ships.

This photo shows some of the complex equipment used in extracting sugar from beets. This plant has a capacity of more than 1,500 tons of beets a day. A two-pound beet yields 40 tablespoons of good sugar—for food or high explosives.

"Just as sweet as can be!" Violet Cruickshank, of Lethbridge, Alta., samples some of the finished product before sewing up the sugar bag. Much research and other hard work lies behind these bags of pure white sugar, produced on Canadian soil.

Modern machinery speeds beet crop from the field to the factory. In this photo a tractor is shown as it hauls a special loading device down a row of freshly dug beets. Alongside is a second tractor hauling a waggon to receive them. The new industry has been a blessing to both the farmers and our busy war plants.

Workers in an Alberta wheat field sit down to lunch. They "top" beets with hefty knives such as the one held by Elizabeth Szabo, shown in the inset close-up. She is a Hungarian girl who came to Canada five years ago. Beneficial crop rotation has been accomplished by planting beets in soil formerly used for growing grain.

DAVID PRESTON BY PAUL

THE STORY: Blythe Miller, suspicious, follows a stranger to the apartment of Nancy Hale at Lincoln Feld. Nancy is a pretty young widow of a soldier, and was brought to the field with her young son, homeless and penniless, after being hurt in an auto accident. She falls in love with Duane Horan, cadet pilot and a star of the football team coached by Blythe's father, Pop Miller. Blythe also loves Duane and is jealous. But any jealousy is forgotten in favor of curiosity when, listening from the stairway, she hears the stranger offer Nancy $1,000.

CHAPTER XII

IF was strictly 100 per cent. none of Blythe's business. Her own conscience told her that. Her sense of guilt jabbed at her like an angry jenny Cricket. She was more than jetting in, she was downright snoop-pooping. And yet—

Girls and women have a peculiar 6th sense which the scientists don't explain, and which men (when they experience it) call masculine brains. Pop had often wisecracked about it. Blythe remembered, teased her about it, when she complimented his astuteness at doping out football games. Right now, she didn't try to analyze it. She just stood still and listened to the conversation up there at the head of the stairs.

"What in the world are you talking about!" Nancy Hale was obviously astounded.

The overcoated man kept oil in his voice. "Now, now, sister! Take it easy, and understand! A t'ousand bucks don't grow on bushes. But you got it here right in your hand. See?"

"But—but—"

"How much pay you git being a steno, hunh? Maybe one hundred. Say one fifty. Huh! A lousy 18000 bucks a year! But here's pretty near a year's pay, and you can earn it for working on the quiet just one hour. Easy!"

There was a pause. Perhaps to let his temptation sink in.

Blythe's curiosity, like a steam valve, was nearing the point of explosive pressure. Curiosity and intuitive fear combined. Fear for what? For Nancy. For Pop. For the Lincoln field and the Lincoln team. For herself. Or—for something! She couldn't have pinned it down.

The voice became lower, more ingratiatingly intimate. "Nobody seen me come here. Nobody'll see me go away. Understand? Now look, you got a little kid to support. Cute little boy—yea-a-a-ah!" The last was disgustingly unctuous in tone. Unctuous and brassy. "You ain't got no jack to speak of. No husband. No future, eh? Unless—look, not even a drop of danger in this. Ain't like we was asking you to do a big job with the mob or something, or even work downtown. What you do is right here in your living room. Home work, yea-a-a-ah!" He tacked on a throaty chuckle.

"Please—what is it all about?" Nancy pleaded that.

"You wanta take up the proposition?"

"If it's a chance to earn a thousand dollars, of course I do. Do you want to come in and sit down?"

"Not me, sis!" He spoke warily. "Don't need to. But okay—look. I represent the boys, see? The boys downtown."

"What boys?"

"Oh, some of the boys. Buncha fellows. Good Joes, see? You'd like 'em, yea-a-ah. They'd like you. They said so. You might wanta git acquainted later. Be worth your while, see? Girl with your looks. Your brains. Yea-a-a-ah! Like you myself!"

He added that last as if it were the ultimate compliment he could pay Nancy. Blythe peeked up around the stairway L again, cautiously. Sure enough, he wore the silly grin that predatory men use when approaching a woman. Blythe heard that sort of thing. It added to her apprehension now. Apprehension for Nancy and everything else.

"Are you — is that what you meant?" Nancy emphasized the "that," hard now.

"No, no — wait! Don't git me wrong! I was just telling you; I like you, see? Like you myself. You got want it takes. But I ain't—"

"All right for that part. I suppose I feel honored, having a man tell me he likes me. But what has it to do with the money, may I ask?"

Blythe felt surprised that Nancy could be so cool. She herself would have been jittery under such circumstances, she knew. But then—Nancy Hale was a few years older. Older, and far more experienced. Nancy had been married. Nancy's husband had been slain at Pearl Harbor. Nancy had had a baby, had fought the hunger wolf for months, had been in an automobile wreck that might have killed her, had swung high and swung low in the scale of human emotions. It all made Blythe regard the other girl with a kind of awe. She strained again to hear how Nancy would handle this acute situation.

"Now listen," the man said, still oily.

"You know my name and I don't know yours," Nancy pointed out.

"My name don't matter. Just say I'm a friend. Maybe later, we can git acquainted — like to take you out sometimes—yea-a-a-ah! But right now it's business, see—"

"What kind of business?"

"Big business. With you gittin' a grand cut in. Easy spending money, in 10 and 20 bills. Handle it and nobody ever be the wiser, see? A grand!"

"Will you please come to the point?"

"How's about it? You want the dough?"

"Of course I want money. I need it."

"What do you mean?" Nancy demanded. "I don't like—"

"Okay, okay. I'm just warning you. We got ripped last week, and we're getting that cared for, in due time. That Miller—but look. Here's what you gotta do!"

The word Miller froze Blythe. He must mean Pop! He must truly, be associated some way with that fat envelope in Pop's desk, and with the rare anger she had discovered in Pop that day almost a week ago. Pop was home sick in bed today. This stranger had made an unmistakable threat against her Pop!

"Here's what you gotta do and you're gonna do it for the grand," the stranger was saying. Blythe heard every word. "The boy downtown like to have their own little games, see. Don't harm nobody. Matter of fact, don't make a damn in the long run who wins a football game. Forgot in a week anyhow, ain't it? You know that." He was being oily again. "Whole thing's done in fun out here. Just kids playin', see. Not important, see. Game might's well go one way's another. Cadets from all over. This school, and that. See what I mean? Now look—"

"Look, what you gotta do is see to it the right side wins Thursday. The State game. We can fix it easy. You got them two Joes on your string. Hogan and Dana. They're the main aces, you know that, sister. All you gotta do is invite 'em both up here the night before, feed 'em a little quiet dinner, and drop a little rest pill in their tea! . . . Yeah-a-a-ah! Easy, see? Nobody ever knew it. Do 'em no harm. Just slow 'em down for about a day, see? And one t'ousand bucks!"

British, Canuck Airmen Killed In Two Crashes

CALGARY, Oct. 31. — (CP) — Deaths of two airmen, a Canadian ferry pilot and a British student, in separate airplane crashes were announced yesterday by air force officials.

The Canadian was WO1 A. F. R. Carliss of Toronto who was instantly killed at noon Thursday when the twin-engined plane he was piloting from Eastern Canada to a Western station crashed in the garden of Ferdinand Weiss, near Robinson, 28 miles southeast of Medicine Hat.

The British student was from No 36 S.F.T.S., R.A.F. at Penhold. He was killed when his plane crashed three miles west of Penhold Thursday night.

Regulations forbid individuals sending newspapers overseas. The Edmonton Bulletin prints the news of the week in letter form. This week's letter covers the period from October 26 to 31. Clip it out and send it to your loved ones and friends.

Dear

Well, King Winter is trying the best he knows how to get Edmonton in his grip. We had a trace of snow this week, and the weather has turned much colder, but we are still getting plenty of that old Alberta sunshine. The big news this week was the surprise visit Friday evening of Ernest M. Gruening, Governor of Alaska. Gov. Gruening is on his way to Washington, D.C., to report to President Roosevelt and Federal officials on Alaskan affairs. He arrived in Edmonton by U.S. army transport plane.

Monday

You remember the housing shortage we wrote about some time ago? Well, today Mayor Fry sent an urgent message to Wartime Housing Limited, Toronto, for a decision on the request of the city that 250 homes be erected here. The mayor points out that the building season is rapidly drawing to a close, and that the housing shortage daily is becoming more acute.

The city-owned utilities poured $766,952 into the city's treasury in taxes and profits during the nine-month period ending September 30, or the equivalent of 13.7 mills at the current tax rate. Gross revenue for the 1942 nine-month period was $4,083,826.71, an increase of $366,109.01 over last year.

Capt. G. H. Holmes, Quartermaster of the 4th Casualty Clearing Station overseas, and former stores-keeper at the University of Alberta, has been invalided home as a result of a stiff illness last spring. Capt. Holmes says food in variety and abundance in the grocery stores of Canada is a miracle in tangible form to a Canadian who has served nearly three years in stiffly-rationed Britain. And he should know.

B. T. Richardson, The Bulletin's Ottawa correspondent, secured a special interview with the Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of munitions and supply, who recently returned from a trip to Britain. Hon. Mr. Howe says Canada's line of operational aircraft represents the best models of their kind in the world. He listed four combat aircraft in production or planned for production in Canada, which information obtained in Britain indicated they could not be surpassed. They were: The Mosquito light bomber, the Lancaster heavy bomber, the U.S. Curtis dive bomber, and the PBY Consolidated flying-boat.

Enemy paratroops were repulsed and air raid destruction controlled during the 90-minute alert last held Sunday afternoon in Edmonton. Fires were extinguished, medical aid rushed to casualties, and streets cleared by demolition squads, all working rapidly and efficiently through a central communications centre. The mock state of emergency was launched to test the city's air raid precautions and public co-operation was splendid throughout.

Edmonton's R.C.A.F. junior football squad took a firm grasp on the Alberta junior title at Calgary Saturday by turning back the Calgary Army Cadets 10-0 in the first game of a total-point series. The two teams meet in the second encounter at Clarke Stadium Saturday afternoon.

Tuesday

We're getting ready for the civic election, Nov. 12. The 1942 city council passed into history last night as aldermen continuing on council wished the retiring members success at the polls. Plans were completed for the holding of five campaign meetings to be sponsored by the city. It looks as if Mayor John W. Fry will receive an acclamation.

Sentence of 18 years hard labor in Prince Albert penitentiary was imposed upon Bruce Edward Ingold, Killam farm youth, by Chief Justice Ives in supreme court at Wetaskiwin, when a jury found him guilty of manslaughter in the death of Eli Morgan, Killam farmer, on May 11 last. Ingold, on trial for Murder, was convicted on the lesser count after the jury deliberated for 35 minutes.

Edmonton's Victory Loan total reached the two-thirds mark at the end of the seventh day of the campaign. The total stood at $3,645,900. Lt. Kenneth Montgomery of the 3rd Bn., Edmonton Fusiliers, CA, has been promoted to the rank of captain. "Ken" is well-known in Edmonton, having been connected with sports here for many years.

Electors will be asked to endorse or reject the principle of establishing the three-platoon system and the eight-hour-day for members of Edmonton's fire brigade at the municipal election Nov. 12. City council decided to grant the request of the Edmonton local of the International Association of Fire-Fighters to submit the question to a vote.

Wednesday

P. W. Abbott, K.C., for many years managing director of the Edmonton Exhibition Association, has submitted his resignation to the directors on the ground of ill health. It was accepted with regret, and will take effect at the end of the year. The directorate decided by a vote of 10 to 6 to abandon for the war's duration the holding of a race meeting, midway and grandstand attractions in connection with the summer fair. The operation of the spring and fall livestock shows will be continued, and a summer stock show may also be held.

Alberta car owners who neglected to send in their gasoline ration coupon books when informed they had been transferred to "AA" category have received warnings. Regulations provide severe penalties for those who retain their coupon books after being notified to turn them in.

Capt. Allan Gillies, secretary to His Honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen, will resign from his position Oct. 31 to serve as Adjutant of the 2nd (Reserve) Battalion, Edmonton Fusiliers. Capt. Gillies has been secretary to the Lieutenant-Governor since October, 1940.

Thursday

Today we had a visit from two heroes of the Canadian-led raid on Dieppe, Lance Corporal Calvin Helmer, M.M., of Alexo, Alberta, and Pte. William Levinsky, Calgary. They are here to take part in the big Victory Loan concert at the Empire theatre. Both lads were in the thick of the fighting at Dieppe, and Levinsky lost his right leg. Helmer was awarded the Military Medal for his "skill, efficiency and coolness" in attending wounded aboard his tank landing craft. Both were lavish in their praise of all officers and men who participated in the raid.

As a result of withdrawal of his support from Premier Aberhart and the Social Credit government last June, Chester A. Reynolds, Social Credit M.L.A. for Stettler, has been asked to appear before the caucus now in session at the Legislative buildings to give a satisfactory explanation of his conduct. If he fails to act on the invitation "members will have no option but to exclude him from future meetings of the Social Credit caucus."

U.S. War Secretary Henry Stimson created surprise at Washington today when he announced that the entire Alaska highway now is open to traffic weeks ahead of schedule. It had not been planned to open the road until Nov. 30.

Cigarette and pipe smokers who persist in smoking in seats other than the rear vestibule of street cars may have to pay for this privilege in future. Instructions were issued today to city police and street car conductors to make an immediate check of this practice. Maj.-Gen. W. A. Griesbach, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., V.D., K.C., was re-elected president of the 49th Battalion (Edmonton Regiment) Association last night. The annual dinner will be held in the Macdonald hotel Saturday, Jan. 9, 1943.

The Edmonton Chamber of Commerce held its annual meeting last night, and R. H. Settle was elected president, succeeding A. M. MacDonald.

Friday

John Randolph, United States Consul in Edmonton, is to be promoted to the rank of Consul-General, we learned today. The nomination, made by President Roosevelt, goes to the U.S. Senate for confirmation. The appointment, when made, will mark the first time in history that such a post has been established in Alberta.

The last caucus of the Social Credit members of parliament and the Alberta legislature, is still in session here. Yesterday, a "new deal for the people of the post-war era" was outlined in resolutions dealing with unemployment, labor and economic problems.

Tooting automobile horns at weddings is against the law in Edmonton. Today five persons were fined $1 and costs each for excessive use of their car horns while taking part in a wedding procession. Officers of the 2nd (Reserve) Battalion, Edmonton Fusiliers, were introduced to their newly appointed officer commanding, Lt.-Col. H. E. Pearson, M.C., at the Victoria Armory last night. Lt.-Col. Pearson takes over command Nov. 1.

The Lamont Milling Company building was destroyed by fire Thursday, at an estimated loss of $30,000. The large frame building, a landmark in the town since 1920, was left a pile of smoldering ashes. Alderman F. J. Mitchell was elected president of the Edmonton East Conservative Association at its annual meeting yesterday.

Saturday

Ernest H. Gruening, Governor of Alaska, arrived here Friday evening after an inspection of the Alaska highway. He pronounced it as a "superb" piece of engineering and of highway construction. He is on his way to Washington to report to President Roosevelt, and left here this morning for the United States capital.

The Social Credit members of the legislature and the Social Credit-New Democracy members of parliament held a three-day caucus at the legislative buildings which terminated at about midnight. They drew up a program of post-war reconstruction, which includes many features which will be of interest to you and will help you rehabilitate yourself.

It was announced today that Voluntary Aid Detachments of girls will be formed here. You will remember that V.A.D.'s were highly popular with the boys in the last war, and I am sure they will be again this time.

This is Hallowe'en, but it looks like a fairly quiet time. The weather is cooler and not conducive to playing of pranks. Besides, the same spirit does not prevail this year, and instead of asking for apples or peanuts, many of the kids this year are taking boxes around to houses asking for pennies for the Kinsmen Milk-for-Britain Fund. This is a wonderful idea, and undoubtedly will meet with a warm response.

Well, I must close now so this letter can get on the great big presses and catch the next mail to you.

Keep smiling, and the best of everything 'till we meet again.

Officials Fined For Not Halting Plant 'Slowdown'

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Judge Oscar S. Caplan yesterday fined two union officials $200 and costs each after a policeman testified that they did not act to halt a "slowdown" at a war production plant.

The men were charged with disorderly conduct and the judge, describing the case as "probably the first of its kind in the country," declared: "The crime is greater than the charge."

The defendants were Dacey Sanders, 42, and Solomon Brown, 56, Negroes, vice-president and steward, respectively, of local 786, of the A.F.L.-United Automobile Workers.

States May Mint Three-Cent Piece Made From Glass

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Reports were current yesterday that the United States treasury has under consideration the minting of a glass three-cent piece to relieve a shortage of copper and meet the extraordinary demand for coins arising from the high level of business. Never in modern history has a government used coins made of glass for general circulation, although other raw materials have been adopted before. Plastic fences.

Social Credit Protests Limit On Bus Travel

The recently-announced proposed dominion government order to curtail bus service was protested Friday at a caucus of federal members of the Social Credit (New Democracy) Party in session at the Legislative buildings. The caucus took the stand that pleasure car travel should be banned before bus travel was affected.

On behalf of the federal members, John H. Blackmore, M.P., Macleod, Social Credit (New Democracy) leader in the house, forwarded a wire of protest against the federal government's plan to restrict bus travellers to journeys of not more than 50 miles a day on one continuous trip.

SENT TO MICHAUD

The wire was addressed to Hon. J. E. Michaud, federal minister of transport; Henry Borden, chairman of the Wartime Industries Control Board, Ottawa; and George F. Gray, federal transit controller, Toronto.

Following is the wire in full:

To Hon. J. E. Michaud,
Copies to:
Henry Borden,
Chairman, Wartime Industries Control Board, Ottawa.
Geo. F. Gray,
Transit Controller, 235 Bay Street, Toronto.

New Democracy Federal Caucus strongly protests proposed order to curtail bus service in rural Canadian areas stop. Before bus operations refused to point when hardship existing all cases used for strictly pleasure purposes should be put off road stop. Western provinces peculiarly dependent on bus services stop. Transportation services in west far below those of central Canada stop. Proposed order will bring about great hardship stop. Order is observed by all sections of Alberta with deep concern.

Signed,
J. H. BLACKMORE.

Caucus Raps Proposal To Close Firms

Announced intention of the Federal Wartime Prices and Trade Board to close a large number of small retail and wholesale businesses throughout the dominion was condemned Friday at the joint caucus of Social Credit (New Democracy) members of parliament and Social Credit members of the Alberta legislature.

The caucus, in session at the Legislative Buildings, forwarded copies of the resolution of protest to Donald Gordon, chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, and also to the Retail Merchants Association.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

The resolution follows in full:

Whereas it is reported that it is the intention of the Federal Wartime Prices and Trade Board to close a large number of small retail and wholesale businesses throughout the Dominion, and

Whereas such action is unwarranted and will result in the further centralization of the distribution of consumer goods in the hands of large commercial houses, and

Whereas this matter is of serious import to the citizens of Canada,

Therefore be it resolved: that we, the Social Credit members of the federal parliament and of the provincial legislature, do protest to the dominion government the proposed action of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board as being contrary to the democratic rights of Canadian citizens, destructive to individual enterprise and dangerous to the best interests of the Canadian people.

Couple of Items In Munro Luggage Prove Instant Hit

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Ross Munro, Canadian Press war correspondent who covered the Dieppe raid, included a couple of odd items in his restricted luggage when he returned by bomber to England recently after five weeks at home. They were:

33 Eastern Girls Get Clerks' Posts At Fort St. John

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 31.—(CP)—Thirty-three girls from the Toronto district, including eight from the Ontario Civil service, have gone to Fort St. John, 600 miles north of Edmonton, to work on the clerical staff of a divisional point on the Alaska highway, it was announced here yesterday.

A. L. Cooper, assistant to R. M. Smith, deputy minister of highways for Ontario, said no more girls would be asked to work there.

"People have no idea what it is like up there," he said, "One tries to describe it and down here they won't believe it. It has been warmer there up until now than it has been here. It is a beautiful country. The girls are very happy and there living conditions are excellent."

Sturgeon Unit Guards Health Of Community

During the course of two years duty of the Sturgeon health unit, members of the staff have travelled nearly 80,000 miles, about 40,000 vaccinations and innoculations have been given, more than a thousand home visits made, and 992 sanitation inspections done.

Of the vaccinations and innoculations given in the district, there have been no untoward reactions or serious incidences to any person. The youngest patient to be immunized was three months old, while the oldest was a man of 70.

The Sturgeon district is a large one, 40 by 42 miles and including 18,000 people. There are 110 rural schools in this territory. In order to serve school children, the health unit was inaugurated in November, 1940, but since then it has expanded to include pre-school children and adults.

Seventy-eight per cent of the school pupils are now immunized for smallpox; 79 per cent for diphtheria and 74 per cent have been given scarlet fever toxin innoculations. These statistics represent the immunizations done by the health unit staff.

As a result of the special pre-school clinics, approximately 35 per cent of children of this age now have immunity for the major communicable diseases.

Staff nurses have made 3,374 examinations, while there have been 1,133 examinations done by the physician in charge.

Further work is carried out by the unit in health education, home nursing classes, home visiting sanitation and hygiene, and a mental hygiene clinic. A movie projector was purchased during the past year to help preach the doctrine of community health.

VITAMIN CAPSULES

Another great step forward is the announcement that vitamin capsules will be distributed free to all school children in the district in an attempt to elevate the standards of nutrition. Efforts are being made to secure equipment for dental and tonsil clinics.

Members of the staff list their activities as the investigation and control of communicable diseases, immunization programs, physical examinations, pre-school clinics, adult clinics, health education, and sanitation and hygiene, and state that the school population of the Sturgeon health unit is average for Alberta. Most of the defects found they say, are easily remedied such as bad teeth or tonsils.

The cost of maintaining this health unit is about $12,000 a year. Of this, the provincial government pays half, and the school division the remainder.

P. H. Brotman is the medical officer of health, and she is assisted by Miss C. E. Sage and Miss Primeau, registered nurses, and by Miss Agnes Champlain, secretary-technician.

Members of the executive board are H. Speers, Namao; R. J. Scott, Namao; and Dr. Brotman. The personnel of the district board of health include: Mr. Speers, Mr. Scott, A. Forgeron, Legal; Mrs. McLaughlin, Clyde; L. Tellier, Legal; Mrs. B. L'Heureux, Legal; Mrs. M. Lowe, St. Albert; A. Saligo, Villeneuve; C. Bruhm, Gibbons; and M. D. Tkachuk, Redwater.
